SILVER FALLING.

Sixty-Eight and a half Cents per Ounce in London Today.

CARLISLE RECEIVES CALLERS.

All Discuss the Present Situation—Miss Clough—Business Paralyzed.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Secretary Carlisle received numerous callers, among whom were many members of Congress. With all these the silver question formed the principal topic of conversation and the continued decline in the price of silver was naturally referred to. The secretary had received a cablegram stating that the price of silver today in London was 68 1/2 cents per ounce at which rate the silver dollar is worth 100 cents. Nevertheless the point was of course apparent that the purchasing power of the silver dollar with silver falling at 68 1/2 cents per ounce is worth 100 cents and the value of the dollar is 100 cents. It should be equally obvious that this is a serious situation for the United States. The silver dollar is worth 100 cents and the value of the dollar is 100 cents. OUTLOOK FOR WOOL.

No Probability of an Immediate Improvement.

THE MARKET IN DEMORALIZED.

Will the Sheep Men Be Able to Hold Their Clip and Tide Over for Better Market?

The situation of the wool growers as stated in the News some time since has not improved in the least. They are still feeling the pinch and the circumstances at present are such as to increase that unfortunate condition. The wool growers are now unable to get rid of their wool at any price that will save them from financial ruin. They are now unable to get rid of their wool at any price that will save them from financial ruin. They are now unable to get rid of their wool at any price that will save them from financial ruin.
