

WEDDING BELLS

The week's wedding commenced with the pretty celebration of the nuptials of Miss Florence Hall and Fred J. Luce on Monday, the event taking place at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Luce. The rooms were brilliantly lit with colored lanterns and pretty lamps, and were bright with flowers, the parlor in sweet peas, carnations and ferns, and mantles with its edges and mirror outlined as to form a large arch, with pretty effect; the diningroom in pink and white with sweet peas forming a centerpiece and bunches of sweet peas at each place with blue ribbon. The lawn was also lit with lanterns, and dancing was enjoyed. The bride wore a becoming gown of white silk trimmed with Hatterberg lace and carried flowers. Mrs. H. A. Luce was assisted by Mrs. H. V. Luce, Miss Ida Wegeland, and Miss Winnie Evans. In the diningroom were Misses Vera and Jane Vincent and Miss Maud Porter, and Miss O'Rourke, and Miss Mary. The bride and groom received many beautiful presents both from friends at home and abroad.

The largest and most elaborate bridal affair of the spring season was the wedding reception celebrating the marriage of Miss Emma Lamsey and George C. Morris, the event taking place at the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. George M. Cannon at Forest Dale, the ceremony having been performed in the Temple. The spacious grounds were lit with colored lanterns, and electric globes, and at the north end, sheltered with flags, three long supper tables were spread, each beautifully decorated with flowers, and lit with electric globes strung above. The entrance and portico on the west side were draped with flags, and the whole made a fairly good scene. The house itself was a tower, the parlor in which the bride and groom were seated, being literally embanked to sweet peas and palms. The bay windows were filled with palms and had portieres of pink and white sweet peas at each side, while overhead were three wedding bells in the same flowers, while mantels and tables were also with the bright flowers. The library was done in roses, and the dining room in nasturtiums, bowls and vases being seen in every room. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white lace over white satin, and carried a bouquet of bride's roses, white orange blossoms were in her hair. Her bridesmaid, Miss Joanne Sands, wore white satin, with white lace trimmings and carried sweet peas. Mr. Joseph Cannon was best man. During the evening the bride favored the guests with these beautiful songs, and Miss Joanne Sands and Mr. Tracy Cannon also rendered musical selections. The presents were most lavish, costly and beautiful, cut glass, hand painted china, silver, and many pieces of furniture being in the list, some of the organizations with which the groom is connected sending handsome remembrances. Miss Marion Cannon served punch on the veranda, and assisting in serving refreshments were a number of daintily clad little girls, relatives of the bride and groom, while the groom's people assisting were Mr. and Mrs. George M. Cannon, Mrs. Theodore Nyström, Nepti Morris, Miss Ida Wegeland, Mrs. Selma L. Clapton, Mrs. George Goff, Miss Kate Thomas, Miss Clara Eldredge, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hansen, Miss Francis Smith, Miss Nellie Moore, Miss Joanne Sands, Miss Walker, and Miss Julia Jones. About 300 guests were present. Mr. and Mrs. Morris left yesterday for Los Angeles and other points on the coast, and will return here to reside.

On Thursday next the marriage of Miss May Hunt and Mr. George Bywater, the engagement of their daughter Hazel Young to Edward Partridge Kimball, the wedding to take place on Tuesday, Aug. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Heaton announce the engagement of their daughter Hazel Young to Edward Partridge Kimball, the wedding to take place on Tuesday, Aug. 1.

One of Thursday's interesting weddings was that of Miss Eva Hudson and Rufus M. Owen, the ceremony being performed in the Temple during the morning by President Arthur H. Lund, and a reception being held in the evening at the home of the bride's parents. The rooms were bright with flowers, each in a separate color scheme, and a number of the friends of the young couple were present to enjoy the event. The bride wore a gown of white crepe de chine over tulle and carried a bouquet, she was attended by her sister, Miss Lillian Hudson, and Mr. W. S. Owen was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Owen will be at home to their friends after July 25, at 608 Third street.

Another pretty wedding of Thursday was that of Miss Nora Moslander of Evanston, Wyo., and Charles W. Walton of Murray, the marriage being solemnized in the Temple in the afternoon and a wedding dinner and reception taking place at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley K. Walton in the evening. The rooms were beautifully decorated, the parlor in green and white, the dining room in roses, the effect being very pretty. The bride was attended by Miss

MRS. THOMAS F. RYAN.

This is one of the latest pictures of Mrs. Thomas F. Ryan, wife of the new owner of the Equitable Life stock. Mrs. Ryan has figured prominently in society this season, and she is noted in the Georgetown University to provide a new gymnasium. Mrs. Ryan recently gave $50,000 for the construction of a new refectory. President Dougherty, of the Georgetown university announced the gift of the $50,000 for the gymnasium, and said he hopes the sum would be augmented from other sources, so that a building similar to the gymnasiums of Harvard, Princeton and Yale could be erected.

Tillie Watts, and Miss Belle Anderson, and assisting in entertaining were Mrs. Mary Eastman, Miss Watts, Miss Moslander and Miss Eastman. About 65 guests were present to enjoy the affair. Mr. and Mrs. Walton have gone to the coast for a bridal trip and will return here to reside.

Miss Clara Kesler, daughter of Mrs. Jane Kesler and Mr. George H. Crow, were married in the Temple on Thursday, leaving afterward for a trip to the fair, after which they will return here to reside.

The wedding of Miss Anna Hall and Robert King Brown took place on Wednesday, the affair being an exceedingly pretty one. The rooms were bright with a profusion of cut flowers, potted plants and palms, and a charming service was performed, commencing with the strains of the Lohengrin march, played by Mrs. L. J. King, and sung by Miss Olive Jennings. Two little ribbon bearers came first, followed by the maid of honor, Miss Bessie Hall, and then the bride. Mr. P. R. Morris was best man. Rev. McNiece performed the ceremony, Miss Jennings singing "Beauty's Eyes" during the service, and Mrs. King playing the Mendelssohn chorus at its close. The bride wore a charming costume of white tulle over silk and carried roses. Her long veil of tulle was fastened with a diamond pin. Her bridesmaid wore white silk net over tulle, and carried pink roses, while the ribbon bearers wore in white tulle. Assisting in serving were the Misses Savage, Heringley and Buckingham. Mr. and Mrs. Brown left later for a trip to California.

Miss Beatrice Coleman and Mr. Fred Brain were married on Wednesday at the Temple, and the event was celebrated in two delightful receptions, one on the evening following the ceremony and one on the next night. Both affairs were beautifully arranged, flowers making the scene bright, and all details being successfully carried out. Mr. and Mrs. Brain will reside here.

One of Wednesday's pretty weddings was that of Miss Clara Stevens and Arthur J. Petty, the ceremony being followed by an elaborate wedding supper, with flowers making the scene a sight to see. The young couple will reside in this city.

The Misses Hartley were hostesses at a bridge party followed by a luncheon on Wednesday, the pleasant affair being in honor of Mrs. W. C. Barker of Los Angeles. The prize winner was Mrs. O. K. Lewis, and about 20 guests were present.

Pink and white were the colors prevalent at the delightful Kensington given by Mrs. W. A. Chapman on Wednesday in honor of Mrs. C. G. Barker of St. Louis. The hostess was assisted by a number of friends, and about 15 guests were present.

Announcement Extraordinary.

July 1 and 3 marks the last of this Summer's Special Sales.

We will, on these dates only, take 50 cents for any one dollar purchase of Summer Hats or Materials you may select.

During July and August our store will be arranged to accommodate wholesale customers. By special arrangements with the New York agents of Berlin, Paris and Vienna Houses we will show their early Fall Samples and Models of Domestic and Foreign Lines for the coming fall season.

Our 1000 Pattern Hats will be placed on exhibition in our wholesale department, most of them can be copied from materials we will carry in stock, or copies can be ordered direct from the New York manufacturers.

Domestic orders for August and September deliveries must be placed before August 15th. Import orders for foreign materials on which there is 10 percent to 15 percent saving, must be in before July 20.

The enlargement of our store this fall will make it the Greatest Exclusive Millinery Establishment between Chicago and San Francisco.

Our special advantages are there: In conducting a wholesale and retail place we buy in greater variety than one branch of the trade would sustain. It enlarges our outlet so that we buy in quantities at the same prices the exclusive jobber pays. The expense of doing business in Salt Lake as compared with Chicago and New York is at least 10 percent less, which pays all carrying charges to this city. We can supply the trade tributary to this city in 24 to 48 hours as against 120 to 184 hours from our nearest competitor.

The natural advantages afforded an Establishment like ours in Salt Lake City invites your trade.—We will share them with you.

A MODISH CHAPEAU.

One of the flat saucer shapes is cleverly wired and bandaged so that it assumes the most modish outline. The hat itself is one of the burnt straw shades that are so fashionable in Paris, where they are known as paille brulee. This fashion both the upper and under brim, and the top of the hat is left almost entirely untrimmed, the bandage that makes the hat assume its modish shape receiving all of the trimmer's attention. At the side there are two long and exceedingly thick ostrich plumes in one of the soft russet shades of red, the plume ends caught to the bandage and the trim curving up over the brim almost to the crown of the hat. The back bandage is strongly lined, and this is covered with thick clusters of forget-me-nots and foliage, and a fluffy rosette of ribbons in cleverly interwoven with the flowers, some of the loops resting on the hair.
