

one is familiar, is briefly this. On the night of Jan. 6, 1934, shockley, while attempting to hold up and rob Carmen Gleson and Brighton, shot and killed both men, Gleson dying immediately, while Brighton lingered for a short time. A plea of self-defense was made, but the jury found him guilty as charged and Judge Morse sentenced him to death. Shockley made choice of shooting as the mode of his execution.

ROBBED AN ITALIAN.

Faid He Fell In With Two Colored Women Who Took His Money.

An Italian with an unpronounceable name, complained to the police last night that he had fallen in with a couple of colored women and that they had robbed him of about $30.

Early this morning Sergeant Hempel and Officer Leaver arrested three colored persons who gave their names as Alex Hamilton, Mary Johnson and Ruth Wilson, on suspicion of being the ones who committed the robbery.

The Italian was taken to identify the prisoners, and the latter disclaimed all knowledge of the crime. The police, however, are confident that the colored people will be given their liberty today, as there seems to be no case against them.

It is the story of a girl who was deceived by her lover, who was found to have been deceived by her lover, who was found to have been deceived by her lover.

It is said that Mrs. Johnson's parents are among the wealthiest power residents of one of Utah's leading cities. She has been asked to return to them, but she has refused. She is determined to follow Johnson to his grave to deny him the pleasure of a mother's visit.

PIXTON ESTATE MONEY QUERY.

An Unexplained Shrinkage in the Value of a Very Valuable Property.

CASH THAT CANNOT BE FOUND

Lawyers Preplexed at Condition in Case Where They Expected to Get Money Not Now in Sight.

What did Elizabeth Pixton do with the money she received from the sale of the old Teasdale store property on East Temple street? This is a question which is at present causing a great deal of trouble to the children whom Judge Morse has just declared in the district court are its rightful owners. According to the figures of the prospective heirs there should be about $35,000 in the estate, and try as they will, says their attorney, they cannot find traces of more than $12,000 of it. In October, 1934, $25,000 was withdrawn from a $100,000 balance in the Deseret Savings bank and there is no trace of any gift, investment, or any method of expenditure by which the money was disposed of. In 1934 the sum of $2,000 was drawn from a balance of $3,000 in the Schettler bank, and this sum, too, is unaccounted for, with no available clues as to how it was spent.

ESTATE WORTH $15,000.

Mrs. Elizabeth Pixton was the wife of Robert Pixton, and lived with her husband at Taylorville, near Ogden. Pixton died in 1934, leaving an estate valued at $15,000. As there was no will, one-fourth of the estate was to go to his wife, Elizabeth Pixton, for her life, and the remainder was to be divided among the six children by Elizabeth Pixton and three children by the plural wife, who under the law could not inherit.

In distributing the estate the executor sold the old Teasdale store property on East Temple street for $24,000, and of this amount, Elizabeth Pixton received her share, amounting to $24,000. Other funds turned over to her amounted to about $3,000, making the total of her share, in trust for life, of the estate $27,000.

LEFT TO CHILDREN.

In May, 1934, Elizabeth Pixton died, leaving a will bequeathing all of her share in the estate upon her five children, who acting upon the assumption that the property was hers, instead of a fund to be used for the maintenance of her children, sold the property to the children of the plural wife, joined in by the children of Mrs. William Vandyk, a daughter, who has since died, leaving her share in the trust fund. The suit was successful by a decree handed down by Judge Morse a few days ago.

SEARCH FOR DOLLARS.

Then came the search for the assets on the part of Attorneys Rogers, Street, and Evans and Evans, representing the heirs. They found only $12,000 that had left any visible trace. The children of the plural wife, who are William Pixton, Jos. C. Pixton, Robert Pixton, Mrs. Sarah Wheeler, and Mrs. Elizabeth Wheeler, were all examined by the attorneys, and each of them, so Attorney P. C. Evans declared, stated that he or she knew nothing of any of the missing money, and had not received any of it. The children of Mrs. Pixton, who had lived with Mrs. Pixton at Taylorville, and who was her own companion, Mrs. Rose, was likewise unable to give any clues as to where the missing money might have gone.

WAS A FRUGAL WOMAN.

Mrs. Pixton was known to be a frugal woman, who never speculated, and who never indulged in making large gifts to charity. Her income was a good support for her, and there is no evidence among her effects of any investments, or purchases that might account for the money.

SIMPLY DISAPPEARED.

The law firm of Day & Stevens represented the children of Elizabeth Pixton in the recent suit, while Attorneys Rogers, Street, and Evans represented the children of the plural wife. The suit was heard in regard to the matter, and substantiated the story of Attorney Evans, declaring that the court had decided that none of the children of Mrs. Pixton had received any of the missing money. "I was not concerned in the matter of the money," he said, "but the matter was investigated in court, and the court was satisfied from the evidence that none of the children received any of it."

THE PLAINTIFFS IN THE SUIT, WHO HAVE NOW FILED A BILL ENTITLING THEM TO RECOVER THIS MONEY SHOULD BE THE FOUR LADIES, BETH PIXTON, Mrs. OLIVE P. BARRETT, Mrs. JANE S. BOWERS, and the children of Mrs. William Van Dyke, deceased.

WOMAN FIRE BUG.

Mrs. Mary E. Morton Must Answer to the Charge of Burning Property.

Mary E. Morton was bound over to the district court yesterday to answer to the charge of arson. The preliminary hearing took place in Bingham before Justice Williams. The case is one that has been in the courts for over a year. Mrs. Morton was charged with burning haystacks and barn buildings on a piece of ground at Beth Pixton, Mrs. Olive P. Barrett, Mrs. Jane S. Bowers, and the children of Mrs. William Van Dyke, deceased.

NOT INCENDIARY.

Trustee Stohl Says A. C. Fire Was Accidental—Investigation Shows It.

That the report of the board of trustees of the Agricultural college on the recent fire in the mechanic arts building will be against the incendiary theory, is the assurance held forth by Trustee Loren Stohl. He stated to the "News" this morning in an interview, that it was a misstatement to claim that the board of trustees were agreed that the fire was of incendiary origin. On the other hand, he said, the conclusion was now agreed in by all that the fire originated accidentally in

In regard to the published report that the fire was first seen to be at work in the building, Trustee Stohl stated that on investigation this had not been substantiated. The fire apparently spread from one common source, and there was no evidence to suggest anything else. The report that two men were seen running away from the building was also found upon investigation to be untrue.

BIG AUTOMOBILE IS GONE—WHERE?

Three Thousand Dollar Chug Wagon Disappears During the Night Time.

POLICE ARE ON LOOK OUT.

Probability Only a Joke, but Owners Are Decidedly Nervous Over the Matter and Want Machine Back.

Lost, a $3,000 automobile. Property of the Utah Auto company! The chug wagon may have been stolen. One thing is certain, it cannot be found, although city detectives are on the look-out. It was taken between 1 and 7 o'clock this morning from in front of the Mantou hotel.

When last used it was in the possession of H. O. Martin, rental agent of the company. He took a party of friends out last night, and after seeing them safely domiciled, he drove to the hotel where he is staying. He fixed the machine, so he supposed, in a manner that no one could use it. But it was used! At any rate, it is gone. Where? No one knows. Some think it was taken for a joke, but the auto company is of the opinion that if such is the case, the joke—the auto—was carried too far.

None of the chauffeurs is missing. The friends of Mr. Martin are all accounted for. In fact, everything is accounted for, except the big $3,000 automobile. The man who took it certainly understood the intricacies of automobiles. He was supplied with a plug and other necessary equipment to make the machine run, and he did it. It did make it go, for it is not out.

The matter was reported to the police this morning, and officers were detailed on the case. Those who are keen of smell are dashing about the city vainly following the various trails indicated by the odor of gasoline. It is hoped by the police and officials of the auto company that, if it is all a joke, the joker will tire of the sport and return the machine at once.

Premature Explosion at Bingham Mine Results in Death of Richard Tregastis.

Funeral services over the remains of Richard Tregastis were held at Bingham this morning. Mr. Tregastis died yesterday from the effects of a premature explosion at the Utah Copper mine. He was not severely injured by the blast, but was killed by the concussion of the explosion. A great deal of powder smoke while in that condition, death resulted. He was a resident of Bingham for 12 years, and a native of England.

The carpenters have begun raising scaffolding at the southeast corner of the Catholic church, for the erection of the second tower. By the time that is done, the material will have arrived for the steeple. It is estimated that $20,000 in addition to the money on hand, will be necessary to complete the structure.

DAISY IS A DAISY.

Writes Salt Lake Postmaster to Help Her Find a Husband.

For pure and undiluted merriment, a communication received here addressed to The Postmaster, is warranted to remove dull care upon perusal. Whether it is a get-rich-quick scheme, sober speculation or a cahard, is a matter for discussion. Summed briefly, a dancing girl, the beautiful, and a woman of Daisies, Daisy Marigold, proposes to raise herself off at one dollar a throw, the winner to get $10,000 and for his worth and honors enjoy the privilege of paying her milliner bills.

The lady writes from one of the largest swags of the east and end, smiling in a "sensitive" manner. In her communication she says, "I am here is an opportunity for 'anybody and everybody to obtain ten thousands, and for any desirable and eligible young man to win a bride with one hundred thousand (presumably dollars). All that is necessary for the reader to do is to send name and address, in closed envelope, to the Postmaster, and in a few months you may be ten thousands the richer."

There is considerable mystery surrounding the communication, all of which may be removed subsequent to the mailing of the said letter. It may not be a get-rich-quick scheme, but it is a very interesting one. The lady is a very attractive young woman, and she is a very successful dancer. She is a very successful dancer, and she is a very successful dancer.

BATTLING NELSON NOW IN SALT LAKE

TELLS OF SCRAP WITH BRITT.

Declares That "Corbett Handled It Out Hard to Them and Adds That He Is Still With Nolan.

"Batting Nelson, lightweight champion of the world." That's the way to write it now. Bat, the same good natured unassuming Bat, is now here. He came in from the coast today. He is accompanied by his sparring partner, Billy Lund, and they are quartered at the Kenyon, room 6 front.

The sparring partner of the "News" found Nelson busily engaged unpacking sundry suit cases and wondering when his trunk would arrive. Nelson looks just the same as he did when he was training here for his memorable fight with Spider Welch at the Salt Palace. Unlike the Brits, and other fighters who have gained fame and fortune, there is nothing conceited or haughty about Nelson. "I'm from Higwheg," says he. "Say but I'm glad to see you again. How's everything in good old Salt Lake anyhow?" he asked. "Don't you think I look all right? I don't look as if Britt had given me such a terrible walloping do I?"

"NO GAME OF TAG."

"There isn't much to say about the fight. You all know the result. I felt sure that I would win. I was with James Edward and was allowed to fight, instead of playing a 20-round game of tag."

With reference to the fight I want to say this: Wally Young and W. A. French of the San Francisco Chronicle, and my manager, Billy Nolan, simply followed the various trails indicated by the odor of gasoline. It is hoped by the police and officials of the auto company that, if it is all a joke, the joker will tire of the sport and return the machine at once.

MAKES HIM TIRED.

Regarding the story now gaining circulation that Nelson was at outs with his manager, Billy Nolan, the little fighter said:

"Oh, they make me tired. That talk is all rot. There's nothing to it at all. Nolan is in 'Frisco because he has to testify before the grand jury in the investigation about the anti-punching bill."

CORRETT A HARD ONE.

Speaking about the matter Nelson said that Harry Corbett certainly handled it to them. He said that if Corbett had his way they would be out about $5,000.

"We can't stand for that," said Bat. "He held us up for a cool thousand for the referee. These was thousands here and a thousand there and we don't propose to be worked in that manner."

Nelson said that there was one man he mentioned on the coast that nothing too good can be said about and that man is the "Little Blacksmith" Eddie Grady, who refereed the fight. Nelson says Grady is the squarest and fairest referee in the business. "He did not give me one whit the best of it," said Nelson, "but he was perfectly fair, and I knew if I got that kind of a referee I would beat Britt."

HERE FOR TEN DAYS.

The champion will be here for about ten days and says that in that time he will look up all his old time friends. Nelson was dressed in a neat suit of clothes, a black string tie, the front of which was adorned by a beautiful large white diamond. From his watch chain hung a solid gold charm set with six fine diamonds.

IS ACTING NOW.

Nelson said that he is not considering a fight at the present time. He says he will do nothing until his 15 weeks' engagement with the theatrical company expires. Nelson has always been a very busy man. He is a very busy man, and he is a very busy man.

Mr. George P. Downey and sons are in the city from Denver, visiting with Maj. and Mrs. George M. Downey, while en route to San Francisco to join Pan-American Downey, U. S. A.
