

House.—The first business was a joint resolution to regulate the tariff on the Central and Union Pacific Railroad, pending motion being to refer the bill to the committee on Pacific Railroad, which carried 63 against 37.

San Francisco, 26.—The Oregon Union state convention yesterday nominated David Logan to Congress and instructed the delegates of the national convention to vote for Grant as President.

THE DISPATCHES coming in unusually late, is the cause of this evening's issue being behind its usual time.

SEVENTIES' LECTURES.—Elder John Nicholson lectured last night on "Phrenology." The 13th Ward Assembly Room was crowded, and the audience listened with much interest to the speaker, opening up the subject in a manner which showed him well acquainted with it.

SWEETWATER.—About twenty persons started with pack animals, for the Sweetwater mines, this morning.

ANSWERED.—The City Recorder called this morning, and in answer to the question recently propounded in relation to dogs sayeth: "The collar privileges and rights of a deceased dog cannot be transferred to another pup, without said animal pays the City Hall a visit and deposits the three dollars necessary for protection." Harness makers and others will please take due notice.

MORE STEALING.—Thomas Burk was arrested yesterday by the police for stealing and was to-day brought before Alderman Clinton, charged with breaking into a house occupied by Mr. Slater and, stealing therefrom a Henry rifle. Prisoner plead guilty and was fined $100; but not having the change handy, his proposal for a labor contract to that amount was accepted by the city, and a place awarded him in the chain gang. While in the lockup this morning, previous to trial, Burk and Kenney both productions of the Emerald Isle, after a short wordy altercation went into a pugilistic argument, resulting in the demoralization of Burk's principal features. The lock-up is the only place within the corporation where pugilistic exhibitions are not attended with a penalty other than that immediately inflicted by the combatants themselves.

VAST MILITARY PREPARATIONS IN EUROPE.

From the London Daily News, January 24th.

It is a curious phenomenon, if not a strange contradiction, that while all the Governments of Europe are proclaiming their desire for the continuance of peace, the preparation of arms and armed men was never so active as it is at present on almost every side. In Italy the Minister of Marine has asked the Chamber of Deputies for a supplementary credit to meet the cost of the armament of nine iron-plated vessels and the alteration of the carbines of the Royal Marines. The Spanish Chambers have unanimously passed an armament bill, and the Government, it is said, have applied to the United States for the purchase of 50,000 needle guns. A telegraph despatch from Vienna mentions that the Servian Government have made a similar application at Vienna for the purchase of 20,000 guns, and that it was refused. The Chambers of Stuttgart, of Munich and of Brussels are discussing army bills. Notwithstanding the pacific declarations of the Berlin journals, if the Turin Gazette is correctly informed, Prussia is making immense war preparations; her troops are already concentrating on the Silesian and Saxon frontiers, and with such a formidable accumulation of military material that one would imagine we were on the eve of a second Sadowa campaign. The Nord, which speaks for the pacific policy of Russia, and maintains that to that policy it is owing that the peace of Europe has not been broken before this time, copies an article from the Invalide Russe, by which we find that Russia has diminished her active army to 700,000, but that she has an immense reserve, from which the army could at once be increased by 64 per cent.

It is further stated that the army being no longer composed of serfs, the men are animated by the highest spirit. The state and private factories are busily employed in the manufacture of needle guns, of which the Invalide calculates that 800,000 will be ready in the course of the present year. The Carl rifle is the one adopted by the Government, and the Russian organ evidently expects it will "do wonders." Rifled cannon and the preparation of the fortresses are not omitted from the peaceful anticipations of Russia. Even the Sovereign Pontiff of Rome is studying the art of maintaining peace by increasing his army to 25,000 men. Such is the condition of Continental Europe as presented by its press in the first month of 1868.

What can you not name without breaking it? Silence.

If a colt's pistol has six barrels, how many ought a horse pistol to have?

A young Missourian, eulogizing his girl's beauty, said: "I'll be doggoned if she ain't as purty as a red wagon."

A down-east editor says he has seen the contrivance our lawyers use when they "warm up with the subject." He says it is a glass concern and holds about a pint.
