

BIG GAME OF THE SEASON TODAY

Aggies From Colorado and University of Utah Teams Meet.

HARD STRUGGLE EXPECTED.

Record of Each Team Indicates What the Battle Will Be—Game On U. of U. Campus.

On the University campus, beginning at 2:30 this afternoon, one of the fiercest gridiron battles in the history of the game in this state is on between the Aggies of Colorado and the University of Utah. Both teams are top notchers, and lovers of the game are sure to get their money's worth before the struggle is ended. Great preparation has been made for the contest and the locale will put up the fight of their lives to carry off the honors. The team is in perfect shape to meet the Aggies, and the visitors expect to win. The visiting team has just won one game this season, and that to the Boulder team, the score being 11 to 6. They reached Salt Lake this evening, a little ahead of time as they were not looked for until this morning. They appear to be a very strong combination, strong and quick in action. If anything the locals have an advantage in weight but it is considered that the Coloradoans have had more experience. The team is quartered at the Kenyon, where it will remain until Monday morning, when the main team goes to Logan to meet the Agricultural College. The party includes players, Coach Griffen, Manager Maxfield and substitutes. The boys made the trip all right and every man is feeling as he should on the eve of a hard struggle.

The "Varsity" boys and the team's roots are enthusiastic almost to insanity over the prospects and they feel sure the Utah boys will win the contest. Manager Riser is quoted as saying that his team has practiced his team faithfully for the game and does not see how it is possible to be defeated. The kick off will take place at exactly 2:30 p. m.

Following is a record of the two teams:

Aggies: University of Utah, 23; Ogden High school, 15; University of Utah, 41; Salt Lake High school, 6; Fort Douglas Agricultural College, 21; East Denver High school, 9; Agricultural College, 16; Manual Training school, 6; Boulder University, 11.

HIGH SCHOOLS MEET.

Salt Lake and Ogden Teams at Walker's Field.

At Walker's field this afternoon the Ogden and Salt Lake high school teams are playing their second game of the season. The kick off takes place at 3:30. The Ogden team, accompanied by a crowd of rooters, came down this morning all feeling well and confident of victory. The locals are in fine condition and declare they will run up a larger score than they did in the first game. Both teams have made great improvement since they met at Ogden and a lively struggle is looked for.

ATEL AFTER M'FADDEN.

Abel Said He Would Tackle the Kid But Nothing Came of It.

About six weeks ago when Abel Attel passed through Salt Lake en route to San Francisco he stated positively that he would immediately try to arrange a fight with Kid McFadden before returning to the east. So far, however, there seems to be nothing doing in regard to the Attel-McFadden bout. The latter tackles a little fellow named Hamilton before long. Abel might agree to meet the winner of the bout. Alexander Gragg has been unable to secure a match for his club for Oct. 31. A fight between Attel and McFadden would prove quite a card. The San Francisco public have not as yet seen Abel extend himself, and when they do they will see the finest fighter in the business. Attel has written that unless he secures a battle on the coast before long he will return east, where fights are plenty and money easy. Just at present Gragg seems to be the place to fight. The distance is only six rounds and the clubs are all drawing water for the fight as if the talk of a bout between Young Corbett and Attel will not materialize.

OUTSIDE EVENTS.

ON THE RACE TRACK.

Dan Patch Tries for Record and Again Fails.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 24.—Dan Patch failed in his attempt to lower the world's mark of 1:59.4, at the trotting track this afternoon. The champion got away after scoring, accompanied by a runner, and stepped into the first quarter in 2:24. Up the back stretch he moved like a machine, and the half was passed in 5:45. A shout of approval went up from the big crowd, and the next quarter was watched with anxious interest.

The time, 1:30, was disappointing. Turning into the stretch McHenry tried to pace on, but Dan Patch tried to keep the wire, and the wire was reached in 2:01 flat. It was said that the condition of the track on the back stretch was not satisfactory, and Dan Patch will probably make another effort to reduce the record next week.

The De Soto, 3-year-olds, purse $2,000—Hall Hamilton won two straight heats in 2:12.4, 2:11.4. John Mc, Elvie and Buggy also started.

The Gayoso, 2:12 trot, purse $2,000—Walnut Hall won the first and fourth heats in 2:09, 2:11.4. Miss Whitney won the second heat in 2:07.4. Chase won the first heat in 2:09.4. Van Zandt and Aggie Medium also started.

The Bluff City, 2-year-olds, purse $2,000—Hilar beat Fanny Summers in two straight heats. Time—2:23.4, 2:16.4.

2:30 trot to wagon, amateur drivers—Ida Higwood won the second and third heats in 2:10.4, 2:13. Louise Jefferson won the first heat in 2:10. Mabel Onward also started.

2:30 pacing to wagon, amateur drivers—Edna Fields defeated Joseph in two straight heats. Time—2:17.4, 2:13.4.

Dan Patch to beat world's pacing record of 1:59.4 (McHenry). Time—2:29.4, 1:59.4, 1:30, 2:01.

Doings at Boise City.

Boise, Ida., Oct. 24.—The track at the Intervale Fair grounds was again heavy today scoring. Following are the results of the day's race events:

First race, roadsters, mile heats, two heat in three, purse $150—Bessie Walke won, 2:16 second, Argot third. Time—1:56 and 2:52.

Second race, trot or pace, three in two, purse $100—Aveline won, Nigger

If Your Friend is Sick.

Let Me Know It.

As an act of humanity, tell me a friend who needs help. That is all—just a postal card—just the cost of a penny. Tell me the book to send.

Then I will do this:—I will mail the sick one an order—good at any drug store—for six bottles Dr. Shoop's Restorative. He may take it a month to learn what it will do. If it succeeds, the cost is $5.50. If it fails, I will pay the drug-gist myself. And the sick one's mere word shall decide it. I do that so that those who need help will accept it.

I have what those sick ones must have to get well, and I want my offer so fair that no sick one can neglect it. You may think it too fair to be possible, but I do just as I say.

I have furnished my Restorative to hundreds of thousands in this way, and 30 out of each 40 have paid gladly, because they were cured. I willingly pay for the rest, which is a remarkable remedy that makes such an offer possible, and I have spent my lifetime on it. It is my discovery, and the only known treatment that strengthens the inside nerves.

The common way is to doctor the organ that is weak, but that way brings at best but temporary results. My way is to bring back the nerve power which alone operates every vital organ. I give to each organ the power to do its duty, and there is no other way to make weak organs well.

I fail only where organic trouble—like cancer—makes a cure impossible. Such cases are rare. My book will convince you, for it is clear. Almost any sick one who reads it will know that he can get well.

Simply state which book is wanted and address Dr. Shoop, Box 714, Madison, Wis.

Mild cases, not chronic, are often cured by one or two bottles. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is sold by all druggists.

Boy second, Harado third. Time—2:32, 2:29 and 2:39.4.

Third race, trot or pace, three in five, purse $400—Julia A one heat, MacMac second. Two heats postponed on account of the weather.

Fourth race, half mile, selling, purse $150—Galloula won, You second, Argot third. Time—1:44.4.

Fifth race, running, six furlongs, purse $150—Rubina won, Almoner second, Mr. Robinson third. Time—1:19.4.

Shooters at Idaho Falls.

Idaho Falls, Ida., Oct. 23.—The members of the Idaho Falls Gun club are getting in trim for the tournament to be held Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Following is a detailed score of some of the cracks who are going after the money:

Declared a Draw.

New Britain, Conn., Oct. 24.—Art Sims and Willie Fitzgerald gave one of the best boxing exhibitions ever seen in this city when they fought 20 rounds to a draw last night. The men weighed in at the ringside at 135 pounds. In the early rounds Fitzgerald showed up better than his opponent, but after the tenth round Sims braced up and finished strong.

$1,000 Match Race.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 24.—A match race for $10,000 a side was arranged here tonight between the paces, Sir Albert S. 2:03.4, and Prince Alva 2:03.4. The distance was a dash of half a mile, only one heat to be contested. E. E. Smathers of New York and Mart Demerest took the Prince Alva end, while Millard Sanders of California put up the Sir Albert S. The race will be decided on Monday afternoon next.

Eight Golfers Met.

Morristown, N. J., Oct. 24.—Eight of the best golfers in the country, for each has a record from clubs and national tournaments, played today the Morris Country Club in a round robin in the second match play round of the individual championship of the Intercollegiate Golf association. Rain began to fall as the first pair turned for home at the tenth tee.

Edgar Egan of Harvard won from L. H. Conklin of Princeton by one up. The former had been three up with four to play, but the Princetonian made a great fight at the finish. The medal score of each was 88.

H. B. Hollins of Harvard beat J. W.

A LITTLE ACCIDENT

Saved a Lot of Money.

Food that will safely and surely carry a man through exhausting mental work is worth knowing of.

A man in St. Louis, Mo., says: "In my work, it is necessary to begin at seven o'clock and work straight through without lunch until noon. You can read easily that this is a strain on the ordinary person, and I was frequently worn out and sick with hunger and weakness. On numerous occasions when two o'clock came round, I was so utterly exhausted and unstrung as to be forced to lose the remainder of the day, and that carried with it a loss of money.

The first package of Grape-Nuts came into our house a little over a year ago by accident. There has been one by design ever since that time. Almost immediately after beginning to use Grape-Nuts, I felt its good effect in my ability to work through long hours, even after a long day's work. In my business, it is also necessary to work every Wednesday night of each week. The change from day to night work and then back again is certainly no light call on the reserve force of any one, and my invariable preparation for this task is a generous saucer of Grape-Nuts and cream, a light lunch but a most sustaining one.

An old friend was visiting me recently, and while eating the evening meal, I was extolling Grape-Nuts to him. He rather doubted the deliciousness of the food. My three children, aged four, six and eight years, were at the time watching a large cream cake on the table, and enjoying in anticipation the treat. I asked the three which they would prefer for dessert—cream cake or Grape-Nuts. Without hesitation, they answered in chorus, "Grape-Nuts." My friend was convinced.

The only breakfast the children have is Grape-Nuts and rich milk, and you could not find a more healthy trio.

Name Grape-Nuts by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Baker of Princeton, four up and two to play. The Harvard man was in the lead from the first hole, and could have put his score several strokes had he been pushed. The medal score was: Hollins, 75; Baker, 77, the bye holes not being played.

H. B. McFarland of Princeton beat Percy Pyne, J. L. Princeton, two up and one to play. The Philadelphia played a great game, and fully deserved his honors. The medal score was: McFarland, 80; Pyne, 85. Pyne's last hole was approximated.

H. Chandler Egan easily beat Campbell, seven up, six to go. The medal score for the 12 holes was: Egan, 52; Campbell, 19.

MEMPHIS MANAGER FIRED.

Meeting of the National Association at New York.

New York, Oct. 24.—The National Association of Baseball Leagues today expelled Charles Frank, manager of the Memphis baseball club. It was resolved that J. H. St. Vrain, pitcher of the Tacoma club, for his action in refusing to abide by the mandates of the national board and in permitting himself to be used by Charles Frank, be penalized in the sum of $100 and stand suspended until the fine shall be paid.

The Memphis Park association and Manager J. J. McCloskey, late of the Tacoma club, were censured for their actions in this case.

As soon as the association in convention passed the expulsion of Frank, a telegram was sent to the officials of the Memphis club informing them that if they did not expel Manager Charles Frank from the club the protection granted to the club under the national agreement would be withdrawn by the association.

The magnates took up the salary and farming questions and discussed them at length. It was finally decided, however, to defer action on these matters until after a report had been made by the national board. The secretary of the National association was instructed that in the event of the sale or purchase of any player, involving the National and American leagues on one side and a club member of the National association on the other, the club making the deal must promptly notify the secretary and he shall promulgate the same in the official bulletin of the association.

Reversed the Decision.

One of the rare occurrences in the prize ring was the reversing of the referee's decision in the fight between Childs and Walker in Chicago last week. It reminds one of a decision given in Cincinnati several years ago. The particulars are as follows:

Two tough knaves from the Fifth ward agreed to a long-standing grudge with bare fists, and a select party of ward politicians were invited to the mill. A well known character about town was chosen referee.

One of the contestants, on the tenth round, however, one of the spectators committed a breach of etiquette by trampling on another's corns and a general row resulted. "Booze" wanted to finish the 10 rounds, when the crowd jumped in the ring he wisely concluded to take his departure, and without any delay jumped over the ropes and, using a chair for a spring-board, leaped out of the window to the ground 10 feet below. After the smoke cleared away "Booze" went to the stakeholder to get the coin. He was informed that the other fellow had taken it. "Booze" protested, and appealed to the referee. "Well, I'll tell you," remarked that distinguished official. "You were to get all the money if you were on your feet at the end of the tenth round. Den you lose. In the last round when he bunch jumped in de ring you went up in de air. Den you get walking over people's heads until you got ter dat window, den you dove out. You landed on your head, and when we picked you up you couldn't stand on your pins. As far as I can see you wasn't on yer feet when de tenth round ended, so you don't get none of de coin."

HOW CORBETT LOST $200.

Not Enough Money in the House but He Went On Just the Same.

Young Corbett, the featherweight champion, has been responsible for Philadelphia that it has received in that city of disappointments in many a day. The modest little champion accomplished this great feat by using a bit of good judgment and also consenting to box for less than was promised to him when he fought Eddie Lenny, the Chester, Pa., featherweight, at the Industrial Athletic club of Philadelphia.

Just before the time arrive for Corbett and Lenny to enter the ring, Billy St. Clair, the matchmaker of the club, went to Corbett's dressing room and calling him aside, said:

"Corbett, there is only about $100 in the house, and I don't see how I can give you any more than $60. If you refuse to fight for this amount it will mean no fight, and the sport will get a black eye in this city such as it never received before."

Corbett, after thinking a moment, replied: "I will fight for that amount, as I think that all fighters should do everything in their power to help the sport, instead of having it killed. While I need the money as badly as any pugilist in the business, I am sure I can afford to lose that $200. The people in that building have paid their good money to see me box and I won't disappoint them by refusing to fight unless I get the extra $200."

Matchmaker St. Clair, all smiles, then handed the $200 to Harry Tutthill and Corbett entered the ring. The fight was a splendid one, and everyone left the building satisfied. If Corbett had declined to fight Lenny unless he got all his money the result would have been the killing of the sport in Philadelphia. The contest, however, came off, and the sport has been revived in that city, thanks to Corbett's generosity and good judgment.

Wright's Reminiscences.

Frank Wright, Harvard, '66, has some interesting reminiscences in last week's Harvard Bulletin. He was a member of the first baseball nine Harvard ever had, which was organized in 1863. Mr. Wright was delegated to arrange for the uniforms for that team, which were to be of gray French flannel, trimmed with crimson and with a crimson "H" embroidered on the breast of the shirt. The seamstress to whom the making of the first shirt was intrusted made the "H" in magenta, instead of crimson, "as magenta was much more fashionable and much prettier than crimson." Mr. Wright was disgusted at first, but the "H" looked well, and the rest of the nine approved of it, and decided to adopt magenta as the baseball color. Thus were the colors of Harvard changed from crimson to magenta.

Jeffries Duck Hunting.

A Los Angeles dispatch has the following about Champion Jeffries:

Champion James Jeffries gave his attention today to former champion James Corbett, who Jeffries calls "the banker," and let it be known he does not regard Corbett's challenge to him as a good business proposition.

"I like a gambling chance even when I have a cinch," said Jeffries. "And I would rather have the winter take all." Jeffries stated, however, that he would meet Corbett at 75 per cent of the best offer which was made by any club; intimated that he thought there was likelihood of the fight coming here, but that San Francisco would probably get it. Jeffries ridiculed the proposal to split the purse, saying the ex-champion probably wants some theatrical advertising. There was nothing to prevent Corbett from backing out at the last moment and going on any old circuit. Jeffries said he was going duck hunting for about three weeks, and would then go on the road himself.

To Send Team Abroad.

New York, Oct. 25.—It has been definitely decided to send an American cricket team to England in the spring. Although the schedule for the team has not yet been completed, it is stated there will be no trouble in securing the desired fixtures.

It is expected that the matches will be arranged with the county teams of England and that the schedule will include Yorkshire, Lancashire, Surrey, Middlesex, Kent, Sussex and Somerset while games will also be played with Oxford and Cambridge universities. The Marleybone C. C. and representative teams in Ireland and Scotland. The committee of the associated cricket clubs of Philadelphia in charge of the selection of the team at meeting last held decided to have the team known as the Gentlemen of Philadelphia. Twenty-five players were selected, to whom a letter was addressed, asking if they can make the trip if selected. The usual team of 12 to 14 will be chosen from those who reply in the affirmative.

POOR WOMAN

LOST HER MONEY

Mrs. Kate Kesler Listens to Clairvoyant's Wealth Making Story.

THE RESULT WAS AS USUAL

Lost Her Own Good Earnings and is Now in Debt Trouble—Means White The Medium Has Gone.

The police are now on the lookout for one Carl M. Roth, a self-proclaimed clairvoyant and trance medium. The fellow has been holding forth in the city for several days, but at the present time his whereabouts is unknown. With him is $450 belonging to Mrs. M. Kesler, a widow.

The story of her loss was related to Detective Gillespie last evening about 5:30 at the police station, and Mrs. Kesler begged piteously that the officer find the man and recover her money.

Mrs. Kesler said that Roth has been conducting his alleged clairvoyancy at 266 South West Temple street. Becoming acquainted with her he induced her to pay him a visit. She did so and Roth told her "many wondrous" things. He gave her correct age, weight, height and complexion. Then he went into a trance. Coming out of the trance he told her that a great calamity was about to befall her, that she was about to lose all her money. In this prediction he knew whereof he spoke. Then he blandly asked her if she had any money and she replied that she had $450 tucked away in a box. He showed her a "magic stone" bearing the imprint of King Solomon's seal. He assured the lady that if the stone came in contact with money the amount would shortly be doubled.

"Bring me your money," said he, "and I will place it in this pocketbook, together with the magic stone. I will then place it under my head and pass it into a trance for the purpose of doubling the spirits of great financiers whose money passed away. I will learn from them the secret of doubling your capital within a week."

The poor deluded woman gave the fellow the money and returned to her home dreaming of wealth and happiness. But she had not been long when her faith began to waver. She returned to the fellow's room and then a terrible discovery was made. The clairvoyant had been gone, and while consulting the spirits, money and

MRS. LOUISE MILLER, Fashionable Dress Designer, 316 Whittingham Block, Salt Lake City.

Mrs. Miller, the well known fashionable dress designer, has been a sufferer from Catarrh and Stomach troubles for a long time. Like hundreds of others she has found relief under Drs. Shores' treatment. Read her story: "I have suffered a long time with a terrible case of Catarrh, which finally affected my stomach, rendering me miserable, and greatly interfering with my business. My stomach went back on me if I ate anything substantial—I would suffer from indigestion, palpitation of the heart and many other distressing symptoms, and my head and nose gave me considerable trouble. Nothing helped me until I went to Drs. Shores, and I must say that these doctors have done wonders for me. To-day I am feeling like myself again, and the relief has been so wonderful that I feel it a duty to other suffering women to say to them, 'Go to Drs. Shores. They certainly understand their business.'"

251 W. Fourth South St., Salt Lake City.

Mrs. Keck says: "I have been a very sick woman for about six years. It is hard to tell in so many words all my symptoms, but sick people who suffered as I did will readily appreciate what I suffered, when I say I gradually grew weaker and weaker each year—had a terrible cough, lost in flesh, until I weighed 25 pounds less than normal, and my nights were ruined by that steady cough, cough, cough."

"I have been under Drs. Shores' care but a short time and already I have improved wonderfully. I don't cough now—and the relief is inestimable. I have gained in weight, and feel better generally—in fact, I don't see how a person could do better than I have done under Drs. Shores' splendid treatment. I heartily endorse the treatment."

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

The Farmers ward and Forest Dale choirs met for conjoint rehearsal last Wednesday evening in the Farmers ward meetinghouse. About 70 singers participated in the practice under the direction of Prof. H. L. McBride. The combined choirs rendered several selections and each organization sang an anthem. During the evening refreshments were served to the visiting choir, and a general social time was enjoyed by all present. Farmers ward choir will visit Forest Dale in the near future.
