NEW RENDERING OF SHAKESPEARE.

Hawley.—O, the devil! the devil! must I endure all this?
Baskin.—All this! Ay, more.
Fret till your faint heart break;
Go show your tools how contemptible you are.
You tried to make the militia tremble.
Must I budge?
Must I observe you? must I stand and crouch
Under your ridiculous rulings? By—
You shall digest the venom of your spleen,
Though it do split you; for from this day forth,
I'll use you for my mirth, yea for my laughter,
When you are waspish.

SEVERE OPERATION.—J. C. Vance, Bishop S. A. Woolley's son-in-law, who was accidentally shot a few days ago, underwent a severe operation yesterday afternoon, under the hands of Drs. Anderson and Bernhisel. In glancing upwards the ball had struck the backbone, detaching several fragments. The operation lasted fifteen minutes and was performed without the aid of chloroform. Its object was to extract some fragments of bone and make an opening for other portions to work out. There were five pieces in all, two of which were taken out during the operation. The bullet still remains and is located at the bottom of the lungs. The patient bore the operation with extraordinary fortitude. Last evening he was doing as well as could be expected and hopes were entertained of his recovery.

FINE AND IMPRISONED FOR CONTEMPT OF COURT.—Yesterday a scene occurred in Court between those two gentlemen Judge Hawley and Lawyer Baskin, the demeanor and language of the latter being so respectful that he was taken into custody by order of the Court. We are informed that the Judge, fined the lawyer $100 and sentenced him to ten days' imprisonment. How delightful, &c., when brethren agree!

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY.

BRUTAL ASSAULT.—William Flynn and David Hoge were arrested last night, on a charge of having, on Sunday night, assaulted and abused two waiting girls, in the Chicago house. The case was brought before Justice Clinton this morning. It was shown by the evidence, that Flynn knocked the girls down, tore their clothes and otherwise abused them, and that they appealed to Hoge for assistance, but he refused to render them any aid. Flynn was fined $50, and Hoge $10.

THE LANGRISHE TROUPE.—Mr. Langrishe and his company, fourteen in number, who have been playing with such success the last two or three years in Montana and Colorado, arrived in this city yesterday, and will make their first appearance at the Theatre to-morrow evening.

THANKS.—We are indebted to A. M. Musser, Esq., for a synopsis of the proceedings of the meeting of the Association for the introduction of Stock, Bees, Fish, &c., held in the City Hall last evening. Instead of publishing Brother Musser's report as sent, we incorporate it, in substance, in an editorial in to-day's News.

SIXTY-FIFTH QUORUM OF SEVENTIES, ATTENTION.—See notice of a meeting to be held in the Seventies Hall, at 5 p. m., on Sunday, Dec. 18th.

CALLED.—We had a pleasant call, this afternoon, from Elder Ralph Thompson, who got home a few days since, from a mission to England. He left this city on the 13th of May last and arrived in Liverpool on the 6th of June. His first field of labor was the Newcastle-on-Tyne District. From there he went to London where he labored until his release. Brother Thompson enjoyed himself while on his mission and has had excellent health; he is, however, glad to be once more in his "Mountain home." He had charge of the company of Saints who arrived on Sunday night.

ARRIVED.—The last lot of emigrants from Europe arrived on Sunday night. Elders Ralph Thompson, George G. Bywater and Daniel McAllister were with the company.

NEWS FROM THE SOUTH.—The following was received this morning:

ST. GEORGE, Dec. 13th, 1870. Deseret News.—President Young and several of the notables of St. George visited the springs that water the city, to plan for the bringing out of the water to the city through pipes instead of ditches and to take the necessary measures to prevent accident to the city from floods. This is to be done by building a dam, the one already built being deemed insufficient, in such a position as to turn the water into Santa Clara Valley whenever the water increases in quantity. Considerable damage was sustained by part of St. George from a flood last summer. The President also visited the red sandstone quarry, where workmen were quarrying rock for the meeting house, about a mile and a half distant. It is a magnificent quarry. A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Canaan Co-operative Stock Company commenced its session yesterday to revise their constitution, and continues to-day.

HOME AGAIN ONCE MORE.—The numerous friends of Brother Wm. C. Staines, Emigration Agent, will be pleased to learn that he reached his home in this city last evening, having closed up the arduous business of the emigration for the year, with the small company that came per the steamer Manhattan. Bro. William left this city five weeks ago, expecting to meet the Saints at New York almost immediately on his arrival; but the trip of the Manhattan was longer than usual, owing to severe storms, it being the general verdict of the captains of vessels that they have hardly ever known such a stormy time on the ocean as this fall.

The weather in the East is unusually fine for the time of the year, the promenading of ladies and gentlemen on Broadway on the 3rd instant being more like midsummer than winter.

Bro. Staines left New York a week this morning, and was detained at Chicago half a day and at Omaha a day. The road was in good condition and the weather delightful all the way home. His health has been good during his absence, but he is extremely gratified at the prospect of a permanent stay at home after his season's labors.

Business in the East, he states, is exceedingly dull, of which no better proof can be given than the fact that grain merchants, unable to find a market in their city, are coming to the Rocky Mountains in hopes of finding one.

Elders Joseph A. and John W. Young and Heber John Richards were in New York and all well on the 5th instant.

Hon. W. H. Hooper left New York for Washington on the 1st instant; he was in excellent health and spirits. Bro. Lorin Farr expected to leave the port of New York, per steamer Manhattan for Europe, on the 7th instant.

DIED.—At Mansfield, Nottinghamshire, England, Nov. 3, Frederick Burton, aged 19 years.

Mill Star, W. H. W. Young.

WELSHMEN ATTENTION.—It will be seen by an advertisement in another column that an Eldstedd, or literary meeting, will be held in the 15th Ward Hall on April 5th, 1871, when prizes will be awarded for the best poetical and prose productions. Those ambitious to spread themselves and gain a premium had better send in their effusions forthwith, to the committee.

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY.

THE BOUNDARY LINE.—We received the following from President George A. Smith, per Deseret Line, to-day:

St. George, Dec. 24. Editor News:—Mr. J. E. James, of the surveying party, arrived here to-day. The Nevada State Line runs about twenty-seven miles west of here. He will determine the corner of the Territory in a day or two. It will probably be between the Virgin River and the Desert road leading to the Muddy. The members of the party are all well. All the settlements on the Muddy and Clover, Spring, Eagle and Meadow Valleys are in Nevada.

CALL.—We had a call this morning from Brother R. V. Morris. He arrived in town last night from Evanston where, for a few weeks past, he has had charge of a company of men, mostly from this city, who are engaged in building a new round house. He states that the walls of the structure will be completed in about three weeks, providing the weather continues favorable. Snow was five inches deep at Evanston when Brother Morris left. The weather is warm in the day time, but exceedingly cold at night. The building of the round house is superintended by Bishop John Sharp.

THAT LETTER.—We refer our readers, with pleasure, to the letter from Mendon, in another column, on the success of co-operation in that settlement, and we commend the people of that place for what they have achieved in so short a time from a small beginning, and wish them, and all others engaged in the good work of consolidating the temporal interests of the community, abundant success. Mendon is a small settlement on the west side of Cache Valley, and has the appearance of thrift and comfort, most of the houses being substantial rock buildings.

NEWS FROM THE SANDWICH ISLANDS.—We are pleased to receive occasional communications from Bro. H. H. Cluff. The following, in relation to the late floods, will be found interesting:

42 ISLINGTON, LAIE OAHU, Sandwich Islands, Nov. 20, 1870. Editor Deseret News:—Dear Sir:—In our last communication we expressed a jubilant feeling over the refreshing showers which have "awakened us from a docility characteristic of this climate," but, since then, our feathers have drooped and we have come to the "dernier-resort," to say nothing more about "docility," characteristic, or "climate." We did not expect to write again so soon, but having plenty of leisure time and not being inclined to a dronish life, we thought to draw a picture transitional from our last, might interest the readers of the News.

We were relying with full confidence upon the promise made to Noah, that there should be no more floods, but judge our surprise, when we heard the water rushing from the mountains, and sweeping our flocks and herds. It was night; the floods were out, and it blew a winter hurricane, while the natives, who live in the beautiful romantic "Crater Valley," came swarming from their huts, as though they had been kicked by an earthquake, caring for nothing, seemingly, but to gather up the swine in preference to the children, as the latter are more used to water. One ox was found in the sea, which had been carried by the flood from the mountains, while here and there lay wild hogs, a providential send to the natives, which had followed the irresistible current. The damage done to our cane is considerable, although we set to work and made a canal through the field so as to conduct the water into the sea; but the rain has continued so long (one month) that the saccharine in the cane, which was ready for grinding, has been greatly reduced.

The sea is so rough, the dashing, splashing, and contending waves beat with such fury against the point of the promontory and small islands just in front of our dwelling, throwing the spray a hundred feet into the air and fish upon land, till we begin to think we are really floating on the deep blue sea. Boats are unable to get through the breakers and should the boisterousness of the ocean continue we will fail to send our usual amount of sugar by the steamer Moses Taylor.

Tell Bro. Nebeker when he gets tired of the people in Salt Lake City to come here and we will treat him friendly.

Yours truly,

H. H. CLUFF.

SAID TO BE AN INFALLIBLE REMEDY.

The following has been handed to us for publication with the assurance that it is an unfailing cure for diarrhea:

"One ounce of linseed, rhubarb, one ounce and a half of syrup of rhubarb, one drachm of oil of peppermint, quarter of an ounce of laudanum, half gill of best French brandy.—A tablespoonful two or three times a day.

EGGS IN WINTER.—An exchange says that the laying capacity of hens will be wonderfully increased during winter by feeding the following: "Boiled meat chop, ped fine, or chandler's cracklings chopped fine and soaked in hot water, to cause it to swell before feeding; bread crumbs soaked in ale; oatmeal mixed with milk. The above feed is stimulating, and tends to make fowls lay. They at the same time should be fed regularly with corn, wheat screenings and barley. By feeding the above regularly, and keeping the fowls dry and warm through the Winter, the largest amount of eggs will be had."
