TRUTH AND LIBERTY.

VOL. I. SALT LAKE CITY, TUESDAY EVENING, MAY 12, 1868.

No. 147.

BREVITIES.

Prentice says that the Queen and Theodoros did not marry, but they fought just as if they had.

Why is blind-man's-buff like sympathy? Because it is a fellow-feeling for a fellow-creature.

Some fashionable ministers in New York are said to receive as much as $3,000 a year in marriage fees.

A niece of Horace Greeley's is creating some excitement in European musical circles by her piano playing.

It is a satisfaction to dig for water, because you know then you are doing well.

A boy at school, when called to recite his lesson in history, was asked:

"What is the German Diet?" "Sourkront, schnapps, and sausages."

Chief Justice Chase says "he would rather go down to posterity as a pure and upright Judge, than as President of the United States."

It is stated that in the register at St. Clement Dane's Church, London, there appears on one page among the baptisms in 1567, the familiar names of "Richard Cobden," and "John Bright."

Cheese factories are becoming common in Canada. The sanguine predict from their introduction a complete revolution in agriculture in the New Dominion.

An old miser named Hendrickson died in New York, on Wednesday, for want of proper nourishment. He was worth about $70,000, and had $25,000 in bonds and currency on his person when he died.

The American board is about to dispatch three missionaries to Central Turkey and three to China. The last named country is now perfectly accessible to missionaries, and great efforts will be made to secure laborers for that important field.

"Six feet in his boots!" exclaimed Mrs. Partington. What will the importance of this world come to I wonder! Why, they might just as well be able to tell that a man had six heads in his hat!"

A German, while crossing the Alleghany mountains during the past winter, states—"Dat ven going up de mountain, hish foot slipped him on de ice, and he come down on de broad of hish back, mit hish face sticking in de mud, and dere he sthoort."

"Nonplusultracomicomistancicomicomiproteinicomitardanzantestregnegrinasticomica Arizona" is the name of a play performed on the grand square to some 30,000 people on carnival day.

A gentleman said to one of his sons, who used to stay in bed late in the morning, "Your brother got up this morning at five o'clock, and found on the sidewalk a purse of gold." "Very well," replied the lazy young man, "if the poor fellow to whom it belonged had remained in till ten, he probably would not have lost it."

Says the New York Evening Mail: The contrast between Fanny Fern and her husband is striking. She has a fresh, full face, and crimps her hair. Parton is pale and thin, with straight black hair. She looks like one of the Merry Wives of Windsor; he, though, like Hamlet. She smiles often and loud; over his face the dim shadows slowly creep, and no smile turns down the corners of his mouth.

It will be a pleasant piece of news for those who so greatly admired their coffee served at the Parisian coffee houses, during the Exposition, that a very large portion of the milk brought to Paris, is first used for bathing purposes, and then sold at half price to the proprietors of the coffee-houses. The servants of the Tuileries are carrying on quite a profitable business by selling the bathing milk used by the Empress and other ladies of the court.

In the darkest days of the Atlantic telegraph enterprise, a friend of Cyrus Field's bought ten thousand dollars of stock for a ten dollar bill. Mr. Field offered to take the stock at a considerable advance. "Well, but what do you advise me to do, Mr. Field?" "Take your stock home," was the reply, "lock it up in your safe, and never look at it or think of it till you come to me for your dividends on it." And that man is now receiving on his investment of ten dollars, eight hundred dollars in gold.

THERE is a little town in Vermont where the people have considerable fun with their "fence viewers." One of the officers weighs three hundred pounds, another is six feet eight inches tall, and the third is extremely small. It was recently voted that all fences on which the fat man could sit, which the tall man couldn't straddle, nor the little one crawl through, should be deemed legal fences.

Mrs. Warren Clark, of Athol, New Hampshire, died almost instantly last week on her way to a class meeting. The editor of the Athol Chronicle says: "The autopsy revealed extensive cardiac disease, hypertrophy complicated with aneurism of the aorta just below its bifurcation." What the poor man means to say is, that the woman died of heart disease.

A Boston correspondent says: Your anecdote of the late lamented Isaac O. Barnes, reminds me of one I have just seen in print. At the time the Second Advent believers were in full blast in Boston, Mr. Barnes was passing their place of meeting and urgently solicited to enter. He inquired the object of so large and solicitous a gathering, and was told—"We are anxiously awaiting the Second Coming of Christ—do come in and be saved!" "Excuse me," he replied; "I am now in somewhat of a hurry, but if he arrives I beg of you to treat him better than when he made his first visit!"
