WIRED FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, 13.—The Chief of the Secret Service Division of the Treasury Department has been advised that a most dangerous counterfeit of the standard silver dollar has made its appearance in Ohio and Indiana. The base coin has the exact weight, ring and appearance of the genuine, and resists the acid test unless the outer coating of silver is penetrated.

By the death of Lieutenant-Colonel William H. Brown, First Infantry, Major Charles G. Bartlett, Eleventh Infantry, will be promoted to Lieutenant-Colonel of the First Infantry; Captain James A. Snyder, Third Infantry, to Major of the Eleventh Infantry; First Lieut. Edmund Rice, Fifth Infantry, to Captain in the Fifth Infantry, and Second Lieutenant John C. F. Tillson of the Fifth Infantry, to First Lieutenant of the Fifth Infantry.

Secretary Chandler stated to-day that as soon as practicable Bartlett and other survivors of the late Jeannette, now in St. Petersburg, will be brought to Washington and called before the Jeannette Board to give their testimony regarding the loss of that vessel.

McGillicuddy as an Indian Agent.

H. C. Dean, once agent at Pine Ridge Indian Agency, tells an extraordinary story about Agent McGillicuddy. He is quoted as saying: "McGillicuddy sent for me when he learned that I had been telling the truth about his practices, and tried to bulldoze me. I wouldn't be bulldozed, and we separated in ill humor. I learned afterward that McGillicuddy offered a hundred dollars to any Indian who would kill me. I heard this from several sources, and I have every reason to believe the information correct." The National Republican has an interview with a person who knows all about this agency, in the course of which the following occurs: According to the report of Agent McGillicuddy, 7,200 Indians get their supplies at the agency in his charge. Last year these 7,200 Sioux cost the government about $550,000, or nearly $75 a head. The remainder of the appropriation, something like $4,700,000, was distributed among 250,000 Indians, who constitute the remaining Indian population, giving each a little over $20. Thus ten per cent of the money appropriated for the maintainance of over a quarter of a million Indians was spent on a fraction over two per cent. of the population, and this, too, under the direction of an agent against whom charges of a most serious nature have been made and reported, and substantiated by an inspector, in the face of which he is stubbornly held in place by Mr. Price. A rumor, however, reaches me, that the Secretary will take the matter in hand very soon, and insist on the removal of McGillicuddy.

The Catalogue of Crime.

SAN FRANCISCO, 13.—A San Jose dispatch says: W. P. Renowden, living a few miles from town was found this morning shot through the heart near his burning house. The remains of his friends Archer and McIntyre were found half consumed in the ruins. No clue to the perpetrators. Renowden is believed to have had considerable money in the house, and robbery is the supposed motive.

Troy, 13.—It is discovered that Emmet O'Neil of Schenectady, a broker recently failed, has fled. He victimized parties in Schenectady and Duanesburg out of not less than $250,000. Having the handling of his father's estate he was presumably wealthy, and was elected director of the Schenectady Bank. From the books of the bank it is learned that many farmers of Duanesburg gave him funds to invest; he obtained possession of the money by plausible representations; gave as security forged mortgages; when further proof was asked, even forged assignments to mortgages, including a county clerk's certificate and copy of records of United States courts. Widow, orphan and industrious poor were alike his victims with the wealthy. All are losers; every person in Duanesburg was swindled. His mother and sisters are left penniless. Before leaving Schenectady on the midnight train O'Neil taking a hundred dollar greenback in his hand, went asking for change. No one could change it and he borrowed a few dollars of cash storekeeper. O'Neil went to New York, where it is said he made an unsuccessful attempt to raise $20,000 on forged securities. It is believed he has gone to Europe. His wife, two daughters and son are still in Schnectady.

Washington, 13.—The citizens' committee for the suppression of crime in this city, has made reports of its operations, which resulted in tracing direct connection between the criminals and police, and brought about the indictment of between 30 and 40 police and detectives.

St. Johnsbury, Vt., 13.—J. K. Gale, late Superintendent of the Waterworks, is arrested on a charge of defrauding this village.

Uniontown, Pa., 13.—The Dukes-Nutt murder trial was resumed this morning. The letters written by Dukes to Captain Nutt were put in evidence and created a sensation. Dukes acknowledges, unsolicited, that he had illicit intercourse with Nutt's daughter, and gives alleged town rumors affecting her character; gives it as his opinion that Miss Nutt is in a delicate condition, and inferentially suggests that an abortion might save the honor of his daughter and family. Prosecution rested.

Defense proceeded to show that after the tragedy Dukes said he was sorry for what he had done, but acted only in self-defense, as Nutt would otherwise have killed him.

New York, 13.—During the opera at the Academy last night, the Swiss consul at this port made a furore, and demanded the arrest of Mr. Landert, a banker here, for insulting the former's wife. Policemen hushed the affair up, but it is believed the end is not yet.

It is said Robert L. Bradford, of Tompkinsville, Staten Island, and his relatives lay claim to $65,000,000 now in the Bank of England, as heirs of Jno. Bradford, of Yorkshire.

Herald editorial: It is worse than waste of time for the Star route defaulters to call witnesses to the stand day after day to testify to the growth of the western country, and its need of improved postal facilities. The prosecution might safely admit all that the defense has yet undertaken to prove, and would save time and money to the government by doing so. Defendants are arraigned for conspiring to rob the government. They are charged with gigantic frauds. The prosecution has piled up proofs of the most specific, direct and damaging kind. This evidence can be successfully met only by contradictory testimony, equally specific, direct and to the point. If the defense is able to produce any such testimony, let them produce it now. If not able, then let the case go to the jury.

Reading, Pa., 13.—The Lebanon Classes, Reform Church of the United States, found the Rev. Alex. S. Kaiser, of Pottsville, guilty of unlawful intimacy, breach of promise of marriage, and falsehood, and deposed him from the Christian ministry.

Manifesto of the Labor Union.

WASHINGTON, 13.—The board of directors appointed by the central committee on labor legislation, organized by the authority of the last Congress a National Labor Union, subject to the organized trades unions and assemblies of labor of the United States, have issued a manifesto, headed with the stirring call, "To your tents, O Israel!" The manifesto denounces the majority of the Senate as lawyers, retained by federated capitalists, and demands an extra session of Congress as a remedy for impending strikes; and advises all wage workmen to join in their trade union, or Knights of Labor, and present an unbroken front. The manifesto denounces the abrupt suspension of the Senate investigation of the relations between capital and labor, and says this action, coupled with later proceedings inimical to the interests of wage-workers, convinces the board of directors of the insincerity and hollow hypocrisy of the professions of the majority of the Senators. The complete subjection of our legislators to the moneyed power was never more clearly demonstrated than by the recent tariff legislation of the Forty-seventh Congress, which threatens to result in an immediate and distressing reduction in wages in many great manufacturing establishments of the country. The attempt will naturally lead to strikes and consequent misery and want; possibly riot and disorder will ensue, and the blame will be sought as usual to be attached to the poor workmen, instead of to the gay and festive liars, hypocrites, jugglers and public plunderers who basely abuse the powers reposed in them by a confiding people. The Psalmist said: "All men of high degree are liars," and if he had lived in Washington to-day he would repeat the assertion without supplementary attachments. Human agencies have undoubtedly devised schemes by which the few have enslaved the many, and human beings must rectify these wrongs. We should not continue to look into the clouds of heaven, like ignorant cure, for deliverance from our oppressors, but to our other federated drones must be counterveiled the federated laborer, demanding, as with one voice, immediate reform. Whatever we do, however, should be done peaceably, if possible, and in accordance with law.

Dangerous Voyage

NEW YORK, 13.—The steamer Claudius left here this morning, to tow the steam dredger Comtesse de Lesseps to Aspinwall, where she will begin work on the Panama Canal. She is 180 feet long, 66 feet wide, 12 feet deep. It is estimated that there will be 10 miles of cutting in 20-feet mud at Aspinwall. The contract calls for a trench 185 feet wide on top, 100 feet at the bottom, and 27½ feet deep. The Claudius expects to make the trip down in 14 to 18 days. The machinery of the dredger, which was brought to Philadelphia from San Francisco, is very heavy, and the Claudius expects and is prepared for a difficult task. Should the weather be stormy she will hug the coast closely from the Capes to Hatteras; thence crossing the Gulf Stream and making for the Crooked Island passage. It is regarded as the greatest towing undertaking ever attempted since the towing of the Bermuda dry-dock in sections across the Atlantic. The dredger is insured in Philadelphia.

The Brooklyn Bridge.

At a meeting of the Brooklyn bridge trustees to-day the committee on fare reported, allowing foot passengers free, but for vehicles the following rates: One horse and man, 5c.; one horse and vehicle, 10c.; two horses and vehicle, 20c.; two-horse trucks, 30c. It was agreed to have a public celebration at the opening of the bridge, and the legislature be asked to give the control of it, when completed, to three persons. It is now definitely announced that the bridge will be opened in 60 days.

Death and Disaster.

NEW YORK, 13.—On the arrival of the steamer Hudson this morning from New Orleans, a fire was discovered in her hatch. The fire department was immediately called, and soon a dozen streams were at work, the vessel being flooded, that being the most effective way of extinguishing the flames. The cargo consists of cotton and stores, and the fire was traced to where the cotton was stored. The damage cannot be estimated. The vessel was valued at a quarter of a million, and the cargo about the same amount.

Youngstown, O., 13.—John Phillips, of Hubbard, Ohio, while asleep walked out of a third story window in this city, last night, and was killed.

San Francisco, 13.—Virginia City, Nevada, dispatch: Piper's Opera House and several adjoining buildings are totally destroyed by fire. The total loss will reach $35,000.

Staunton, Va., 13.—The poison which recently killed some patients in the asylum was not used by the physicians there for over a year.

Halifax, 13.—Captain Watkins of the City of Chester, from New York, reports at 5 o'clock Monday morning, after the sailing engineer raced away, an examination showed the shaft broken, sail was at once put on, and the ship proceeded, keeping in the track of steamers. On Tuesday morning she signalled to the Servia, which came within hailing distance and laid by till next morning, when she took her in tow; she signalled that her coal supply was getting low, but said she would head for Halifax. On Wednesday one of the two ropes connecting the ships suddenly parted. The Captain of the Servia then signalled that he must proceed for New York alone. It was blowing heavily, and Captain Watkins requested him to lie by the City of Chester, until the weather moderated, as he wanted to be towed back in the track of steamers; but the Servia replied that she was in want of coal, and steamed on her way, without rendering further assistance. Sail was put on again, and the City of Chester continued toward Halifax. On the morning of the 10th, the steamer Missouri came along and towed the Chester to port.

New York, 13.—The well known whisky and wine house of Ivis, Beecher & Co., failed to-day for nearly $500,000. It has stood for quarter of a century, the paper of the firm having ranked as the best in the market. The value of the assets cannot be estimated.

Buffalo, 13.—A. H. Chase, coal and lumber dealer, Batavia, has assigned; liabilities $85,000; nominal assets $100,000.

New York, 13.—The assignment of Theodore F. and Jas. Carroll Humphrey, composing the hide and leather firm of Humphrey & Co., was filed to-day. It states the liabilities at $826,477; nominal assets, $667,204; actual assets $119,507. Among the assets are claims against insolvent firms aggregating about $400,000. Among the preferred creditors are Jas. P. Colgate, $191,000; Manhattan County Bank, about $100,000.

Skipwith, Miss., 13.—The Dennis levee, near Australia, is reported cut. The chief engineer is having the sluices filled; he intends closing the break at Elisle's with planks and sacks of hay. The protection levees are still holding, and the main line is so nearly completed that all danger by overflow is considered over. Planting is progressing.

FOREIGN.

British Briefs.

LONDON, 13.—In the Commons last night, Coleridge Kennard, conservative, gave notice that he would question the government as to what steps had been taken to recover the surplus of the Alabama award.

Gorst, conservative, moved, in view of the complication of the Boers in cruel attacks on native chiefs energetic steps be taken to secure the direct observance of the convention of 1881.

In the House of Lords, Colonial Secretary, concerning outrages on the Transvaal frontier, said the Boers favored a peaceful effect to obtain indemnity for loss by raids. The use of force will only tend to create an African Iceland. Earl Spencer will not leave the Cabinet although he resigns the Presidency of the Council.

The ship Potterdale, at Liverpool from San Francisco, has had a hole stove in her hold by a collision.

Eighteen cannon for the dictator, have been ordered from New York.
