

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

THEATRICAL.—The lovers of the drama present at the theatre last evening had a genuine treat in the performance of the FLOWERS OF THE FOREST. The piece was presented in splendid style and was played with great effect. All the characters were well up in their parts and there was not a hitch in the entire performance. Miss WESTERN added to the laurels she has already won, in her performance of Cynthia; her every attitude was a picture, and not a word during the entire performance fell short of producing the effect desired. Her Cynthia throughout was a thoroughly artistic and finished impersonation of the Italian Gipsy.

Mr. HUNTER, in his specialties, is decidedly great. His Rip Van Winkle and Solon Shingle would be hard to excel, and on each of the two plays on which they have been presented here they have drawn a good house and have elicited the most flattering marks of public favor and appreciation. Had the public known that the "Kinchin" was one of the gentleman's specialties, among which we think it certainly deserves to be numbered, there would in all probability have been a much larger attendance at the theatre last evening. In make up as well as in the style of acting the part Mr. Hunter's "Kinchin" was almost equal to his Rip Van Winkle. However, as this piece is to be played again in the near future, we shall have the opportunity of seeing him in the role of the gipsy again, and we are sure that his "feelings hurt" laughing at his impersonation of this character.

Miss Lockhart, as "Starlight Bess," made a most charming little gipsy, but while admiring her beauty and her devotion to her "romany," we could not help thinking that they both were the fairest specimens of the gipsy tribe we had ever seen. These two charming gipsies are every-where noted for their dark and swarthy complexions, but "Starlight Bess" and her "romany" would have passed as having been "to the manor born," among the fairest of the fair.

Mr. Margotta, as "Cheap John," with his cargo of Sheffield merchandise, created fun and merriment, however, did not seem quite at home before the curtain.

Mr. Hardie, as the gipsy chief, appeared to excellent advantage. Messrs. Lindsay and Thompson played their parts in excellent style.

To-night the dramatic drama of the "Green Bushes" will be presented, Miss Western appearing in her great personation of Miami, which was so greatly admired on its last presentation. Mr. Hunter appears as "Wild Murrough," the rest of the characters in good hands.

INFORMATION WANTED. at the office of President Brigham Young of the whereabouts of Edward Whitcomb, James Faulkner, and Theodore Petersen.

FISHES.—There is an old saying that "little fishes are sweet," but we scarcely think that remark applicable to some little creatures from the watery element we saw yesterday exposed for sale in this city. We noticed some not more than three inches long. The excuse of the vendors is that there are so many thousands of them in the river that they will bear thinning out. But this is a fallacy. If this practice is continued, and fish at all seasons, and of all sizes, are allowed to be caught and brought to market (especially at spawning time) the supply will diminish, whilst it is evident, that in this city the demand will increase. When so much is being said about fish as a wholesome article of diet, and its proper culture so urgently impressed upon us, is it not swimming against the stream, and thwarting a popular hygienic movement, to waste the material already on hand for this purpose? While on this subject we may ask those interested would it not now be a favorable time to import oysters, for the formation of beds. We are informed on reliable authority, that they could be brought through with safety, at the present time, and that there is more than one place in the river, not far from the city, exactly suited to their wants. Oysters bred in the Territory would be a luxury and which we hope soon to enjoy.

Should not a law be enforced against fishing at improper seasons? This is an important subject, as we may reason to our cost some future day, if we neglect it now.

EXPLANATION TO SUBSCRIBERS.—The stage which left this city for the North on Thursday last, included our weekly mail, which, for want of a sufficient number of leather mail sacks was put into a canvas one. The driver promised to leave our mail at its different places of destination. Instead of doing so, however, it was carried to Bear River North, and has been traveling between that place and this city ever since.

Such flagrant derelictions of duty on the part of stage drivers are exceedingly annoying to our subscribers and us. We hope we shall have no more occasion to notice such instances as these. No blame is attachable to post-masters for the above. It was entirely caused by the neglect of the stage driver.

ENGLAND.—Elder John D. T. McAllister has kindly permitted us to peruse a letter to him from Elder A. Carrington, Liverpool, from which we make the following extracts:

"We had an excellent Conference at Newcastle on the 14th inst., the first they have had there for some seven years, for of being disturbed; a fear that as yet has not completely been removed. The large hall was nearly filled both afternoon and evening, about two-thirds being strangers. The audience paid great attention, and conducted themselves with strict propriety; especially when you take into account that some understood that they had a right to ask questions, which some two or three did forward to the close of the evening meeting, but in a very fair and respectful manner. Nor was there the least boisterous or disturbance or improper conduct of any kind about the door after the meetings were dismissed, though many of the brethren had feared, from past experience, that there would be. I did not so much as think there would, for our beloved President told me, that both Saints and strangers would receive and treat as kindly, and his words have all the time and everywhere been literally fulfilled. The Saints expressed themselves greatly blessed in their Conference, and trust that both they and all the honest in heart present may derive great benefit therefrom. The following evening, the 15th inst., I met with the Sunderland branch. . . . Myself, bro. Tensdale and all at 42 are well, and feeling very well, so we got along very easily."

CO-OPERATION IN THE 4TH WARD.—The citizens of this ward have organized a branch of Zion's Co-operative Mercantile Institution, and have adopted the constitution and by-laws of the parent society as far as practicable for a ward association. The following officers were elected: Bishop Thomas Jenkins, President; Harrison Sperry, vice President; Charles Davey, John Freese and Hans Carlson, Directors; Charles F. Williams, Secretary; and John Bailey, Treasurer. The shares were placed at ten dollars each. The society proposes commencing business without delay.

SUNDRIES.—The weather was beautiful yesterday, and is so again to-day. The farmers are rejoicing accordingly. . . . Report says that the majority of the Co-operative stores are doing a good business. We are happy to hear it, success attend them for some time past; but it is going down rapidly. . . . Trade is a little brisker, and will no doubt keep on improving for some time to come.

A GRIEVANCE.—A young friend of ours, thirteen years of age, writes us a very good letter, on a slight he was subjected to at the theatre. He says that having purchased a ticket for the third circle, he took his seat. When the usher passed the programmes round he did not receive one, and on asking for one he was refused, the usher stating he had instructions to give bills to grown-up folks and not to boys. We drew the attention of the urbane lessees to this matter, and they say that the instructions that they have given are simply to distribute so many bills to each seat, as they cannot afford to give one to every person who buys a third circle ticket, hoping that their patrons would kindly pass them to each other, so that all may be enlightened, but they gave no instructions to make any difference between boys and grown up folks, men or women.

OUR DIXIE.—The Cactus says: "A rumor has been going around for a couple of weeks and is now confirmed to the satisfaction of Brother Hamblin and others experienced in Indian character, that the Navajos have taken possession of the country south between here and the Colorado. It is also reported they are trying to form an alliance with the Hopis, Shoshonis, and Paiutes, and intend making a business of plundering and robbing the settlements in this country of their stock and property. Southern Utah has for the last four years suffered severely from the raids of the Navajos, and at present there seems no prospect of their sufferings being lessened, unless prompt and vigorous measures are taken to punish and bring them to reason."

ODGEN.—Judge M. D. Richards looked into our sanctum this morning. He reports things lively in Ogden, about one hundred passengers came in by the eastern train yesterday, most of them for this city. He reports the roads still very muddy in places. The late storms had delayed the arrival of construction material, still, the end of the track was not far from Brigham City.

REGENERATION IN PINE VALLEY.—A correspondent of the Cactus writing from Pine Valley on the 8th inst., says, "A short time ago one of those sneaking specimens of humanity, commonly known as a regenerator, attempted to introduce 'modern civilization' into present Pine Valley, by tampering with another man's wife. He has now made his way to your city (St. George) and will bear watching. Blue pills are confidently spoken of, but have not yet been administered, to the great disgust of our citizens."

Mrs. St. Clair's Lecture.—To all ladies, young or old, Mrs. St. Clair's lecture to-morrow evening will be full of interest and instruction, and of course the gentlemen will gladly hear a discussion of Woman and her Duties. We are assured that Mrs. St. Clair is no novice at her profession, having for years been accustomed to speak before the largest audiences, and those who hear her will enjoy an intellectual feast.
