Chicago Grain Markets.

CHICAGO, 21.—The grain markets have been rather excited and the tendency has been strongly up during the whole of the past week. This was noticeably true of corn and oats, and these cereals were out of all proportion to that of wheat. The discouraging reports from the corn regions were the cause of the flurry, and later reports were not much more favorable, for the drought continues so severe that many fields are partly or wholly ruined. That the great body of the corn crop is much damaged is by no means likely, and when the bulls have had their way, the bears will doubtless take a turn. The present rise is quite natural, inasmuch as the long depression in prices has given some operators—one in particular, in the Chicago market—an opportunity to get large amounts of corn at low prices, and they are now doing their best to put prices up. They are opposed by a heavy clique on the other side also. The tremendous receipts of corn continues unabated, and were it not for the readiness of the British market to take all the corn offered, prices here should have been at the bottom now instead of very near the top, as they appear to be. Wheat is strong, but only in sympathy with corn.

Provisions have also been and always are tending higher, with the skilled management of the Western corners, who have all the pork and are squeezing the shorts. One or two firms have suspended, and one, who was supposed to be financially solid, has refused to respond to margin calls, and is accused of being practically insolvent. The prices of pork reached the highest price today that they have attained for many years.

Desperate Garroters.

NEW YORK, 21.—Max Sevinger, collector, while walking along First Avenue this evening, near Forty-ninth Street, was set upon by two men, one of whom seized his arms and the other rifled his pocketbook and seized his watch and chain. They then threw him into the gutter and fled. Sevinger, who was uninjured, gave chase, when one of the thieves discharged a revolver at him. The ball missed the object intended and buried itself in the neck of Otto Schwenger, 18 years old, a butcher boy. The young man was taken to the hospital, where his injury is pronounced fatal. The thieves escaped.

A Dishonest Broker.

The examination of Elijah Alliger, insurance broker, charged for the negotiation of $100,000 in stolen Hannibal & St. Joe bonds, was continued to-day. There was a large attendance of Wall Street brokers. A sensation was caused by the police inspector preferring another charge against Alliger. In February last the First National Bank of Westport, Conn., was robbed of a large amount of securities, among which were $11,000 belonging to Francis Sherwood. These were traced to the Third National Bank in this city, where the inspector alleged they were hypothecated by Alliger.

Steers Escaped.

The steers used in the late mock bull fight broke loose to-night from the Central Park arena, at 116th Street. The sheriff's officers were in possession of the animals. They ran through the west side of the upper part of the city. The animals are not yet captured, but no damage has been done.

Prize Fighters.

A dispatch was received at police headquarters just before 2 o'clock this morning to the effect that a band of prize fighters had just crossed South Ferry from Brooklyn en route for New Jersey. The police were warned to look out for and arrest them.

Duel Prevented.

NORFOLK, Va., 21.—The duel between Hope and Mayor Lamb was prevented by the arrest of the Mayor as he was leaving his house for the place of meeting at 4 o'clock this morning. He was taken before a magistrate and bound over in $20,000 bail to keep the peace. Captain Hope eluded the police and reached the rendezvous. He will return to the city and give bonds to observe the peace.

Handicap Swimming Match.

ATLANTIC CITY, 21.—Boyton and Fearn began a swimming match today, the former to swim two and one-half and the latter two miles. The sea is heavy.

Captain Boyton was defeated today in his swimming match with Geo. Fearn. Boyton was to swim two and a half and the latter two miles. Fearn won by a long distance.

Nominations.

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., 21.—Judge Geo. T. Garrison was nominated for Congress by the democratic convention of the First District.

Milwaukee, 21.—The democrats of the first district nominated Clinton Babbitt for Congress.

Hung for Murder.

CORDIANA, La., 21.—Geo. Doran was hanged to-day for the murder of Joel Fitzsimmons, June 1st, 1879. The execution took place in the jail yard; only those allowed by law were present. The prisoner said he would prefer to be shot or guillotined.

More Victims.

PHILADELPHIA, 21.—William F. Gallagher, injured in the accident at May's Landing, died at the Pennsylvania Hospital this morning, and Patrick McCann, another victim, died at the same place to-night.

A Duel Fought.

MORRISTOWN, 21.—A fight between drunken men and the city officers last night resulted in the death of Marshal James T. Morris and B. F. Richardson, and the dangerous injury to Sheriff Loop.

Fire.

Boston, 21.—A fire in the ropewalk of the Charleston navy yard to-night caused a loss of $70,000 to the building and machinery.

FOREIGN.

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, 21.—The News understands that although Lord Beaconsfield's visit to Ireland was undertaken for the purpose of inaugurating the conversion of the Consols, the government has no scheme to relieve the necessity exists or is likely to arise for any exceptional legislation. Official reports do not indicate the probability of a material increase of agrarian crime.

The Queen, Princess Beatrice, Prince and Princess of Wales, and Prince Leopold inspected the Rifle Brigade aboard the troop ship Junius, before its departure for Afghanistan to-day. Great enthusiasm was shown by the large crowds of spectators.

The Post's Berlin dispatch says: The Czar will receive the Chinese and Japanese ambassadors on Saturday at Rapsha, near Krasnoe Sebo, where the interview will virtually re-open Kuldja negotiations.

The master cotton spinners and manufacturers association of northeast Lancashire refused the weavers 10 per cent. advance in wages owing to the state of trade.

The celebrated actress, Mrs. Chas. Kean, who retired from the stage on the death of her husband, is dead.

Fourteen hundred and fifty weavers of Bolton have struck against the reduction of five per cent. in their wages.

Gen. Stuart's headquarters have been established at Jellalabad. All is well with his command and the country is quiet. According to information brought by natives, Gen. Robertson, on his way to the relief of Candahar has passed Ghuzne unopposed. Mahomed Jan and Hashim Khan were hovering on his flank. It is stated the tribe men are impatient.

Ayoob Khan has resolved to make an assault on Candahar before relief can arrive.

Gen. Phayne has started for Khojak to arrange for an early advance from the south to succor Candahar.

There is no doubt that Abdurrahman Kahn's assistance to Ayoob Khan had not been withdrawn at the time of the recent British defeat. It is learned from good sources that Russia has ordered a communication to be made to Abdurrahman Khan advising him on no account to interfere with the English withdrawal from Cabul. If he does not observe these counsels he will forfeit the sympathy and good opinion of all.

The collective rejoinder of the Powers to the Porte's reply to their note on the Greek question will be presented in a day or two. Unity of opinion among the Powers is perfect. France is ready to follow where the others lead.

Rome.—The King has placed the royal villas of Capo Di Mont and Matochett at the disposal of Gladstone, in case that gentleman should come to Italy for the benefit of his health.

Copenhagen. — The King and Queen of Greece will leave here Sunday for Russia.

Much excitement exists among the Albanians since the sudden and unexpected departure of the Turkish governor, and much anxiety is expressed in regard to the attitude which his successor, Rizza Pasha, will adopt. Whatever that attitude may be, there is a determination to resist any cession of Territory. Preparations have already been made in the district of Duleigne.

Orders have been given for the immediate repair of the forts at the Black Sea entrance to the Bosphorus.

Paris, 21.—The Temps says: The Bey of Tunis has not only granted the French Company concession of the port of Tunis, but has engaged not to give concession for any future railway without a previous understanding regarding it with the French government.

The Bourse says: A joint purse arrangement has been made between the Anglo-American, Direct United States and French Atlantic Cable companies. The latter company obtain sixteen per cent. of the total receipts of the three lines.

A Tragedy of the Circus.

About 8 o'clock yesterday forenoon, says the Detroit Free Press, a man whose form was full of wrinkles and kinks and twists, crawled out of a coal shed on the wharf and began yawning and rubbing his eyes like one who had put in a heavy night. A policeman lounged that way, gave the man a looking over and asked:

"Sleep in there last night?"

"Yaas, kinder," was the reply.

"Looking for work?"

"N-n-o, not exactly."

"You'll be run in if you hang around in this way," remarked the officer.

The man put his hands on the top of a snubbing post, and laid his chin on the top of his hands, and after a long look at Canada, he turned and said:

"I dunno exactly what I'm going to do. I did live out here about eight miles, but I've separated from the old woman. Yes, separated last night."

"What's the trouble?"

"Waal, she was my second, and I was her second, and we never got along any too sweet. We both of us think we know it all, and neither feels like giving in. We came to the circus."

"Ahl you did?"

"And that's where the separation took place—right in front of the sacred hyenas from Japan. You know they advertised an electric light there?"

"Yes."

"Well, we'd never seen one. When we got into the menagerie, there stood the elephant. Then came the camels. Then we came to a darned old bear. Further on were the lions and tigers and monkeys, but no electric light. We walked three times around the old tent, without coming to his cage and I got mad. Says I to one of the chaps over the rope:—"Whar, in thunder is the cage with the electric light in? We want to see him or have our money back!" The feller he grinned all over, and lots of folks laffed right out, and my wife she flew up and said I'd made a fool of myself. 'How?' says I. Why the electric light is not an animal at all, says she, 'but it has something to do with the clown.' We had a big jaw right there. She caved my hat in, and I broke her parasol and then we separated."

"And you won't make up?"

"Make up! Never! She can take the electric light and bake and eat him, but I am a man who never crows? I'm going down to Toledo, I am, and by this time to-morrow, I'll be drunker'n a horse!"

"And you didn't see the electric light after all?"

No! I don't believe they had any! Maybe they thought they could work that 'ere rhinocerous off on the public by another name, but I tumbled in a minit. I'm an old rinch myself, and my wife is another, and when I think of how I stood there and left her call me a fool afore all this people, I'm mad 'nuff to walk clear home, and pizen her half of the yoke of oxen!"

Kicking Cows.

Here is my method with kickers: My cows are in stalls three and a half feet wide. I use a long pole or light round rail. This I drop in a notch in the right front corner of the stall and secure it. With it gently crowd the hind quarters of the cow against the partition on the left side. The pole strikes the flank just at the top of the udder, and then passes on behind her, and is fastened firmly to the side of the barn back of the cow on the left. She must be tied short or fastened by stanchion. Now, the milker is master, and no injury to the cow. She can't possibly hit him, and can only raise her foot forward. If she is accustomed to gentleness, a soothing word the first time she raises her foot will quiet her, and she will soon forget kicking. If she needs it, one firm word of command may do. If she is wild, take a stick, pretty stiff, and for one kick give one quick blow and one decided word; two blows and two words will spoil all. While she stands quiet whistle or call her name soothingly, and "you will find her manners and disposition entirely changed by a little persistence, unless she is very wicked. After awhile, the pole may be omitted, and she will not notice it, if it is done with care. The one great advantage of this method is that the milker feels perfectly at ease, and is self-confident, and this I consider the great requisite in the management of any animal. The pole does not interfere with the milking.—Correspondent N. Y. Tribune.

Transplanting.

In transplanting trees, the care should begin in lifting them in the nursery. In the hurry of the season—for the transplanting season is short—sometimes the proper care cannot be given in taking them up. Hence, it is the best plan, where it is allowed, for the purchaser to dig up his own trees. They should then be protected against the sun in hauling them home, and should be "heeled-in"—that is, the roots to be covered with earth until the holes are dug and ready to receive the trees, and then set as the holes are prepared for them. The holes should be dug wide enough to receive all the roots spread out, except perhaps a few of the larger ones, and deep enough—and a few inches to spare, which should be loosened well—so that the tree may stand a little deeper than it stood in the nursery. Where the tree has grown rapidly in the nursery and the branches are long, we recommend pruning, whatever may be said by some to the contrary. The soil with which the holes are filled up should be rich, whether it be soil taken out or brought from elsewhere. Let the ground around the tree be pretty firmly pressed, and left rather bowled, and then mulch with rich stable manure, which should be repeated once or twice through the season if the weather should be rather dry. It is not advisable to water much, if any around the tree when planted; but where the soil is rather dry it should be moistened before it is returned to the hole.
