

FINAL PROTOCOL TUESDAY MORNING

Peace Envoys Will Then Meet in All Probability for the Last Time.

FAILURE OF THE CONFERENCE.

President Roosevelt Making a Final Effort to Bring the Two Countries To Amicable Terms.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 18.—At midnight Asst. Secy. Pelee was hurriedly called to the hotel Wentworth, where a message was awaiting him from the president. He immediately wrote a lengthy reply. Later he was called to the telegraph instrument and for half an hour carried on a conversation by telegraph with the president, who was at the other end of the wire at Oyster Bay.

At 12:50 a. m. the telegraphic conversation with the president ceased and Mr. Pelee left the hotel in his automobile. He said he was going home, but beyond that declined to make any statement.

"I can tell you nothing," he said to all the anxious inquirers of the newspaper men.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 18.—The Associated Press has reason to believe that the purpose of the president's conversation with Mr. Pelee was to arrange for one of the Russians to go to Oyster Bay.

The president is understandably anxious to bring the conference to a successful conclusion.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 18.—M. De Morsan has abandoned evidently all expectations of seeing a treaty of peace concluded at this time. This evening he telegraphed his wife, saying he hoped to be able to sail for home next week.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 18.—M.
Platon has been charged to M. Witte with the task of preparing the final Russian protocol for presentation at Tuesday's meeting.

Oyster Bay, Aug. 18.—President Roosevelt's only visitor today was Baron Kaneko, who studiously conceals his peace mission, but is known to be a confidential representative in this country of the Japanese government. This was his fourth visit to the president in a few weeks and the second within a week. Reasons developed today for the statement that Baron Kaneko's call had relation to the proceedings of the peace conference at Portsmouth, although it appears likely that he is not a participant in the conference.

He is known to be in direct communication with the Tokyo government. Whether he was the bearer of messages from Japan to the president is not known, but he came on his own initiative, the president not being aware of his coming until his arrival.

Baron Kaneko arrived on an afternoon train from New York and accompanied by his family, to Sagamore Hill at 4:30 p. m. President Roosevelt and the members of his family, who were absent from home during the greater part of the day, had not returned when the baron arrived, and did not return for some time afterwards. The president and Baron Kaneko had an extended conference but nothing was disclosed concerning it.
Neither of the participants caring to make any statement about it, Baron Kaneko left for New York at 8 p. m.

SENT INFERNAL MACHINE BY MAIL

One Was Addressed to Jacob H.
Schiff and Other to the Guggenheims.

THEY LOOKED SUSPICIOUS.

Clerks Thought That They Were Dangerous and Accordingly Took Precautions Before Opening Them.

New York, Aug. 18.—An explosive package capable of causing death was sent to Jacob H. Schiff, the banker, today at the office of Kuhn, Loeb & company, of which he is a member. Mr.
Schiff was at Bar Harbor today and when the machine, inclosed in a wooden box about six inches long, was received at his office, clerks immediately sent it to the police. At first the police reported that the affair was a joke, but further investigation by an expert revealed the presence of 31 grains of a high explosive powder and two 32 caliber loaded cartridges. Arranged so as to fire this charge merely by ordinary handling of the package was a cylinder of safety fuse lying in contact with both the powder and several matches.
The risk of the powder being set off by the slightest accident was great, and the cartridges were packed inside the box, evidently to make the discharge more dangerous.

Throughout the machine there was a coil of safety fuse to insure the flash of any one of the matches reaching the powder. The whole mechanism was enclosed under a newspaper wrapping of mail street quotations.

Mr. Schiff was one of the delegation which recently visited M. Witte, the Russian envoy at Portsmouth in the interest of the Jews in Russia.

His first sent to Jacob H. Schiff was received through the mail today at the office of M. Guggenheim's Sons, at No.
7 Broadway. The contents were nearly the same as those of the Schiff package, as the address was made of infected letters cut from a newspaper.
After standing there a short time in water, it was a light explosion due, it is thought, to gases generating in the box.

In addition to the contents of the Schiff box, that received at the Guggenheim office contained a small glass vial in which was some liquid, thought to be either nitroglycerine or olive oil.

RUSSIAN EMPEROR ISSUES MANIFESTO.

Czar Announces the Grant to the People of a National Consultative Assembly.

TO BE READ IN THE CHURCHES.

Today Document is to be Given to the People Simultaneously All Over The Empire.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 18.—Emperor Nicholas has today announced the grant to the people of Russia of a national consultative assembly to be formed by elected representatives from the whole of Russia. The imperial manifesto, which is published simultaneously here and at Moscow, and which will be read in all the churches of the empire, is dated at Peterhof today and is as follows:

"The empire of Russia is formed and strengthened by the indissoluble solidarity of the emperor with the people and of the people with the emperor.
This concord of emperor and people is the great moral force which has created Russia in the course of centuries by protecting her from all misfortunes and all attacks, and has constituted up to the present time a pledge of unity, independence, integrity, material well-being and intellectual development.

MANIFESTO OF 1905.

"In our manifesto of Feb. 21, 1905, we called to a close understanding all the faithful sons of the fatherland in order to protect the organization of the state by establishing on a firm basis the domestic life of the empire and then we devoted ourselves to the task of co-ordinating elective public institutions with governmental authorities and of removing the disagreements existing between them which had reacted so disastrously on the normal course of our national life.

"The autocratic emperors, our ancestors, constantly had that object in view and the thing has come to follow out the good intentions and to summon elected representatives from the whole of Russia to take constant and active part in the elaboration of the laws, thereby attaching to the higher state institutions a special consultative body entrusted with the preliminary elaboration and discussion of measures and with the examination of the state budget.

"It is for this reason that, while preserving the fundamental law regarding the autocratic power, we have decided to call to form a consultative assembly (lower house of the assembly) and to approve the regulations for elections to this assembly, extending the validity of these laws to the whole territory of the empire with such exceptions only as may be considered necessary in the case of some regions in which special conditions obtain.

"We expect the participation in the labors of the gosudarstvennaya duma of delegates from the grand duchy of Finland on questions concerning the empire in general and the grand duchy in particular, we will take special measures.

"At the same time we have ordered the minister of the interior to submit immediately for our approbation regulations to the duma, so that deputies from city governments and from the military province of the Don may be able to take part in the assembly not later than the middle of January, 1906.

POWER RESERVED.

"We reserve to ourselves entirely the care of perfecting the organization of the gosudarstvennaya duma, and when the course of events shall have shown the necessity for changes corresponding completely to the needs of the times and the welfare of the empire, we shall not fail to give at the proper moment the necessary directions.

"We are convinced that those who shall have been elected by the confidence of the whole people and who will thus be called upon to participate in the legislative work of the government will show themselves in the eyes of all Russia to be worthy of the imperial trust in the virtue of which they have been invited to co-operate in this great work and that in perfect harmony with other institutions and authorities of the state established by us, they will contribute profitably and zealously to the labors for the welfare of our common mother, Russia, and for the strengthening of the unity, the security and the greatness of the empire, as well as for the tranquility and prosperity of the people.

"In invoking the blessing of the Lord on the labors of the institutions established by us and with unshakable confidence in the grace of God Almighty and in the infallibility of the great historical destinies reserved by divine providence for our beloved fatherland, we firmly hope that, with the blessing of God Almighty and with the combined efforts of all her sons, Russia will emerge triumphantly from the trying ordeals through which she is now passing and will be born again, the strength, the greatness and the glory of her history, extending through a thousand years.

"Given at Peterhof this nineteenth day of August, in the year of grace 1905, and the eleventh year of our reign."

JOHN W. YOUNG SUES FOR AN ACCOUNTING

New York, Aug. 18.—An action was brought in the United States court in this city today by John W. Young, promoter of the former United States Shippingbuilding company, demanding of the Mercantile Trust company of this city an accounting of securities of the shippingbuilding company, amounting to $60,000,000. Mr. Young alleges in his complaint that the trust company held those securities as trustee subject to his orders. He declares that he deposited them in June, 1902, in the form of stocks and bonds, and that the trust company was to distribute them in payment for the stock of great shipbuilding plants which were to be comprised in the United States Shippingbuilding company. All the undistributed securities, Mr. Young alleges, were to be held in trust for him. The distribution was made among the owners of the various properties, he declares, but he has been unable to discover what amount remains subject to his order. He avers also that the stock was wrongfully distributed.

Fiendish Suffering is often caused by sores, ulcers and cancers, that eat away your skin. Wm.
Bedell, of Flat Rock, Mich., says: "I have used Bucklen's Arnica Salve, for Ulcers, Sores and Cancers. It is the best healing dressing I ever found."

scalds. 25c at Z. C. M. L. Drug Dept.

THE TEMPERANCE CAUSE.

The matter in this column is edited and prepared by ladies of Ogden interested in temperance work.

William E. Curtis, the correspondent for the Chicago Record-Herald, has been in Texas and found reform sentiment very much alive. He writes:

"The temperance question is the only live issue in Texas politics, and that has stirred up the state from top to bottom, especially the Democratic party.

"Nearly 70 per cent of the counties have gone dry and where the prohibitionists have failed to gain control they are still working with unprecedented zeal. On the issue they can call an election at any time. If they do not win this month they can demand another chance two or three months hence."

"There is also an active crusade against gambling. Every city in Texas was wide-open until a short time ago, but nowadays gamblers have to be very quiet and discreet. In several of the largest cities the law prohibiting card playing and games of chance is being strictly enforced, and the professional gamblers have closed their dens and cleared out. In Houston, for example, which recently had more gambling dens than any other city in Texas, you cannot now find a place where you can play a game of cards. I am told that the reform has been so thorough that there are not more than ten or fifteen public gambling houses in all Texas, where there were hundreds five years ago."

"What a grand day that will be when the above can be the report of the state of Utah."

In the year 1900 the beer consumption of Germany was 175 gallons per capita. In America, 132. Some theorists claim that beer consumption lessens the use of distilled liquors. On the contrary, we discover that the Germans demand 1.5 gallons of spirits per capita to the 1.1 consumed in America. In France "one of those wine-producing countries" where travelers assure us "there is no drunkenness," there were consumed 25.1 gallons of wine per capita, and more spirits than in Germany, nearly twice as much as in the United States.

A local option election was held a short time ago in an eastern state.
Two men traveled eighty miles to deposit their ballots. They had convictions on the duties and privileges of citizenship. They both voted against the saloons, and no-license carried by two votes in the town.

The saloon business never takes a vacation. Summer and winter are alike to the traffic of souls.

Hon. Joseph W. Folk, governor of Maine, recently said in a public address:

"There is an old tale of a king who caused a magnificent palace to be erected as the abode of his majesty and power. Stone by stone the structure grew and the heart of the king swelled with pride. One morning the structure was found to be ruins, hardly one stone stood upon another. 'What great reason has been committed here?" cried the king, and a price was set up on the head of the one who had destroyed the abode of his majesty. But a wise man of the court said: 'Great master, there was no treason. Just thy house, which was great and mighty, has fallen down because the builders used mortar without sand so the work which they did has come to naught.'

"So with a state, if we ignore the morality and law that give life to a state. We may be crowned by wealth as the sands of the sea, the dunes of our capitals and the spires of our church may tower to the skies, yet all will fall unless the state be held together by the most principled citizenship, the foundations of an enlightened citizenship."

May it soon come to pass that all governors of all states will compel the enforcement of the laws upon the status, which speak for honor and morality.

House Cleaning Week AT WALKER'S STORE

THIS IS HOUSE-CLEANING Week, and we have got to "go some" to get rid of the quantities of goods accumulated from the Summer business. Greater than ever before has been the magnitude of the business done by this great store, and consequently, greater are the quantities of odds and ends of seasonable merchandise left to clean up. Although the selling season is practically over, still there are at least two months of hot weather left, and you will need fresh things to carry you through. This great house-cleaning gives you an opportunity to replenish your summer wardrobe at a very small outlay. Read some of the price concessions—many more to be found at the store—many Factory Lots and Mill Ends to close, and the reductions in all cases will be unbelievable.
