NEPHI, June 30, 1899.
 Editor Deseret News.—Dear Sir:—The crops in this county are very promising, and the farmers are looking forward to an abundant harvest, and the people will rejoice in "the harvest home." Our orchards and gardens are full of choice fruit—apple, pear, plum, apricot, cherry trees are doing well and many will be blest with being rewarded for the care and labor they have expended in planting out orchards. Grape vines and small fruits are also bearing abundantly and the crops of vegetables of all kinds were never better.

The Nephi Co-operative Mercantile and Manufacturing Institution is doing a good business; the people, without exception, supporting it.
 On Saturday last, by invitation, I attended the annual meeting of the Nephi Female Relief Society. The room was tastefully decorated; there was a fine display of articles manufactured by members of the Society, which numbers one hundred and forty-six. Quilts, piece and work, rugs, table and stand covers, shirts, hats, stockings, socks, mittens, gloves, slippers, crocheted work, etc., were exhibited and were a credit to the Society, and the cheerful and smiling faces of the sisters, indicated that they were united in the good work.

Sister Amelia Goldsborough gave an interesting account of the organization and progress of the Society, and felt proud of the support she had received from the officers and members of the same. Sister A. L. Bigler read the statistical report of the Society, which showed the finances of the same to be in as favorable a position as could be expected, considering that the locusts destroyed the crops of last season. Much credit is due to the Presidentess and the officers of the institution for the manner in which the business has been conducted. Valuable instruction was given by President Jacob G. Bigler, Bishop C. H. Bryan, Elders E. Oakey, S. Pitchforth, G. Kendall, B. Riches and J. Miller, on the duties and callings of the officers and members of the Society, and all felt pleased to meet with them and see the progress the sisters were making. The Society had rendered timely assistance in many cases of sickness and want, for which it will receive the blessings of the grateful.

I am pleased to say that of late there has been no deaths from the epidemic which prevailed here during last winter.

Yours, very respectfully,
 SAMUEL PITCHFORTH.

NEPHI, NORTH SCHOOLROOM,

Bigler, Secretary; Frances Andrews, Treasurer.

The above named having been previously selected by the Bishop, an acting committee, thirty in number, were accepted by vote and a board of three for appraisers. The Society now numbers 144 members.
