SENATE.

Bill Passed.

WASHINGTON, 17.—The bill from the foreign relations committee, authorizing the President to accept, for citizens of the U. S., the jurisdiction of certain tribunals in the Ottoman dominions and in Egypt, established or to be established under the authority of the Sublime Porte, passed.

Speech by Logan.

Logan devoted his speech to a reply to Schurz' former arguments, which he declared were identical with those of eastern capitalists, who favor retiring greenbacks which do not bear interest, and substituting in their place interest-bearing non-convertible bonds, payable in gold, thereby imposing upon the producing people an additional burden of twenty millions per annum, solely to afford eastern capitalists a secure place to invest their surplus funds, and at the same time get additional interest on these bonds. He argued that such a course would result in draining the Treasury of gold, and would place the monetary power of the government in the hands of the eastern money monopoly, while the labor of the West and South would be oppressed and wages be depreciated. He repeated his former arguments that the increased population of the country made necessary an increase of the currency, and denied that the speculation, which, it is alleged, had caused the panic, was caused by abundance of money, or that the speculative mania was produced by the amount and character of our currency. He was in favor of a properly guarded system of free banking as a means of securing justice to all sections, developing the latent resources of the south, and stimulating the industries of the whole country.

At the conclusion of Logan's speech the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

Missouri and Kansas Exempted.

A bill exempting Missouri and Kansas from the operations of the act of May, 1872, forbidding the pre-emption of iron and coal mines, was passed.

Willard called attention to the inequality of the compensation provided for officials of Congress and that for other departments of the government, and offered various amendments for the reduction of the pay of the doorkeepers and messengers in the Capitol, all of which were defeated.

Bill to Reduce the Army—Debate on Cheap Transportation.

Coburn, from the military committee, reported a bill for the gradual reduction of the army, which was made a special order for the first Tuesday in April. The bill proposes to cut off five regiments of infantry, one of artillery and one of cavalry gradually, by January 1st, 1875. Officers resigning before that time are to receive a year's pay. The number of enlisted men is fixed at 25,000, forming twenty regiments of infantry, nine of cavalry and four of artillery.

EASTERN.

The Grant Parish Prisoners.

NEW ORLEANS, 17.—The jury in the case of the Grant Parish prisoners found Alfred C. Lewis not guilty, and were unable to agree as to the others; the jury were discharged, and the prisoners remanded for trial on other indictments.

That Volcanic Eruption.

RALEIGH, N. C., 17.—Passengers from west, on this morning's train, confirm the reports as to the rumbling noises on the surface of Bald Mountain, in western Carolina; people living on or near the mountain are moving. Reporters leave this evening for the mountain.

Admiral Porter in a Precarious Condition.

CHICAGO, 17.—A Washington special says that Admiral Porter had an attack of hemorrhage of the stomach yesterday, and is very feeble from its effects.

St. Patrick's Day—Vigorous Temperance Measures.

The celebration of St. Patrick's Day here was universal among Irishmen; the procession was one of the finest and largest ever formed in the city. Spectators thronged the streets and workmen took a holiday. No disturbance was reported.

The women, notwithstanding their repulse in the Common Council last night, when presenting the pleas for closing the saloons on Sunday, and the treatment of the scum who hung about the doors when they passed out, have decided on a more vigorous war against intemperance; meetings have been appointed for Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

St. Patrick's Day—Rain.

NEW YORK, 17.—St. Patrick's day was honored here by a pontifical mass in the cathedral, and high mass in most of the churches. The customary march of the Irish societies took place, notwithstanding the increasing rain; the start was deferred until two o'clock. Brooklyn, Jersey City, and the neighboring towns have processions also, but the rain plays havoc with their glitter and show. Dispatches from New England, tell of processions and rain there.

General Jubilation among the Irish.

Dispatches from the principal cities and towns in the middle, eastern and southern States report that St. Patrick's Day was observed with more than ordinary enthusiasm. At Baltimore two colored societies formed part of the procession. The day was universally free from unpleasant features of any kind, excepting the weather. In Pittsburg nearly six thousand men joined in the celebration of St. Patrick's day.

Pacific Railroad Matters.

WASHINGTON, 17.—J. F. Wilson and several other governing directors of the Union Pacific railroad, had a conference with the committee of the House on Pacific railroads, yesterday, on the government's interest in the road. The House committee will, without legislation if possible, protect the government's interest. The new directors appear to desire an amicable arrangement with the government directors. A dispatch from the president of the road says the company has taken possession of the Wyoming coal mines, and will hereafter own them. A bill has been offered in the House to compel the Union Pacific railroad to pro rate freights with the Kansas Pacific road, which was shown to be impossible, as the western part of the Union Pacific road cost twice as much per mile as the eastern. The committee will soon call on the Secretary of the Interior to confer in regard to the time fixed for declaring the completion of the road. At present the road lands are exempt from taxation, though not patentable. While the government officers are not pleased with the change in the management, they concede that the new officers seem disposed to act fairly, and to enhance the value of the road.

Inter-State Transportation — Army Reduction.

Eleven members were present at the evening session of the House, at the debate on the bill to regulate inter-State transportation.

The bill for the reduction of the army abolishes the offices of regimental adjutant and quartermaster, and makes one major in all cavalry and artillery regiments; the permanent staff is reduced in the several corps, and provision is made for filling the lower grades from the line. The engineer and medical corps, the Bureau of Military Justice and the pay department, are excepted from the details. Detailed staff officers are to serve four years, the object being to select the best material for staff duty, and promotion in all branches is to be opened. Regiments are to be consolidated and officers assigned to staff or line duties, or, if unworthy, to be mustered out by a Board. Those of over thirty years' service are to be thus put out, to go on the retired list. No officer is to go out or to be put out by reason of the mere reduction of the force, but to continue in the service unless he resigns or is removed by the Board. Provision is made for the payment of the troops by drafts, at convenient posts, as pensions are now paid.

Fines, Penalties, &c., in New York—Present to Grant.

The Treasury has prepared a statement for Congress, of the fines, penalties, &c., in New York, from Nov. 30 to March 1st; the net amount of the collections is stated at $195,000, duties and expenses $12,000, the net amount being $183,000. The collector, naval officer, and surveyor of New York, has each received, thus far, $1,439; the claim of Jayne for a moiety is contested in a case involving $48,000.

A committee from New Orleans presented Grant with a picture of himself, heroic size, on horse back.

Irish Festival.

COLUMBUS, O., 17.—St. Patrick's day was observed to-day by a grand procession and an evening banquet, delegations were present from neighboring towns.

St. Patrick's Day.

ST. LOUIS, 17.—The Irish citizens celebrated St. Patrick's day in grand style: all the societies were together, with many from neighboring towns. The Irish temperance societies, owing to the present movement, attracted considerable attention. Balls and banquets closed the day.

Temperance Meetings — Statue to St. Patrick—Saloonists Obdurate.

TOLEDO, O., 17.—Temperance meetings continue nightly here, with growing interest.

An imposing procession was formed to-day by the Irish, and a statue of their patron saint was unveiled on the top of St. Patrick's Institute, with appropriate ceremonies.

DAYTON, O., 17.—The crusaders continue to work vigorously, but with no visible effect on the saloonists they have visited.

Treated with Contempt.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., 17.—The committee from the ladies, who waited on the council with a petition asking the enforcement of the temperance laws, was contemptuously treated; the petition was placed on file and no action taken.

St. Patrick's Day was celebrated in good style.
