

COUNSEL IN THE SHEETS CASE.

City Counsel Votes the Sum of $200 For this Purpose.

CAUSED SOME DISCUSSION.

After Disposing of This and Other Matters, adjourned to Wednesday Night.

Pursuant to a request from Attorney-General Breeden, the majority of the city council last night voted to appropriate $200 to secure counsel to assist and co-operate with the attorney-general in the prosecution of the quo warranto proceedings instituted against George A. Sheets to compel him to show by what authority he is holding the office of chief of police. A resolution to that effect was introduced by Councilman Tuddenham, and, after considerable discussion, was passed by a vote of 15 to 5. The anti-Sheets men voted in favor of the resolution, and the Sheets contingent voted against it. There were two absentees, A. J. Davis and Hewitt.

FERNSTROM FAVORS IT.

Fernstrom argued that the council should employ counsel to assist Major Breeden because his reputation was at stake in this matter, and if he tried it alone and was defeated, people would say that the whole proposition was a put-up job. He said that the majority of the council was placed in a bad position by reason of the fact that the city attorney, who had arrayed himself against the majority, and was lined up on the part of that official, he argued, was not right, as it is the duty of the city attorney to stand by the council. If the attorney-general should have some assistance in this case, he said, there could then be no cloud of suspicion upon him, no matter what the outcome would be.

PRESIDENT COTTRELL'S VIEWS.

President Cottrell then took the floor and read the communication received by him from Attorney-General Breeden requesting that additional counsel be employed by the city council. He stated that he thought that the attorney-general was not perfectly able and competent to prosecute the case, but because it had been rumored that he had expressed the opinion that the council was not competent to handle the case, he thought that it was better to remove any cloud of suspicion by employing additional counsel to co-operate with the attorney-general. He also argued that an important rule of the city council is that the council should have an attorney in the matter.

DAVELER AGAINST IT.

Daveler said he was not in favor of spending the taxpayers' money to prosecute an action in court which he considered merely a personal one. He said that he would not vote to spend a cent to secure a decision in a matter which he believed to be perfectly legal. Sharp was opposed to the resolution, and Daveler said that he would not support it because he believed that the resolution was a waste of money. He said that the city council was perfectly capable of attending to the matter.

RESOLUTION CARRIES.

A vote was then taken which resulted as given above. The council then took a recess until Thursday evening at 7:45 o'clock, after which it proceeded in a body to take in the Baker-Attell prize fight.

MORE PAVING.

The Deseret Savings bank and a number of other property owners presented a petition asking that First South street be paved from State to Second East street. The frontage on the block is 1,329 feet and the signers of the petition represent a frontage of 214 feet, or 23.3 per cent of the entire frontage. The petition was referred to the committee on streets.

BIDS FOR GREENHOUSE.

The board of public works submitted without recommendation a bid for the construction of the Liberty park greenhouse as follows: Lord & Burnham, $8,000; Hitchings & Co., $7,992; Salt Lake Building and Manufacturing company, $7,993; and A. L. Hamlin, $7,995. The bids were referred to the public grounds and finance committees for consideration.

CONTRACT FOR CROSSINGS.

The contract for furnishing and setting flagstone sidewalk pavements on State street at its intersection with First South and Commercial avenues, which was awarded by the board of public works to the Union Lime & Stone company, at 41 1/2 cents per square foot, was approved by the council.

MUST SHOW CAUSE.

Upon recommendation of the police and prison committee the council instructed the city recorder to notify Fritz Springman and Peter Vincelli to appear before the council on Monday night, April 27, and show cause why their licenses should not be revoked for violating the Sunday liquor ordinance.

WARD ENTERTAINMENTS.

A grand fair will be given in the Twenty-fifth ward meetinghouse, Eighth street, between Fourth and Fifth South streets, on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, April 22, 23 and 24. There will be beautifully decorated booths, a fish pond and a good supply of refreshments, together with an excellent program of songs, recitations and musical selections, a laughable one-act drama entitled, "The Photographer," and a one-act farce, "Courtship Under Difficulties." Doors open at 7 o'clock each evening.

THE LADIES OF THE ELEVENTH WARD.

The ladies of the Eleventh Ward Relief society will regale the old folks of the ward with a grand dinner on Thursday next at 2 o'clock. All residents of that district over 60 years of age are invited, irrespective of color, creed or social position. After the repast a very interesting and appropriate program of recitations, songs, remarks, etc., will be carried out. In the evening, commencing at 8, the ladies will give a ball, to which all are invited. They have secured the finest orchestra in the city, and who attend are assured a pleasant time. Both events will be held in the Eleventh ward assembly hall.

PROTECTION FOR NEEDY CHILDREN

Home Finding Association Files Articles of Incorporation.

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS.

Association Will Do Everything to Preserve on a Charitable and Non-Sectarian Basis, a Home Life.

The Home Finding association, having for its object the care and protection of needy children, filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state today. Its officers, as elected at a meeting held in this city yesterday, are: Rev. Richard Wake, president; Rev. Frank Barnett, first vice president; Rev. P. A. Simpkin, second vice president; Dr. E. V. Silver, third vice president; Mrs. E. E. Sheppard, secretary; H. W. Lawrence, treasurer.

Held Preliminary Meeting Late Yesterday Afternoon.

The object of the association, as stated in the articles of incorporation, is to protect children from cruelty and provide for the comfort and control of neglected and dependent children. It is proposed to maintain one or more institutions, or receiving homes, throughout the state for the temporary control of such children as may come under the supervision of the association. The association also proposes to secure family homes for the children and to look after and protect their interests in such places. By this arrangement the association desires to aid the state, city and county officials in carrying out the laws for the protection and disposition of neglected or ill-treated children.

Efforts will be made to aid worthy parents who have a number of promising children. It is said to be frequently the case that such parents are already overburdened by the care of their children, and the association will assist such parents in securing more desirable and wholesome quarters in which to reside.

The association will do everything to preserve on a charitable and non-sectarian basis, a home life. But in the case of unfortunate parents, who for any reason, are unable to raise their children as they should be raised and who desire to give them up to the association for the purpose of securing suitable homes where it seems advisable, this association will assume temporary care of such children and will make efforts to furnish places for such children in suitable homes, either by adoption or by apprenticeship.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

The Easter season opened brilliantly yesterday in a number of delightful entertainments, among them being a large dinner given by Mrs. George P. Holman. The rooms were beautifully decorated with a profusion of roses and spring flowers, and the hostess was assisted by a number of her friends, the affair being a most enjoyable one.

Mrs. Charles Vaden was one of the hostesses of yesterday, the function being a luncheon with the Easter idea carried out in lilacs and in other details. Covers were laid for 12, the guests occupying their places by guessing conundrums.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Newman arrived yesterday, and will be the guests, during the week, of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Spencer.

The Utah State Kindergarten association has issued invitations to a reception in honor of Mrs. Ella Wheeler Wilcox to be given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richards on Friday evening of this week.

The Cleofan met today with Mrs. Selden Clawson.

Tomorrow will witness a number of weddings, including some well known and popular young couples.

Mrs. J. F. Grant and Miss Grant have returned from Denver.

Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Ewing left today for Chicago and New Orleans, and expect to be absent a month.

CALLED DOWN KITCHENER.

Lord Kitchener is celebrated for his stern and exacting manner and his subordinates are apt to shake in their boots when "K. of K." comes along inspecting their work. But on one occasion even the redoubtable conqueror of the Sudan met his match and proved the fine quality of his nature by acknowledging the fact that it was in the days when the railway was being driven across the desert to Khartoum. A young Canadian officer of engineers was in charge of the work, which was progressing satisfactorily, when one morning the sirdar (as Kitchener then was) appeared on the scene and expressed his disapproval of certain features of the work with his usual scathing brevity. The young officer listened until his chief had finished and then quietly inquired, "Am I bawling this railway, sir, or are you?" Kitchener looked at him, recognized the breed as one after his own heart, nodded approval and went away.—London Tatler.

WHY MOTHERS WORRY

Did you ever hear a mother worry over a plump child? There is no better bank of health for a child to draw from than a good supply of healthy flesh. Scott's Emulsion not only gives a child weight and plumpness, but it feeds the brain, bones and nerves with strength and active power. Fewer mothers would worry if they knew more about Scott's Emulsion.

CITY TEACHERS WILL ORGANIZE.

Held Preliminary Meeting Late Yesterday Afternoon.

A large number of teachers attended the meeting at the West side high school yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock and perfected the organization of the Salt Lake City Public School Teachers' association. The association adopted its constitution and by-laws at the meeting yesterday and a special meeting will be held in the high school on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock to elect officers. The constitution will take such steps as are considered necessary to keep the schools open the full term of nine months in the future so that they may be insured employment for that length of time. It is thought that no action will be taken by the organization to prolong the term this year, but an effort will be made to prevent a shortening of the term in years to come.

Will Elect Officers Thursday Afternoon—Schools Must Be Kept Open in Future.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. K. B. Parsons, and the committee on permanent organization submitted its report. The constitution and by-laws were thoroughly discussed and one important change made in them, namely, principals and superintendents were excluded from membership in the association. A large majority of those present were of the opinion that the association should be composed of teachers alone as the principals and superintendents already organized. It was also thought that two organizations working in harmony would be more effective in their work than one.

The association fixed its initiation fee at 25 cents and the annual dues at 50 cents. There will be three regular meetings each year, the dates to be fixed by the executive committee, and special meetings may be called by the president upon request of 10 members. A quorum shall consist of 50 members. After the teachers attach their signatures to the constitution and the original membership has been determined, the committee on nominations will prepare two tickets of officers to be voted for at the meeting on Thursday afternoon.

FORBIDE THE BANNS.

Count Boniface de Castellane, on his recent arrival in America, was not much pleased with the rumor that he and his wife were on "banns." "You are unreasonable persons, you Americans," he said, in New York, to a reporter. "You say things without reason, without ground. You are like an aged French peasant I have heard about."

HE SMILED FAINTLY, AND RESUMED:

"This peasant, a bachelor, attended the wedding ceremony of a blooming girl of 18. She was to marry a hulking lad of 20. Our old, decrepit bachelor looked like a dried nut beside these young lovers."

"But he arose, when the priest asked if there was anyone present who forbade the banns, and shouted: 'I do, I forbid them!'"

"Why, Gustave?" said the priest mildly.

"Because, father, I had reserved this young girl for myself," said the old fellow.

LAUGHED AT THE FUNERAL.

"Did you ever laugh at a funeral?" said Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island. "I did once."

"It was the funeral of an old-time acquaintance of mine, and the minister who made the opening address was a stent-minded. He got up in the pulpit, began to speak with eloquence, and then stammered a little, floundered a little. You see, the corpse had been in life a stranger to him, and he had never forgotten it."

"Our deceased, our deceased—brother or sister," he said, and then went on and spoke with great feeling about the virtues of the deceased, calling it always "brother or sister." Finally, pausing a moment to take a sip of water, I heard him say to the aged deacon who sat in the pulpit:

"The corpse, which is it, a brother or a sister?"

"The deacon was very old and slow of wit. He answered in a loud whisper: 'Neither. Only an acquaintance.'"

"Here," Senator Aldrich ended, "I laughed."

A WASTE OF IRISHMEN.

Capt. Louis Wendel of the First battery, who got back from England last Tuesday, has a high opinion of the British soldiers, especially the Irishmen. "When I visited the Tower of London," he said yesterday, "the First battalion of Irish guards were stationed there. They were cokers, and knew their business to a dot. They ought to be all on the police force in New York, however, instead of at the rusty-looking mass of stone, bricks and mortar comprising the tower."

"These Irish and I got along fine, I can tell you, especially when they found out I was from New York and commanded the First battery. They fairly tumbled me with kindness and offered me the whole tower."

"Other military and some high police officials I met also treated me finely. At Woolwich there are several batteries of the Royal field artillery and the great arsenal. Being an artilleryman myself, I was, of course, interested in Royal field artillery, and they certainly know how to drill. If the state would buy the same grade of horses for the First battery, however, I should not be afraid of drilling my battery against them.—New York Sun."

BOXERS CAVE POOR EXHIBITION

Baker-Attell Contest Lasted Nine Rounds—Was a Tame Affair.

LATTER WAS KNOCKED OUT

In the Ninth Baker Landed a Right Upper Cut to the Point of The Chin.

One of the weakest exhibitions of the many art ever seen in this city was that between George Baker and Caesar Attell at the Salt Lake Athletic club last night in the presence of a fair sized crowd. The one redeeming feature about the mill is that it was on the square, each man doing the best he could, which was not much. Both men appeared to be suffering from stage fright, and their swinging was as wild as broken windmills. Attell rushed matters at first and Baker continually broke ground, when he tried to open up on little Abe's brother, Attell would assume a crouch and Baker would smite him on the spine. Baker did no leading until the third round, when he used his left to jab Attell several times in the face but failed to follow up the advantages he gained. Attell swung frantically, usually missing Baker about a mile, but the latter seemed unable to stop the rushes. In the seventh round he managed to land a couple of right body punches but Attell paid no attention to them. In the ninth round Attell rushed at Baker but he landed instead of dancing away as he had done before, a right upper cut through Attell's guard, landing squarely on the point of the chin and the little Jew went down and out. The knockout was on the square. The referee and those who were in Attell's corner unanimously declared that he was fairly knocked out. After counting off the ten seconds, Referee Donaldson picked up the dazed Attell and steered him to his corner. While the bout was one of the poorest ever seen in Salt Lake, the crowd was convinced that both men were sincere and there was no cry of fake, except from one man, who does that from sheer force of habit.

Due to the fact that Jerry McCarthy has injured his hand, he did not go on with Jack Ryan as a preliminary. The only event prior to the main bout was between Jack Christie and Bert McDonald. Christie played his old-time cleverness with his hands left and his clever blocking and ducking.

Baker and Attell leave the city tonight, the former goes to Seattle and the latter to San Francisco.

There Were Several Surprises at Oakland Yesterday.

San Francisco, April 13.—There were several surprises at Oakland today, but the real upset occurred in the mile race, for which Organdie was a pronounced favorite, going to the post at 1 to 2. ## OVERTAXED.

Hundreds of Salt Lake City Know What It Means.

The kidneys are overtaxed:

Have too much to do. They tell about it in many aches and pains—Backache, sideache, headache. Early symptoms of kidney illness. Urinary troubles, diabetes, Bright's disease follow.

A Salt Lake City citizen tells here a certain cure.

Mrs. Sarah Beatty, of 1361 West 4th South, says: "I have had attacks of backache for two years. For a week at a time I have been almost wild with pain just across the loins. When a person cannot bend, lift or turn, they are helpless and naturally ardently long for some means to give even the slightest relief. A friend of mine who had obtained Doan's Kidney Pills at the F. J. Hill Drug Co.'s drug store told me they had brought her undoubted benefit and insisted upon my trying them. Following her advice I got a box and took a few doses. They helped. A continuation of the treatment for some time, much to my surprise, and considerably to my gratification, stopped the last attack. Should others recur I now know what to use to get relief."

Sold for 50 cents per box by all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

Postponed the Race.

Weymouth, April 13.—The Shamrock's spinnaker boom, which was carried away by a steam yacht which fouled the old cup challenger during the race with Shamrock III off here Saturday, has been spliced, but it has been decided to postpone further contests under actual racing conditions until a new spar can be fitted.

The two yachts left their anchorage about 11 o'clock this morning to start a trial race, but the wind was harder and more squally than anything the challenger had previously experienced. The boats staggered under their lower canvas alone. Outside the water conditions were worse and after a consultation it was decided to abandon the trial, owing to the risk of carrying away the yacht's spars.

L. D. S. U. GIRLS MAY PLAY INDIANS

President Paul Says they Are Willing to Take a Chance.

ARRANGEMENTS UNDER WAY

If the Fort Shaw Team Comes, Ogden Mutes Will Also Play—Would Be Good Game.

The challenge of the Fort Shaw Indian girls basket ball team to the L. D. S. U. girls team has been received by the latter and the proposition is now under consideration. The communication from the Montana team, as published in Saturday's "News," has been turned over to President Paul and that gentleman said the local team would play the Indians if suitable arrangements could be made. President Paul will answer Superintendent Campbell's communication, and it is very likely that the team will come here. It has been suggested that the Ogden mutes also play the Indians, and if the latter makes the trip, a contest between the two teams will be part of the program.

The Fort Shaw team has an undisputed claim to the championship of Montana, and according to their record the local teams would have to go some to beat them. A contest of this kind would attract a great deal of interest and doubtless would be well attended.

AMUSEMENTS.

Al G. Field's minstrel company comes back this year bigger, brighter and fuller of variety than ever it was before. Indeed, in the matter of singing features, most other shows that travel must take off their hats to the Field aggregation. A fair house below, and a larned one above, assembled at the Theater last night to bid the company welcome, and from the plaudits that shook the building, it is safe to say no one went away dissatisfied. The stage dressing and the electric display of the first part were new and novel, while the music, and men's "gags," dancing, etc., were all away from the old stereotyped form of minstrel performances. Especially charming was the chorus work, and the solos of Blampkin, Dickson, Keels and Frosner were excellent. The dancing feats were good, and the gyrations of Quigley were laughable. The bell ringer and the musical barbers were specially clever, while Mr. Field himself, convulsed the house with his yarns. Tom Donnelly and the other comedians were also warmly received, while the Faust family of acrobats are among the most wonderful things in their line ever seen here. The same bill goes for tonight only, and it is well worth seeing.

Lewis Morrison's "Faust," minus Morrison himself, was seen at the Grand theater last night. A wreck on the road and a belated train made it very late when the curtain went up and long after midnight when the performance concluded. Nevertheless it was a pretty well pleased audience that wended its way homeward in the small hours of the morning. George S. Tribble made a very fair Mephisto, and Miss Marie Winslow a better Marguerite than many that have been seen here in other days. The electrical effects were fully up to the standard. The engagement will close tomorrow night, the usual Wednesday matinee being given.

Grip Remedies in Great Demand. When colds and grip are prevalent the quickest and surest remedies are in great demand. Mr. Joseph
