

WILL PUT DOWN SIX INCH MAINS

Council To Replace Old Pipes With Larger Ones on Portions of Second Avenue.

BLACK TRIES TO BLOCK PLAN.

President Davis Says Action Is Necessary to Avoid Tie-up Next Winter—Lively Session of Solons.

Notwithstanding the fact that Councilman Black tried to head the matter off with a plea in regard to the financial condition of the city, the council last night adopted the report of the waterworks committee recommending that new 6-inch watermains be laid on part of Second avenue in the place of the old mains at a cost of $4,965.49. The district to have the new pipes at present is between J and O streets, but other parts of Second avenue and also First avenue will have the larger pipes as soon as the city can find the money with which to make the improvement. The change in the district is absolutely necessary at this time owing to the fact that after excavating for the macadam on Second avenue it was found that the water pipes were only about six inches below the ground and hence they would be very likely to freeze in the winter and tie up the entire system on the bench.

When the report was read President Davis announced that it would be adopted if there were no objections. Black called a halt and wanted to know where the city was going to get the money to make the improvement, which was the only question he wanted to ask. He said that he did not know anything about the matter at all except what he had read in the papers and that was not very much.

President Davis stated that the improvement was absolutely necessary at this time in order to avoid a tie-up on the system next winter, and that the city would have to find the money some way. With this announcement he declared the report adopted and Black sat down.

TRIP WON'T HOWL ON THIS.

Fernstrom made a final talk on his resolution authorizing the calling for bids on printing of all advertisements for public improvements, which was recommended by the finance committee last week and laid over upon the adjournment. He insisted that the advertising should be let by bid as well as for other part of the expense of the improvements and that it would be illegal to do it otherwise. When some taxpayer comes in and contests a special tax assessment on the ground that the advertising was illegally done he declared that the majority of the council would be to blame and not the minority members. The "Americans" would not think of jeopardizing the chances of the Tribune in regard to public printing by giving any other paper any show to get it at all hence Fernstrom's resolution was ordered filed.

BIKE ORDINANCE PASSED.

The new bicycle ordinance was placed on its last reading and was passed with several amendments. One amendment permitted parents to take their children on the paved district of the city by wheelmen from Nov. 1 to May 1 each year between the hours of 5 and 8 o'clock a. m. and 5 and 8 o'clock p. m. This is for the purpose of encouraging the children to ride their bicycles nearly all winter. Every bicycle must be provided with a gong and all who ride must have a license. The ordinance mentioned must provide a light for their bicycles.

WILL VISIT MAGAZINES.

A resolution was introduced by Fernstrom requiring the removal of all powder magazines outside the city limits within 30 days. The author of the resolution cited the recent explosion of the powder magazine at the Wilson hotel as an example of what could be expected if any of the magazines should explode. He pointed out the danger to the people in that part of the city and urged that the resolution be adopted at once.

Black asked that an investigation of the condition of all the magazines be made before any action is taken on the resolution and Fernstrom consented to let it go over for one week so as to allow as many of the members of the council as desired to go out there on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The start will be made from the Wilson hotel and it is expected that nearly all of the members will make the trip.

BOARD WILL ADVISE.

An opinion was received from the city attorney that sidewalk extension No. 108 could not be divided up now and the work let in sections as requested by the board of public works as such action would be illegal. The council decided to have the board advise for bids for the entire extension.

SNYDER PROTESTS.

Bismarck Snyder, of Fourth and F. streets, has become tired of the delay of the administration in the matter of putting in sidewalks and submitted a strong protest against such tactics. His communication stated that a year ago he received a special tax notice for the sidewalk in front of his premises and he paid his tax amounting to $80 but the nearest he has come to getting a sidewalk is an excavation in front of his premises of "splendid proportions." In conclusion the letter says: "I now demand that you either complete the sidewalk or cause my money to be refunded to me. I intend to have a sidewalk there and if the city is unable to complete it by reason of the incompetence of the board of public works or otherwise, I will put it in myself." The protest was referred to the finance committee to find some way of paying back the $80.

THE OTHER SIDE OF JORDAN.

David Whitaker and about 30 other residents west of the Jordan river and north of North Temple street, submitted a strong protest against the poor drainage in that part of the city and asked that some action be taken to relieve the deplorable condition of the place. The residents will ask to have their land disconnected from the city as they are paying city taxes for the support of the various departments, but no far have received no benefits from the same. The superintendent of streets was instructed to investigate the matter and report to the council next Monday night.

OH, PLENTY OF FUNDS.

The enormous sum of $58.18 was ordered transferred from the street fund to the special improvement fund with which to pay the city's portion of the cost of sidewalk extension No. 23, thus showing that the improvement fund is in a decidedly dilapidated condition and cannot meet an expenditure of that small proportions.

PERMITS IN JUNE.

City Building Inspector Gamble reported that during the quarter ending June 30 he issued 178 building permits representing a total valuation in property of $1,417,856. The receipts of the office for that period were $617.40. For the six months ending June 30 there were 205 permits issued for buildings valued at $2,190,250. The receipts for that period were $1,551.10.

The fountain was donated by the National Humane Alliance and will make a pleasing ornament. The light will cost about $100 and will be of bronze. The committee will consider the matter.

NEW ADDITION TO CITY.

An ordinance was passed annexing to the city 53 acres of land lying directly southeast of the city limits as requested in the petition of A. A. Robertson and others who are placing the land on the market for sale as city lots.

Estimates due contractors on public improvements amounting to the total sum of $25,590.33 as recommended by the board of public works and the city engineer were ordered placed on the appropriation list.

STRICKEN FROM CALENDAR.

Suit of W. H. Wilkins vs Salt Lake City Passed Third Time.

Judge Lewis has stricken from the calendar the case of W. H. Wilkins against Salt Lake City as it has been passed the third time without being set by his attorneys for trial. Mr. Wilkins

PILGRIMAGE OF THE UTAH PIONEERS SIXTY YEARS AGO TODAY.

TUESDAY, JULY 9, 1847.

Samuel Brannan, Sergeant Thomas S. Williams, of the Battalion men, and a few others returned towards the South Pass to meet the main detachment of the Battalion. The pioneers again resumed their journey, taking Mr. Hastings' new route leading towards the Bay of San Francisco; this route was but dimly seen, as only a few wagons had passed over it the previous season. "We continued gradually to ascend," writes Elder Orson Pratt, "and in 6 1/2 miles we came to a small brook, formed by a spring and melting snow, which lay in places upon its banks. In about three quarters of a mile we crossed this brook, and ascended a long steep hill for about a mile, at the top of which I obtained the latitude, which was 41 degrees 14 minutes 11 seconds, after which our road led across a comparatively level table land for two or three miles. We then descended 150 or 200 feet down a very steep hill. We traveled 5 1/2 miles from the station where I took the latitude, descending 400 or 500 feet and crossed a stream about 15 feet wide and 1 1/2 feet deep, very clear water. This is said to be a branch of Muddy Fork. Some few willows are growing upon its banks. We encamped on the left bank for the night, it being 13 miles from Bragg's. The grass is good; there is a quantity of large grass, which very much resembles wheat, having heads and nearly as tall; our animals are very fond of it. We discovered now and then a little of this kind of grass on the Sweetwater, but as we continue our journey it increases in quantity. There is another species of fine tender grass, which the animals are also extremely fond of. We saw today considerable cedar upon the hills, of each side of our road; it is low and scrubby. No game is to be seen. A short distance from where we encamped, we saw an abundance of fine grit sandstone of very excellent quality for grindstones."

SCALD RECEPTIONS COVERED HIS BODY

Itched Constantly—Scratched Until Blood Flowed—Suffered 10 Years—Doctors and Medicines Were Fruitless—Tries Cuticura and Is Completely Cured

BY THREE BOXES OF CUTICURA OINTMENT

"When I was about nine years old small sores appeared on each of my lower limbs. I scratched them with a brass pin and shortly afterwards both of those limbs became so sore that I could scarcely walk. When I had been suffering for about a month the sores began to heal, but small scaly eruptions appeared where the sores had been. From that time onward I was troubled by such severe itching that, until I became accustomed to it, I would scratch the sores until the blood began to flow. This would stop the itching for a few days; but small places would appear again and the itching would accompany them until I suffered about ten years. I made a renewed effort to effect a cure. The eruptions by this time had appeared on every part of my body except my face and hands. The best doctor in my native county advised me to use arsenic in small doses and a salve. I then used to bathe the sores in a mixture which gave me no relief. In addition I used other remedies, such as iodine, sulphur, zinc salve, and finally Cuticura. Ointment, and in fact I was continually using some remedy or trial, never using less than one or two boxes of Cuticura. All this was fruitless. Finally my hair began to fall out and I was rapidly losing my hair. I used Cuticura soap but it did no good. A few months after, having used almost everything else, I thought I would try Cuticura Ointment, a having previously used Cuticura soap and being pleased with it. After using three boxes I was completely cured, and my hair was restored, after fourteen years of suffering and an expenditure of at least $50 to $60 in vainly endeavoring to find a cure. I shall be glad to write to any one who may be interested in this case. B. Hiram Mattings, Vermillion, S. Dak., Aug. 18, 1906."

made a good deal out of their parts. For that "summit" nothing better could be recommended than seeing "What Happened to Jones."

AMUSEMENTS.

Orpheum—"What Happened to Jones" is a clever farce and the Orpheum stock company presented it last evening in a clever manner. A slight "first night" timidity was noticed once or twice during the action of the play, but as a whole the production was above that of the stock company style. There is a plenty of laughs in "What Happened to Jones," and none were overlooked last evening. Each act ended with the hottest roasting.

Al. Phillips as Jones was a source of sudden and laugh-producing surprises. Classy, as portrayed by Miss Lucia Moore, won her audience from the start. Helma, with her "Aye no see 'um cum in; aye no see 'um cum go out," was a difficult part well taken by Miss Anita Hendrie. Miss Hendrie made Helma a very entertaining Swedish girl. Mariette and Minerva, daughters of Mrs. Goodly, as played by Miss Mabel Florence and Miss Pearl Golding, were dainty successes. Mrs. Goodly and Alvin Starlight, her "old maid" sister, were characters well sustained by Miss Belle Theodore and Miss Priscilla Knowles.

Salt Lake's familiar Luke Cosgrove as Rev. Anthony Goodly, the real bishop, was one of the favorites. His sudden changes from dignity to war dancing and "ki ying" in his encounters with the escaped lunatic was one of the good things. William Bigbee, who thinks he is an Indian, thinks it very earnestly in J. W. Bennett's portrayal of the character. Joseph O'Meara, David Miles, Joseph Greene, Zelby Roach, the other members of the company

Lyric—Taken all around, the performance at the Lyric is perhaps the best this week that has been given at the vaudeville house for some time past. Sousa and Pison in their vaudeville act are very amusing, the Wynedowns in their act "The Messenger Boy's Dream" do a good turn, Rawls and Karpman do a great "Mush" act, while Arthur Bodine and company present the rural sketch "After Many Years." Morey Long sings illustrated songs and the two Casetas dance a la Europa. The performance ends with some good moving pictures.

Because He Was Crippled for Life George Jewett Alleges Wife Abandoned Him.

RECEIVED INJURIES IN FALL.

Was in Hospital Three Months—Rio Grande Switchman Charged With Stealing Coal.

Alleging that the desertion of his wife was "willful, deliberate and heartless," George W. Jewett has filed suit for divorce in the district court against Christina Jewett, whom he married on Sept. 25, 1894. Jewett alleges that on Jan. 13, 1905, while employed as car inspector he fell from a car and broke his thigh and injured his head. He was unconscious for 20 days and was in the hospital for three months. Because he is crippled for life he claims that his wife deserted him on June 25, 1906. He asks for a divorce and the custody of their four children.

DEMURRERS FILED

Against the Indictments Brought in Utah Coal Lands Cases.

Yesterday afternoon attorneys for defendants filed demurrers in the Federal court, in the case of the United States against the Utah Fuel company, Henry G. Williams, Robert Forrester, W. D. Foster, George A. Moore, Elroy W. Clark and Alexander H. Cowie. The corporation and the individuals named were indicted by a grand jury on charges of conspiracy, alleged to have been entered into against the government in certain Utah coal lands. The paper filed demurs against the indictment on various grounds, among them being insufficiency of law in the premises; that the commission of crime is not set up; that the defendants are not charged with entering into a criminal conspiracy, and that the allegations of the indictment are merely statements of legal conclusion.
