

And what grief it must cause to the blessed Christ bimself, who pronounced his blessing on the merciful, who bude us love our enemies and bless them that curse us, and who gave us the parable of the good Samaritan who gave us the parable of the good Samaritan who suc-cored and befriended a suffering Jew. "Our hearts go out with the Russian people in this day of trouble and calanits. We are praying that peace and welfare may soon be restored to your country; but our sympathy is chiled and our prayers fatter on our lips when we read of this terrible carnage. The speak not as Americans to Russians, but as Christian men to Christian men, and we implore you, brethren, by the memories of Christ, that you will act at once, with one accord, and rise up and speak the word which shall re-strain these atrocities and heal the re-strain these atrocities and heal the reoach which they are bringing on the "hristian name."
