The Commons Still Tinkering with the Irish Bill.

THE INTELLECTUAL NIHILISTS.

A Den of Horse Thieves in Idaho.

JACK DEMPSEY'S ARM BROKEN.

NO CLUE TO THE PAPAGO ROBBERS—THE FISHERIES QUESTION—CRIMES, ETC.

By Telegraph to the NEWS.

The Commons.

LONDON, May 2.—The Marquis of Hartington writes a letter to the liberal-unionists advising them to organize as a party for the purpose of maintaining their position.

In the House of Commons to-night Healy moved that the first clause of the crimes bill be so amended as to indicate clearly to what portions of Ireland it would be applicable. He suggested that the words "proclaimed districts" be omitted, and that Kerry, Londonderry and Belfast be inserted in their stead.

Balfour, chief secretary for Ireland, declined to accede to this proposal. He said the government intended to apply the clause to all parts of Ireland where the prevalence of crimes justified such action.

Mr. Healy asked if bloodstained Belfast, where the troops had been shot and policemen murdered, was to go free, while the miserable rack-rented districts in the southwest were to be punished.

Mr. Balfour replied that the government would exercise perfect impartiality in suppressing disorder everywhere.

Labouchere said the scope and aim of the bill was to crush out the nationalists, leaving the orangemen to do what they liked. The administration of the law was so bound up with the orange faction that it could not be impartial.

Mr. Gladstone suggested that the words "proclaimed districts" remain but that the districts be defined under other clauses of the bill. The answer of Mr. Balfour that all the districts would be treated impartially was not sufficient because the minister had often referred to particular parts of Ireland where the bill was meant to operate. No doubt the people of Belfast regarded with disgust and horror the prevalence of disorder in their midst, but the same apology was equally good for other districts. [Hear! Hear!] The conduct of some persons in Belfast recently stained Ireland more than the conduct of the people of any other part of Ireland had. [Cheers.]

The amendment proposed by Healy, that inquiry be held only when evidence had been withheld on account of intimidation, was rejected—206 to 110.

After a discussion which lasted two hours and a half, Healy moved that the high court, and not the attorney-general, be empowered to order an inquiry.

Gibson, solicitor-general for Ireland, replied that the government was unable to accept the amendment.

Gladstone rising, replied to the statement by Elliott. He (Gladstone) was responsible for an equally strong system for five years. He said Elliot overlooked an essential difference, namely, that his bill had been directed against crime which existed while the bill was under discussion. [Cries of "Oh!" "Oh!"] At least, he added, the present bill is directed against acts not hitherto considered crimes. Anyway, he would not renew his former proposals because he was convinced they aggravated the evil.

Haldane, home rule liberal, proposed to substitute "judge" for "high Court."

Healy assented.

W. H. Smith, first lord of the treasury, amid cries of "Shame!" moved to enforce the cloture.

The motion was carried, 297 to 185.

Gladstone and the other opposition leaders walked slowly into the opposition lobby, while the Parnellites and Gladstonians stood cheering wildly.

Healy's amendment was rejected, 361 to 142.

Nolan moved to report progress on the bill.

W. H. Smith said the government was unable to agree to this because only nine of the 140 amendments to the first clause were disposed of.

Later, however, progress was reported.

Too Good to Be Bad.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 2.—One of the persons just convicted of plotting against the Czar is a student named Ouallanoff. He is the son of a high Russian official. During the trial he displayed the highest intelligence and maintained a most dignified bearing. Entering into a minute scientific dispute with Feodoroff, the renowned chemist, he compelled the latter to acknowledge the prisoner was right and he himself in the wrong. At the final sitting Ouallanoff made a brilliant speech and declared that neither he nor his companions feared death. He could imagine nothing more sublime than to die in the endeavor to deliver the unfortunate Russian people. Hundreds of young men would imitate him, until the Czar would be compelled to change his despotic system. The prisoners with one exception are intelligent, gentlemanly and of good families. One said he intended to murder the Czar with a revolver, but afterwards thought that bombs would be better.

Released.

HAVANA, May 2.—Diahazo Cumpos, the planter who on April 20th was kidnapped near Vegas by bandits, has been released on the payment of the ransom of $9,000.

Den of Horse Thieves.

PORTLAND, Oregon, May 2.—A Baker City, Oregon, special says that Andy Newman, deputy sheriff, who returned from a six weeks' unsuccessful search for two horse thieves, accidentally discovered a rendezvous for a band of horse and cattle thieves who for years past have committed depredations on the ranges of southeastern Oregon, particularly in Malheur County. The robbers' camp is situated in Idaho, about two hundred miles east of Baker City, at the confluence of the Grand Round River with the Snake. Here to his surprise Newman found himself in the midst of refugees from the law, numbering upwards of 25 or 30 men, well armed and equipped, ready to the officers. The place selected for refuge by this band of outlaws is well adapted for their calling. Little valleys here and there are nestled between high precipitous and rugged cliffs and mountains, some of them affording an abundance of bunch grass for stock. Their outlet is across the Snake into Idaho, and by the passage hundreds of cattle and horses are run off from the upper counties and disposed of to unsuspecting purchasers in the states and territories. With the addition of guards at the entrance, the rendezvous of this band of horse thieves answers well the description of the valley which sheltered the Doones in the famous novel "Lorne Doone."

SET AT DEFIANCE

SPORTING.

Dempsey's Arm Broken—Baseball, Etc.

CHICAGO, May 2.—Philadelphia sporting journals contain a dispatch to the effect that Van Haltern, the California pitcher, has decided not to come to Chicago. President Spaulding, of the Chicago club, when spoken to about the matter, said: "I never have banked very heavily upon his coming here, but we have not given him up by any means. If he does not want to come to Chicago, let him go to Pittsburg to play out his engagement. It seems to me that would be the proper thing to do. I imagine, however, that the California baseball people are largely responsible for Van Halteren's failure to show up at Pittsburg, and if so, they are placing a halter around their necks which they may feel tighten before another season arrives. Van Hateren says he will open in eastern engagements next be season. I don't know whether he will or not."

PRESIDENT SPAULDING

then stated that the league might blacklist Van Halteren for failing to keep his contract and take action to prevent any league or association player from going to California to take part in a winter game of baseball with any club that recognized Van Halteren or placed him in good standing.

CLEVELAND, O., May 2.—Jack Dempsey and Reddy Gallagher met to-night at the Frankford street gymnasium for a six-round fight with four-ounce gloves, the winner to take two-thirds and the loser one-third of the gate receipts. Two hundred spectators paid 25 each to see the battle, and at 10 o'clock time was called. Dempsey weighed 150, and Gallagher 155½ pounds. In the second round

just below the elbow, but he kept on and at the end of the sixth round the fight was declared a draw. No one but Dempsey knew of the accident until the fight was over. The first round was easy in honors and both men reached what they aimed for, although lightly. The second round was more interesting. Gallagher was driven into his corner and a clinch followed. In breaking away Dempsey struck Gallagher a hard one on the jaw. The third round was lively. Both men were punished and Dempsey received a blow in the mouth that brought the first blood. In the fourth round Gallagher was hit on the ribs and head and Dempsey on the nose. The fifth was full of clinches as Gallagher was afraid of punishment. The sixth was interesting and at the end of it Dempsey and the physician declared it broken between the wrist and elbow. After the second round Dempsey did not strike a blow with his left. The fight was declared a draw.

SHOWED HIS ARM

NEW YORK, May 2.—The second deposit of $1,000 a side in the single scull race between Edward Hanlan and Jake Gaudaur, was posted at the office of Turf, Field and Farm to-day. The race is to be for $5,000 and the championship of America, and $4,000 is now up. It is to be rowed on Decoration Day. The course is not yet fixed.

No Clue Whatever.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—Detective J. N. Thatcher, of Wells, Fargo & Co., who was sent from here to Tucson to track the Papago train robbers, sent the following dispatch to-day to the company's headquarters in this city:

"No tangible clue to the train robbers. Clue here has been exploded."

Investigating a Senator.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 2.—The investigation of State Senator Minnear was continued this morning with Reger the chief witness on the stand. He was asked if Senator Minnear's wife had given him a letter, and he replied she did not, nor did she have anything to do with it, and objected to witness taking the letter or a copy of it. He waited his chance and published the letter—a confidential political circular sent out by the chairman of the republican state central committee, from Minnear as secretary. Witness further stated that he had not offered any money or other consideration to Mrs. Minnear for the letter nor would she agree to his taking it nor did Mr. Camden give or offer him anything for the letter. He only received expenses from Collector McGraw when the letter was delivered. The remainder of the witness' testimony exonerates Minnear and Camden. The committee adjourned until to-morrow without having found out anything relative to the charges of an important character. McGraw and several other important witnesses will arrive to-morrow to testify in the case.

A Suspicious Case.

MILWAUKEE, May 2.—John T. Tarbell, a laborer of Lyons, Wisconsin, drove to a farmhouse three miles from Vienna with his dying wife to-day, who he said had been assassinated while seated beside him in a buggy, holding her baby to her breast. To-night Tarbell was arrested, charged with attempting to kill her. He tells a rambling story to the effect that while returning home from a visit to his wife's father at Caldwell's Prairie, they were overtaken by two men in a buggy, who opened fire on them. His wife was shot in the back and himself through the arm. His story was so disconnected that he was placed in jail. His wife, who at last accounts was still alive, has failed to recover consciousness. Her wound is powder-burned, and the sleeves of Tarbell's coat, where the ball penetrated, is also burned by the powder. His revolver has been found and is empty. The whole affair is shrouded in great mystery.

Smugglers.

GALVESTON, May 2.—The News, Laredo: Last evening an encounter occurred between the Mexican customs guards and a band of smugglers a few miles below Nuevo Laredo, Mexico. One guard was killed. It is reported one of the smugglers was mortally wounded. The remainder escaped with the goods.

WASHINGTON.

A Bank Tax Case—Public Debt Statement, Etc.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Acting Secretary Muldrow has affirmed the decision of Commissioner Sparks, of the general land office, rejecting the application of the State of California to select as indemnity school land the double minimum, in lieu of the minimum. This decision follows that of the department in the recent case of the State of California vs. Smith.

Acting Secretary Muldrow has directed the commissioner of the general land office to demand from the California & Oregon Railroad Company a reconveyance to the United States of a section of land in Marysville, California, the land district patented to the company March 17, 1875, it appearing from special reports and affidavits accompanying the same that said section is unquestionably gold-bearing mineral land.

A DECISION

was rendered by the Supreme Court of the United States to-day in the bank tax case of Hattie E. Stanley, executrix, plaintiff in error, against the Board of Supervisors of Albany, N. Y. The original plaintiff in this case, Edward H. Stanley, was a citizen of Illinois, and claimed exemption from taxation of certain shareholders of the National Albany Exchange Bank. He brought suit to recover back certain taxes alleged to have been illegally collected from them upon their shares in that bank during the years from 1874 to 1879 inclusive, and paid into the treasury of the county of Albany. He complained that the assessors, by a rule prescribed by themselves, assessed the shares of the National Albany Exchange Bank at a

HIGHER RATE

than the stock in other banks situated in the same city. This holds that the method of assessment complained of is applied to all banks national and state and comes as near as practicable, considering the nature of the property, to securing as between them uniformity and equality of taxation. It can't be considered as discriminating against either. Over-valuation of property is not a ground of action at law for an excess beyond what should have been levied upon a just valuation. The courts cannot in such cases take upon themselves the functions of a revising or equalizing board. The judgment of the court below is affirmed.

THE PUBLIC DEBT.

The following is a recapitulation of the debt statement as issued to-day:

Interest bearing debt, total	$1,108,459,378
Debt on which interest has ceased since maturity, total	6,504,065
Debt bearing no interest	59,421,157
Total debt, principal and interest	704,174,957
Total debt, less available cash items	1,340,055,498
Net cash in treasury	34,846,088
Decrease of debt during month	13,053,09[illegible]
Cash in treasury available for reduction of public debt	294,118,459
Net cash balance on hand	31,886,089
Total cash in treasury, as shown by treasurer's general account	449,105,898

ANCIENT STATUE.

The United States steamship Galena, bearing a pre-historic statue secured at the Easter Islands, has arrived at Alexandria, and is now awaiting a favorable tide to reach the navy yard. Commander Chester came on to the city this morning and notified the officers of the Smithsonian Institute of the arrival of the statue, which is reported to be in excellent condition.

The net gold in the treasury April 30th, was $180,902,431, or $1,037,416 less than on March 31st. The circulation of standard silver dollars April 30th was $55,733,205, or $1,066,450 less than the circulation of March 31st.

Canada and Safety.

LONG ISLAND, May 2.—At a late hour last night Justice Brandon issued a warrant for the arrest of District Attorney Thomas L. McGowan on the complaint of Supervisor Van Nostrand, of Newtown, who charges McGowan with misappropriating town funds. McGowan is believed to have gone to Canada. He left here on Saturday in the afternoon and did not return. The actual amount of the defalcation, as far as known, is $10,000.

Fetheringham on Trial.

ST. LOUIS, May 2.—The case of David S. Fetheringham, alleged to have been an accomplice in the robbery of the Adams Express on the St. Louis & San Francisco Railway, by "Jim Cummings" some months ago, was called in the criminal court this morning, and both sides announcing their readiness for trial, the work of impaneling the jury was proceeded with at once. At 2 p. m. four jurymen had been obtained.

R. F. Matters.

CHICAGO, May 2.—Vice-President Potter, of the Union-Pacific, has offered to General Passenger Agent A. N. Dawes, of the Hannibal & St. Joe, the place of general manager of the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company. Mr. Dawes will probably accept.

The shipments of Pacific Coast freight from Chicago have jumped from two or three carloads to an average of twenty carloads daily since the new rates were put into effect last week. The increase is principally in low class freight, such as furniture, buggies, high wines, etc.

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 2.—Frederick Knowland, of New York, general eastern agent of the Union Pacific road, presented the petition of the road for a suspension of section 4, already sent in these dispatches, to the inter-state commission to-day. The petition was granted in the form as granted to the other transcontinental lines.

Explosion.

CHICAGO, May 2.—Late to-night men were wounded, some of them fatally, by an explosion at the North Chicago Rolling Mills at South Chicago. The accident was occasioned by dumping a car of molten metal into one of the huge molds in rail. Enough water chanced to be in the mold to cause the explosion. The mold flew into a thousand pieces and the liquid metal scattered about for rods. A score of men were working within range, of whom the following were injured: John Burns, James Garrien, Patrick Dolan and James Carsey, probably fatally. Daniel Shea, Philip Mortimer, Michael O'Connell, Patrick O'Connell and James Black will recover.

More Bridge Jumping.

CINCINNATI, May 2.—This morning an unknown man jumped off Suspension bridge with suicidal intent and was drowned.

This afternoon Steve Brody, who has jumped from Brooklyn bridge, made the jump from Suspension bridge and was picked up by a yawl, comparatively uninjured.

Schnaebele.

PARIS, May 2.—Schnaebele's leave of absence from the office of commissary at Pagny-sur-Moselle has been extended two months. At the end of his leave he will be entitled to retire on a pension. He asserts that the German commissary Gautsch, who invited him to come across, pointed him out to the German detectives who arrested him.

The German official report of the affair says: "A commissary named Tansch was entrusted with the task of arresting Schnaebele, and it is probable that the names of Tansch and Gautsch were unintentionally mixed by those who accused Gautsch of treachery to Schnaebele."

Betrothed to a Countess.

BERLIN, May 2.—Franz Lenbach, the famous German portrait painter, has been betrothed at Rome to Countess Magdalena Von Moltke, a distant relative of Marshal Von Moltke.

Fisheries Question.

OTTAWA, Ont., May 2.—A brief discussion on the fisheries question took place in the House of Commons to-night.

Ellis, a New Brunswick member, asked for the return of all the United States vessels warned or interdicted by the Canadian fisheries protection fleet. He recited a number of cases of reported harsh treatment of American vessels by Canadian officers and said already 120 complaints had been filed in Washington.

Thompson, minister of justice, said Ellis was too flattering when he termed the American reports of evidence. The particulars Ellis had given were selections from a number of rambling, inaccurate statements made against the British and colonial authorities by persons who received a general invitation to send in all the claims they could possibly bring against the nation, which was supposed would in the end have to pay a bill of damages. It transpired now only from the investigation of these complaints, but subsequently by the admission of some of the persons who made these unveracious statements that they were utterly without foundation, were reckless and were oftentimes based on misapprehension and want of knowledge. When were brought down it would be found that the statement of distinguished members of the government of the United States, that the Canadian fisheries laws and regulations had been administered with brutality, was as preposterous an exaggeration as could be found in the English language. [Loud applause.]

Foster, minister of fisheries, declined to bring down the instruction to the protective fleet on the ground that it would be detrimental to properly carrying them out, and might hamper the negotiations in progress.

A Countess Boycotted.

DUBLIN, May 2.—Notices have been posted in Michelstown, ordering the people to boycott the Countess of Kingston.

Catholic Dignitaries.

ROME, May 2.—Cardinal Rampolla has been appointed Papal secretary of state; Monsignor Agliardi, secretary of extraordinary ecclesiastical affairs; Monsignor Rotelli, Papal nuncio at Paris; Monsignor Galimberti, nuncio at Vienna; Monsignor Pietro, nuncio at Madrid, and Monsignor Scilia, nuncio at Munich. These appointments will be confirmed at the consistory to be held on the 22nd inst.

Rossini's Remains.

PARIS, May 2.—The remains of the composer Rossini were disinterred at Pere la Chaise cemetery yesterday in the presence of the Italian embassy and a throng of admirers of Rossini's works. There were a number of orations and then a procession was formed which escorted the coffin from the cemetery. A band of republican guards played selections from Rossini's works. The remains of the composer will be taken to Florence to-day for burial. Boito Verdi was asked to accompany them but refused.
