LEGAL NOTICE.

In the Probate Court in and for Salt Lake County, Territory of Utah.

In the matter of the Estate of Robert Dunn deceased.

Order appointing time and place to hear petition for distribution.

ON READING AND FILING THE PETITION of Charles Lougaon, Executor of the Estate of Robert Dunn, deceased, setting forth that he has filed his final account of his administration upon said estate in this Court, that all the debts have been fully paid, and that a portion of said estate remains to be divided among the heirs of said deceased, and praying among other things for an order allowing said final account and of distribution of the residue of said estate among the persons entitled.

It is ordered that all persons interested in the estate of the said Robert Dunn, deceased, be and appear before the Probate Court of the County of Salt Lake, at the Court Room of said Court, in the County Court House on the 21st day of October, 1886, at 11 o'clock a. m., then and there to show cause why an order allowing said final account and of distribution should not be made of the residue of said estate among the heirs and devisees of the said Robert Dunn, deceased, according to law.

It is further ordered that the Clerk cause copies of this order to be posted in three public places in Salt Lake County, and published in the DESERET EVENING NEWS, a newspaper printed and published in Salt Lake County, three weeks successively prior to said 21st day of October, 1886.

EVENING NEWS.

Thursday . Sept. 30, 1886

DOINGS AT PROVO.

Court opened yesterday morning pursuant to adjournment. The law and motion calendar was up and some rulings on the pleadings.

Mr. J. W. Pike having been reported as stenographer during Mr. Winn's absence, took the oath of office.

The grand jury reported several indictments, but complained of their inability to get more, because of the la of witnesses.

Two aliens were admitted to citizenship.

The petit jury was called at 2 p. m. The number being insufficient, a new venire was issued.

The case of the United States vs. Wm. Want was called. He was excused till to-day.

United States vs. Robert Kirkwood called; to come up to-day.

Judge McBride put in an appearance to argue a motion in the Fillmore murder case.

THE PROVO LIQUOR QUESTION.

A petition was signed last week by a number of prominent (and otherwise) men of Provo, to the City Council asking them to grant licenses to saloons, saying that the history of prohibition in this city shows that such increase of population and commercial importance makes the absolute suppression of the sale of liquor more impracticable, that it is being sold without revenue to the city, etc. But the petitioners, at least most of them, feel sick to-day since Apostle Grant gave them such a scouring Sunday at the young people's conference. He very much deplored the condition of the city and the Latter-day Saints, if they had to resort to such a means—the road to ruin to the youth of Zion, to raise a revenue for the city. It does not appear that they will have free whisky yet.

NOTES.

The city is alive with strangers attending court, witnesses, jurors, spectators and otherwise.

The word Monday was that Miss Webb, the young lady so badly burned lately, is sinking and not expected to survive.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

The jury was impaneled Monday evening in the Kirkwood case, and charged as to their usual duties, after a rigid examination as to their qualifications.

Court commenced yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. All the parties present and proceedings in the case of U. S. vs. Robert C. Kirkwood began.

A number of witnesses were called and examined in the usual way, after which arguments were made and the court charged the jury in a reasonable manner, and the panel retired at 3 p.m.

The case of the United States vs. Loveless was called at 3:15 p. m. There was considerable argument pro and con that defendant was not indicted. There was no evidence but his own admissions. The case was postponed for indictment.

The case of the U.S. vs. Chas. Hardy was called. A jury was impaneled and the case went to trial at 4 p m. The charge is resisting an officer.

PAROWAN STAKE CONFERENCE.

The quarterly Conference of the Parowan Stake of Zion was held in the Tabernacle in this city on Saturday and Sunday, the 25th and 26th inst. President Thomas J. Jones and Counselor Morgan Richards, Jr., were present, also most of the members of the High Council.

Each of the wards in this Stake were represented by the Bishop or his Counselor. All were reported in a thriving condition and the Saints as a rule are feeling well spiritually.

The necessity of supporting our home institutions in preference to outside firms, and of home industry being encouraged, were dwelt upon.

One very pleasing feature of the conference, which was referred to by some of the speakers, was the unusual large attendance of the youth of this and adjoining settlements. They were admonished with kind words and shown the necessity of exercising faith for themselves.

Interesting visits on such occasions, together with the presentation of the general and local authorities of the Church were all attended to in their usual order.

The young men's and ladies' conference convened Sunday afternoon shortly after the Stake Conference was adjourned. The usual business connected with these noble institutions was transacted and arrangements entered into to commence meetings for the winter season.

The regular Priesthood meeting convened on the evening of the 25th and was addressed by Presidents Jones and Richards.

Peace prevails in our midst.

GRENADES.

Editor Deseret News:

In the lengthy reports of last night's fire, given in the morning papers I fail to find any reference to the celebrated Harden's fire extinguishers. Were any of them used, and with what effect? They have formerly been used at several small fires without any effect whatever, but the excuse offered was that the heat was not sufficient to engender the gas. Last night the heat was surely great enough to justify another experiment, but look at the destruction caused by the water! It is claimed for the grenades that they would abolish the use of water altogether. Will you recommend us to buy these grenades as a means of protection or will you denounce them as a fraud and deception. Yours. X. Y.

The general verdict in relation to the grenades is, we believe, that a cup of cold water would go as far to extinguish a big fire as one of them. We say nothing about the samples with which experiments are made.

His Son William.

Bright and early Monday morning a farmer-looking man entered a Detroit establishment where steam-radiators are kept on sale, and after squinting around a few minutes and asking for "the boss," he queried:

"Was my son William in here a day or two ago?"

"He might have been," was the reply.

"Tall feller—a little stoop-shouldered, and a sort of chain-lightning look about him?"

"I think he was."

"I know he was. He came in town to look for a coal-stove, and some one asked him why he did'nt buy a radiator. He came home all upset about 'em, and nothing would do but I must must come in and see 'em. This is a radiator is it?"

"It is."

"Heat goes around in all them pipes, I take it?"

"Yes, sir, the circulation is perfect."

"William said he could get one all painted up and a marble slab on top for seven dollars."

"Yes, I'll sell you one for that. Don't you want but one?"

"Oh, I guess one'll heat the sitting-room all right."

"You are not going to put in a boiler and pipes for just the radiator, are you?"

"What biler and pipes?"

"The boss" had a confidential chat with him for about three minutes, at the end of which the farmer remarked:

"I thought it odd that William couldn't remember where you put the coal in, or whether it was fixed to burn wood, too. Say, mister!"

"Yes, sir."

"I said sunthin' about William having a chain-lightning look. I want to take it back. He don't know 'nuff to chaw peach stones, and I'll make him cut corn all night to pay fur this!"—Detroit Free Press.

Set Back by Strikes.

"While we are doing well with the jobs on hand," said a master-builder in canvassing the situation yesterday, "it gives one a gloomy feeling to ride about the city and see the half-dug cellars and half-built walls—plain proofs of the boom which would have rushed Detroit this summer but for the strikes."

"How many building contracts were canceled?"

"A great many. But for the strikes every brick yard could have sold down to its last brick, and then not have been able to supply the demand. There would have been many heavy sales of lumber, a great call for lime, cut stone, lath, slate, tin glass, and all that goes to make up a building. The strikes affected all clases of workingmen, and all branches of business, and have put Detroit back three years."

"How much money has been lost?"

"No one will dare figure on it, for the sum total is millions. It was an unfortunate thing all around."

"Has any one been the gainer?"

"I can't see how. On the contrary, Detroit must parepare to extend more charity this winter than for ten years. There are labering men who have been idle for months, and when winter shuts down it will be hard times for them."

"What of the future?"

"Don't ask. I know there will be one less builder here after this fall. There is nothing in the future to encourage anybody to invest money in a business which strikers can ruin for him."—Detroit Free Press.

BOYS WHIPPED BY SPARROWS.—A crowd of boys attemped to amuse themselves by throwing green apples into sparrows' nests on the hill a short time ago, and succeeded in creating a very lively fight. The trees were filled with thousands of birds, which stood the fun until it became monotonous, and then organized and made a full swoop upon their tormentors. They flew straight for the face, and it began to look serious for the urchins. Some of the latter ran to a safe distance and looked on, but the more adventurous waged the battle. Two boys were picked at until their faces and hands were covered with blood, and they were obliged to defend themselves with clubs in order to save their eyes. They tired before the sparrows, however, and at last were obliged to beat a retreat to some more thinly-populated bird district, while the feathered army huddled together on a long limb.—Fall River Globe.

The Woodland, California, Democrat says: "A man who came down from Williams two or three days since relates a story that in ghastliness and fiendishness seldom finds an equal. It is to the effect that one morning last week the neighbors and persons passing in and out of Williams noticed a bundle on the fence at the roadside, but each person who saw it concluded that it was some bundle that a tramp had placed there, and took no further notice of it. The bundle remained on the fence until afternoon in the hot sun and subject to the severity of a strong north wind. Some children coming from school looked in the bundle and were startled at the sight of a child's foot. A hasty examination disclosed the fact that the neglected bundle contained the body of a young child. A medical examination resulted in the opinion that the child was alive when placed there and it had actually died of exposure."

On Thursday morning, Sept. 9th, the body of an Indian was found on the railroad track near El Rio, Cal. Upon examination it was ascertained that the unfortunate man's throat had been cut with some sharp instrument, and immediately afterward the corpse was put on the track. After a searching investigation the following facts came to light: About three days before, Francisco, the murdered man, arrived from Maricopa and went into camp near El Rio. On the 8th, Slim Dick, a Mojave, accompanied by two comrades, Yuma Indians, went down to where the Diegino was camped. Francisco was ordered to stand up. He did so, and the two Yumas held his hands while the Mojave stuck a sharp knife into his throat, keeping up his cutting until the unfortunate man fell lifeless at the heartless assassin's feet. The Mojave does not deny the killing and claims that he had to do it, as the deceased was possessed of an evil spirit and had bewitched his brother, Mojave Gun, who died a year ago.

Mr. J. E. Bonsall, court clerk, Perry county, Pa., cured his rheumatism with St. Jacobs Oil.
