THOMAS J. WILLIAMS, 16th Ward, S. L. City. March 25, 1875.

IMPORTANT TO THE TRAVELING PUBLIC.—It is the duty of all persons before starting on a journey to ascertain by what route they can reach their destination with the least trouble, and if there are two or more roads leading to the same point, to decide which is the safest and pleasantest to travel.

We take pleasure in stating, that the CHICAGO & NORTH-WESTERN RAILWAY is the oldest, and several miles the shortest, route between Omaha and Chicago. Within the past two years the road bed has been put in admirable condition, and almost the entire line has been re-laid with steel rails.

The Depot in Chicago is centrally located, and as their trains arrive there thirty minutes in advance of all other lines, passengers can always be sure of making Eastern connections.

Close connections are made at Chicago with the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, Michigan Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, Kankakee Line and Pan Handle Routes, for all points EAST and SOUTH-EAST.

If you are going to Chicago, or East, you should, by all means, purchase your tickets by the Old Pioneer Route.

The Chicago and North-Western. You will find on all through trains Pullman Sleepers, new and magnificent Day Coaches, and the best Smoking and Second Class Cars now on any road in the United States.

Particular information with maps, time tables, etc., may be had at any of the Through Ticket Offices in the West, or upon personal or written application to J. W. Irons, Ticket Agent, Salt Lake City, A. H. Earl, Ticket Agent at Ogden, or to J. H. Mountain, Western Traveling Agent, Omaha, Neb., or to W. H. Stennett, General Passenger Agent, Chicago. d54

PRICE OF GOLD. Corrected daily by Deseret National Bank. SALT LAKE CITY, April 8, 1875. Buying at $1.12 1/2; selling at $1.14 1/2.

EVENING NEWS.

Thursday, April 8, 1875.

Local and Other Matters.

THERMOMETER 39 degrees F. in the shade at 1 p.m. to-day. Dull.

Codling Moth.—All persons interested in the preservation of the fruit crop, and consequently the destruction of the codling moth, are invited to meet at the Old Tabernacle this evening, at 7 o'clock. Remember, not 5 o'clock, as heretofore published, but 7 o'clock.

Interred.—Yesterday the mortal remains of the wife of Elder Arthur Stagner were brought from Farmington to this City, for interment, and placed in their last resting place, in the cemetery. Elder Stagner has the sympathy of a wide circle of friends, in his bereavement.

Varied.—Yesterday farmers were busy plowing up the soil at Pleasant Grove, in Cache County, there being no snow there then, and fine weather overhead. At Springville, in the same county, the snow was six inches deep, and more falling, and the wind was blowing and whistling like fury, as if old Boreas was trying to burst his jaws.

Two Hours Late.—Yesterday the Utah Southern train, from the South, was delayed about two hours, by snow drifts, near the Point of the Mountain. It did not reach the City till half-past seven last evening. A gang of the railroad section hands did splendid work in shoveling out the snow, which, in some places, was waist deep.

Got Pounded.—To-day Mr. Workman, of Farmington, appeared before Justice Pyper and made affidavit that while he was walking in the Ninth Ward last night he saw three men lying across the sidewalk, in that undesirable condition superinduced by imbibing strong stimulative liquids. They were whooping, yelling, and making night hideous on general principles. He said, "Boys, don't you think this is disturbing the peace?" Whereupon one of the three disturbed his peace by seizing him and giving him a most unmerciful pounding, the effects of which are strongly visible upon Mr. Workman's face.

The Perfection of Impudence.—Last night Edgar J. Bain, who was stopping at a lodging house on East Temple street, was robbed of a hat, vest, a small sum of money and some private papers. To-day he visited the Overland House, where he saw Peter Stockfish, alias Aaron, sitting by the stove with the stolen hat on his head. He immediately charged him with stealing it, and on further investigation found that Aaron also had on the stolen vest under his shirt. As there was no thief in charge himself, and when he got him to the City Hall the rascal tried to run off round the back of the building, but did not succeed.

The case was brought before the judicial cognizance of Justice Pyper, who sent Aaron up for 100 days. The latter is a notorious thief.

The Jones Election Case.—The trial of this case was resumed in the District Court yesterday afternoon, at half-past one, after recess.

Captain Burt, Chief of Police, was sworn and testified for the defense. Witness was chief of police on the 3rd of August, and was then on duty at the election polls, when Whittemore was injured. Witness struck Whittemore himself when that individual approached him as if to attack him. Witness described the riotous proceedings at the polls. Immediately before the Mayor's proclamation witness was up stairs, and in coming down met the Mayor with his retinue. The Mayor went upon the balcony, the witness and others accompanying him. The Mayor there repeated his proclamation, stating that if the crowd did not disperse force would have to be used; but there were shouts of "Shut up," and many other expressions were uttered by the crowd. The Mayor then ordered witness to take men and disperse the crowd. He took with him W. G. Phillips, Alex. Burt, Samuel Russell, and Mr. Jones, who was a special policeman on duty that day, and was standing in front of the door. Witness, in front of the hall door, repeated the proclamation of the Mayor, when Whittemore and others made a rush at himself and assistants.

Whittemore raised a cane in the act of striking witness, when the latter struck him and another man almost simultaneously. Did not see Jones strike Whittemore, but he might have done so.

Cross-examined by the prosecution. The disturbance had continued nearly the whole day, and increased in violence up to the time it was quelled by witness and his assistants. The riotous proceedings consisted of yelling, shouting, vulgar language, jostling and other such exhibitions.

Re-examined by the defense. Whenever any of the police sought to maintain the peace during the day, by restraining persons who interrupted or disturbed the election, they were pounced upon, injured with aid and abetment, parties claiming to be deputy U. S. Marshals.

Mayor Wells was the next witness on the stand for the defense. In consequence of information received from the chief of police concerning the riotous proceedings at the polls on election day, witness went to the City Hall. There was a great tumult going on when he arrived, and as a conservator of the peace, he addressed the crowd from the entrance to the polls, advising them to be quiet and let the election go on uninterruptedly, which seemed to have a modifying effect, until a rabble, headed by J. Orr, rushed towards him, as if to take possession of the polls by force. Witness told Orr he had better not come in, when Orr sprang at him, and caught his left hand in both of his and tried to drag him out. Witness braced himself to prevent him doing so, when others reached Orr and clutched him also, and endeavored to drag him out, amid shouts of "Drag him out, kill him," etc. Others from behind took hold of witness and pulled him away from these parties, and when he got inside the doors were closed, as it was of no use to go on with the election until the riotous crowd was quieted. Witness's coat was torn in shreds. He went up stairs and out upon the balcony, where he again addressed the crowd, advising those who had voted to leave, and those who had not and wished to do so to come up quietly to the polls and vote, stating also that if the crowd did not disperse, force would have to be resorted to, to compel them.

The crowd continued their tumultuous conduct. The witness then ordered Captain Burt to take some men with him and go down and disperse the crowd. The captain acted accordingly and from the front step reiterated the proclamation of the witness, and while thus engaged a crowd rushed menacingly toward him, like wild beasts. The police then commenced to quell the mob, and did so in a very few moments. After quiet had been restored, witness heard J. S. Marshall speaking. He said he wanted the crowd to leave and that the Mayor and police did right, and he would use his influence in the same direction.

Cross-examined by the prosecution. After Orr had clutched witness's hand and commenced to pull him, Orr said, "arrest you," but witness did not allude to the matter. He said he did not intend to yield under the circumstances. The crowd, headed by Orr, the latter included, was hoarse and threatening. Witness saw several men struck when the police quelled the mob.

John Sharp was the next witness. His account of the occurrences at the City Hall, while the Mayor was there, was in exact corroboration of the previous witness's statement, excepting the particulars of the attack on the Mayor, as that witness was absent when that occurred.

Fernando Little the next witness, had a tremendous riotous noise while in his office, and went to the City Hall. In going towards that building he saw a dense crowd in a state of tumult, but the latter subsided by the time he reached the scene.

Daniel W. Jones was next on the witness stand. In addition to giving an account substantially corroborative of previous witness for the defense, he stated that he saw Whittemore acting in common with the rabble during the day.

Roscoe Savage gave an account of the occurrence, substantially the same as that given by the Mayor and others.

David Le Baron was sworn for the defense. Besides giving an account similar to previous witnesses for the defense, he testified that when Captain Burt repeated the Mayor's proclamation, a crowd headed by Whittemore rushed at the Captain, as if to seize him, and Whittemore had his cane raised in the act of striking at him, when Captain Burt struck him. Jones also struck Whittemore two or three times.

Cross-examined by the prosecution. Witness knew Whittemore, because the latter had acted boisterously at the polls at the Court House the same day, and he had, in consequence, asked who he was. Understood him to be a deputy U. S. Marshal.

Thomas Hewitt, for the defense, testified that he saw policeman John Y. Smith endeavoring to keep the peace, when he was seized by some men claiming to be deputy U. S. Marshals. One of these marshals, named Cody, had a large knife in his hand, and exposed, and witness told him to get away. A Smith was dragged out of the entrance to the polls and taken to Commissioner Tooby's office. Witness saw other arrests by parties claiming to be U. S. deputy marshals made in a similar manner.

Stephen W. Taylor testified on the part of the defense. Witness, as policeman John Y. Smith endeavoring to maintain the peace, when he was seized by some men claiming to be deputy U. S. Marshals, and witness put his hand on the shoulder of one of them, named Cody, and told him to stop, when Cody made a stab at witness with a large knife. As these men were taking Smith away witness walked along some distance with them. He returned in a few minutes, when he saw a man named Belding with a drawn pistol in his hand. Witness took the weapon from him by force. He also saw James Nounan with a drawn pistol and threatening about shooting somebody.

Thomas Winters, a special policeman, on duty on election day, corroborated the statements of several previous witnesses for the defense. Saw Whittemore, about half an hour before the disturbance, in a buggy. Whittemore then addressed a crowd of men, inciting them to "stick up, and you know what."

By the prosecution. Witness was arrested previously by J. W. Fagan, one Pratt, and another man.

Re-examined by the defense. Witness did not know he was being arrested by U. S. deputy marshals, nor that he was being arrested at all. He was standing quietly when he was seized by the bail and by the clothing and dragged outside. Just previous to being seized, one Davis attempted to go into the part of the polls where the ladies went in to vote. A policeman endeavored to deter him from entering, when Davis said, "I am a deputy U. S. marshal, and will go where I d d please," at the same time knocking aside the established arm of the police officer. Witness told Davis to stand aside, when somebody shouted, "Arrest him," when witness was clutched and dragged as described.

Charles Ringwood, policeman, testified for the defense. Heard Whittemore address a crowd about running the election. Heard parties in the crowd shout, "G-d d-n it, let us go in and get the ballot-box." Saw the witness Winters dragged out as described by that individual, and when he was outside Captain Burt went and told Winters to go along quietly. Witness was arrested himself by parties claiming to be deputy U. S. marshals, but for what reason he had never found out to this day.

B. Y. Hamilton, policeman, was next examined for the defense. Saw Whittemore several times around the City Hall during the day and heard him say that Whittemore and crowd were "going to run the election," and that the police had no business there. Saw Butterfield, Pratt, and Appleby, who claimed to be deputy U. S. marshals, go up to the door of the polling place after it was closed to prevent the crowd getting in. Butterfield kicked at the door. Witness went and took hold of him to prevent him continuing, when the parties named seized him, one of them saying, "We have got you, you son of a b-h." Witness threw them off, when Marshall Maxwell, who was near, said, "Let Hampton go."

W. G. Phillips, policeman, gave a full account of the riotous proceedings, similar to those of the other witnesses for the defense. He described the attitude of Whittemore as he approached Captain Burt with his cane raised, as if to strike him. As Whittemore thus approached, witness struck him.

The testimony of Alexander Burt, police officer, was similar to that given by the previous witness.

TO-DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

This forenoon a number of other witnesses were examined for the defense, all of whom described the proceedings of the crowd on election day as riotous and tumultuous.

Mr. S. D. Shirrie stated that the affair reminded him of a genuine New York election riot.

Mr. C. Livingston testified to assisting in closing the doors of the polls immediately after the attack on the Mayor, and while thus engaged the crowd sought to force an entrance.

Witnesses for the prosecution were placed on the stand to give evidence in rebuttal, considerable of which testimony was conflicting and thin.

All the evidence was in at the time recess was taken till half-past one o'clock.

A Dog Case.—Attorney Burmaster owns a dog of the intelligent and genteel type. During his late temporary absence from the City he confided it to the tender care of Mr. G. R. Sangiovanni. One of the latter's neighbors made complaint to the police court against him for keeping the same dog, which was described as vicious and mischievous. Mr. Burmaster appeared in Court this morning, accompanied by the aforesaid specimen of feminine canine precocity. The dog looked about as ferocious as a three days old Colawold lamb, and about as frisky. By way of demonstrating its fierceness Mr. Burmaster told the little brute, black and tan, to sit up, "chaps," which she did, sitting, in an upright position, surveying the amused spectators for a few seconds, as if waiting for applause, and then giving a glance at an adjacent policeman, as much as to say, "Ain't I smart? Then, in obedience to orders, she jumped up on her hind legs and the judge's hat upon her head, when she appeared the embodiment of gravity, while everybody witnessing these peculiar antics laughed.

The result of the investigation of the charge showed that the particular dog was so high toned and so lacking in the elements of ferocity as to be almost incapable of gnawing an ordinary bone. The case was dismissed.

Theatre.—There was an able performance at the Theatre last evening of the great emotional play of "Camille."

This evening will be presented Tom Taylor's beautiful comedy of "Still Waters Run Deep," the performance to conclude with the unctuous farce of "Timothy Toodles." Miss Watkins will appear as "Mrs. Hector Sternhold," Miss Clawson as "Mrs. Midway," Mr. Marden as "John Midway," Mr. Lindsay as "Captain Hawley," Mr. P. Morgan as "Timothy Toodles," Mr. Lindsay as "George Acorn," Mr. Forster as "Farmer Acorn," Mr. Marden as "Charles Fenton," Mr. Watkins as "Timothy Toodles," Miss Clawson as "Mary Acorn."

During the evening the Orchestra will perform the following ballad pieces: "Ballad of the Water," "Wagon U Wagon Schottische," and the "Reunion Polka."

Robbed.—Last night a Scandinavian from Gaelie got his intellect mixed by indulging his bibulitive predilections, and taking advantage of his obfuscated condition, some party robbed him of his pocket book $17 in cash, and a return railroad ticket to Gaelie. The police got hold of a clue, which, by investigation, they found terminated in a young fellow named A. Swenson, who was arrested and placed in jail, pending a trial before Justice Pyper, on a charge of committing the robbery.

STRAYED.—FROM my overall, in the Second Ward, I have lost a black and white SPANISH dog on last night with collar and tag, and a small sum of money. Any information that will aid in the recovery of the dog, or the money, will be paid to D. H. Wells, or the Office, at 111 West 1st St.

Oh! all you good people who value your health, And think of your comfort as well as your wealth, Remember that now, just now, is the time To sweeten your homes with whiteening soap.

The white soap is hanging to getting and selling. And anyone look quite dismal as Winter or Fall, Unless they are washed and made clean and bright With Cooper's best mixture, or some other white.

The crevices, too, which open so wide And make a place for vermin to bide, Can all be well stopped and made good and sound, So that such a nuisance can scarcely be found.
