

SALT LAKERS IN GOTHAM.

Special Correspondence.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Carlson of Salt Lake arrived in New York two weeks ago and sailed on the Red Star line Saturday. Mr. Carlson was formerly Miss Lulu Eldredge, and her brother and sister here, Mr. Frank Eldredge and Mrs. Ruth Eldredge Meakin, have taken delight in showing her the city during her stay. Mr. and Mrs. Carlson expect to spend four years in Vienna, where they will both study their chosen profession of music. Mrs. Carlson, already a talented pianist, expects to place herself under the direction of the great teacher Leschetizsky. Mr. Carlson has written quite a number of ambitious musical works, and among others has set the "Scarlet Letter" and "The Merchant of Venice" to music in operatic form. He has changed the title of the first, however, to "Hester," as Damrosch had already used the name of "The Scarlet Letter" for his work. Mr. Carlson will study composition during his stay abroad.

Eldredge and Meakin are putting on two good productions this season in "Judith of the Plains" and "De Koven's 'The Highwayman'." The latter is a poem by Mrs. C. F. Carlson which is introduced, to which De Koven has set the music; a good company is already rehearsing "The Highwayman," and "Judith of the Plains" is well cast also.

Manager Lew Grover, well remembered in Salt Lake, is doing great business this summer at his music hall at Brighton Beach; vaudeville holds the boards, and a sketch by Frank Maltese, "The Wrong Mrs. Appleton," has gone with a swing the last week. Maltese himself impersonated the mother-in-law, and was screamingly funny; all the dramatic papers give him excellent notices. The Maltese brothers are "making good" in all their vaudeville work.

having no difficulty in placing their sketches in the best houses.

This is the time of year one meets his old theatrical friends walking down the Rio. Walter Edwards, who is with the "Lion and the Mouse" company, playing around New York; Charles Wyngate, who is with Henry Miller in the "Great Divide"; Will Tooker, Charlie King and Blakey Blackmore, were all met by your correspondent as they were sauntering along the Great White way a few evenings ago. These gentlemen are well remembered for their work in the old Grand stock company at Salt Lake several years ago, and they all keep a tender corner in their hearts for Salt Lake and her people.

Knute Erickson, who is under the Shubert management, will play Toby Blockett in the "Oreoid" at the Herald Square. A few changes have been necessary in this popular play and Mr. Erickson naturally fell into a good part as he is considered a valuable stock actor.

The beauties of South Royalton, Vt., have proved a winning factor for Miss Kate Thomas, who decided to remain after her father and sister left for Utah. Miss Thomas will pass the next two weeks there and is pleasantly located at the South Royalton hotel.

Atty. Samuel Russell of Salt Lake was a visitor to the Sunday services. Mr. Russell has been in the east for a month, having business in several of the large cities, making Washington his headquarters most of the time.

At the St. Andrews on West Seventy-first street, Mr. Alonzo Young is registered. Mr. Young is here in the interest of Z. C. M. L., from the shoe department, and is full of wonder at the growth of this city, he having visited it 15 years ago. Mrs. James Ferguson and Mrs. R. C. Easton are his sisters, and he is enjoying a quiet time with them. Mrs. Ferguson's son, Alan, showing the principal sights and making the time pass agreeably for his uncle when he is not engaged in business. It is 15 years since Mrs. Ferguson has seen her brother and many are the pleasant reminiscences at their reunion. Mr. Young has been in Boston and Philadelphia, and will leave for home Monday evening.

While in Massachusetts Mr. Young made a trip to Redding and Peterboro, New Hampshire and visited with relatives of Mrs. N. Twiss Young, who made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Young for several years.
