One of Walker Brothers' delivery teams, driven by Will Cracroft, indulged in a spirited runaway on First South street last evening, and finally drew up on State, where they were brought to a halt in their mad career by dashing into a horse and buggy owned by John Kelson, which was standing in front of Farrington's liv-ery stable. Kelson's horse was knocked down, two of his buggy wheels wer smashed, and his harness broken. Th Walker team sustained a slight shock incident to the sudden tormination of their stunt, but beyond that no damage was done them or the wagon they drew. There are three prominent New Zealanders staying at the Kenyon today, in the persons of J. Montgomery, Ernest Bugg and T. McKinley of Auckland, N. Z.

When seen this morning the latter gentleman talked in an interesting veluin regard to the resources of the British colony in the Antipodes. Considerable has been said in regard to the socialistic phase of the government in that land of the Maori, and in talking with reference to the same Mr. McKinley waxed quite enthusiastic. He said:

"One of the things that has been introduced by the colonial government has been a system of old age pensions whereby any man or woman who has resided in the colony for twenty-five years or more is entitled to an annual pension from the government amount-ing to £18 a year. Last year the goverament paid out some £125,000 in this manner, which is not such a big sum when the fact is considered that there are in the neighborhood of 700,000 people all its apparent advantages. wever, I would not advise anyone to sigrate to New Zealand. The trades ions rule everything, until today it almost impossible for a young man to learn a trade, owing to the law that holds that there shall not be more than one apprentice to every five journey-men workmen. With this state of affairs prevalent the situation is devel-oped whereby a great number of young men annually leave the colony in order

The New Zealander then went on to state that all the railways were owned and operated by the government, while the school system there was, if any-thing, superior to that in vogue in America at the present day, with com-pulsory education as the feature.

Coming down to the industries of the colony he stated that in the north island they consisted in gold dredging, dairy produce, gum and cutting timber for export generally. In the south island wheat and mutton were the staple articles of export. In regard to the latter industry he stated that there were four lines of big steamers plying between London and New Zealand that had a carrying capacity of 100,000 car-casses of mutton per vessel. The kill-ing of sheep in the season he said pro-ceeded day and night in order to accommodate these large ships that waited at the quay ready to return to Lon-

Upon the topic of gold dredging he also spoke in an interesting vein to the effect that investors in the colony had apparently gone crazy to the extent of out the remotest prospect of there be-ing dredgers built within twelve months from the time of the placing of the or-der. The expenses of operating a dredger, he said, were very light as they were operated by but two men at the cost of about 4 ounces of gold a week. while the boats averaged 40 ounces a week, one, the Hartley Riley, on the Molyneaux river, having a record of over 500 ounces for one week.

When it came to pairiotism Mr. Mc-Kinley said that the New Zealanders Kinley said that the New Zealanders were for the mother country all the time as their action in sending no less than five contingents of the linest men possible to be gleaned from the colony to the seat of war in South Africa testified; these contingents were manned and equipped at the expense of the colony with the exception of the rough ridges, who were raid for by the line. riders, who were paid for by the im-

MORE ABOUT THE PUBLIC LAND LAW

Strictly Mineral Land.

Statute of Limitation Does Not Run Agsinst Government in Trespass Cases.

In addition to the statement which Col. Sowers made to the "News" on yesterday with reference to public lands, Col. Percy S. Sowers, special made these further explanations: Strictly mineral land is such as is more valuable for the mineral it contains than for either the timber on it, or for agricultural purposes.

Any bona fide resident of Utah may cut from any unoccupied, unreserved, strictly mineral land, for his own use for building, agricultural mining or other domestic use within the State, but not for sale, or traffic or transportation out of the State, such quantity of timber as he may need, but he may not cut away growing trees, less than 8 inches in diameter, and must utilize all of every tree out that can be profitably used, and must dispose of the tops, brush, etc., so as to prevent the spread of forest fires. Stumpage valuations and limitations apply only to timber taken from un-reserved, unoccupied, non-mineral lands, all of each tree to be utilized, and the refuse to be disposed of so as to prevent the spread of forest fires.

It is unlawful to cut timber from mineral locations for the purposes of sale or traffic—even by the locator—before the same has been secared to him by a United States patent. Such cutting is trespass.

The statute of limitations for trespass cases or largeny does not run against

The receiver of the land office is the only person authorized to receive money in settlement of these cases, and his receipt therefor is necessary for the protection of the trespusser

ENJOYMENT FOR POOR.

The excursion to Lagoon yesterday under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Aid society was an unqualified success. Over 100 people were enter-tained by the society at the popular resort: the Lagoon management furnishing free transportation to all those who went out there at the invitation of the young ladies. A most enjoyable day was spent and all concerned expressed themselves as having spent the red letter day of the year.

Coming down to the subject of the famine in India, in unswer to a query he stated that while the country generally was in a very bad shape, the natives had themselves to blame to a great extent for their present predica-ment from the fact that they were exceedingly indolent as well as being fanatical. When he left Bombay, he said, the deaths from plague and furnine together averaged fully 100 per day without any prospect of there be-ing any vital relief in the situation. Owing to the fanaticism of the Hin-doos generally, he stated that it was virtually impossible to give them eff ent medical aid, as the natives one and all apparently labored under the copulation through the means of the government doctors.
