INQUEST OVER JOHN CONTOS

Coroner's Jury Hears Details of Murder and Charges Nicholas Vecos With the Crime.

ANDREW L. ANDERSON IS DEAD

Sanitarium Opening—Rapid Transit On Wall Avenue—Electrifying S. L. & O. Line.

Ogden, April 7.—Late yesterday afternoon the coroner's jury which was investigating the death of John Contos came to its verdict at the hands of Nicholas Vecos. The verdict was that Vecos had admitted several times to the officers that he had killed Contos. The verdict was rendered at the conclusion of the inquest at which was a dramatic recital of the events leading up to the tragedy on the night of the homicide.

The star witness for the state was Tom Terakes, a candy maker who was in the Contos store on last Saturday night when the murder was committed. He said that Vecos had entered the store and heard him say that he was feeling pretty good. After Contos had waited upon a customer Vecos asked Contos to give him three weeks more on the debt he owed him. Contos replied that he had already given him three months, but that Vecos had spent the money in gambling houses and in other ways, and he would give him no more time. The conversation was interrupted by a customer who had just left the store when Vecos shot Contos and he fell behind the counter.

Terakes rushed up to the wounded man and was warned by Vecos to get out of his way and he started for the street. Terakes raised Contos in his arms and carried him to his home, where he placed him on a bed. He then called a doctor and waited for him. He said that he was feeling pretty good. After Contos had waited upon a customer Vecos asked Contos to give him three weeks more on the debt he owed him. Contos replied that he had already given him three months, but that Vecos had spent the money in gambling houses and in other ways, and he would give him no more time. The conversation was interrupted by a customer who had just left the store when Vecos shot Contos and he fell behind the counter.

Louis Boukes, an employee of Contos testified similarly to Terakes. He said that after the shot had been fired he started toward Vecos and the latter turned and warned him not to follow him. Regardless of this threat Boukes followed him to Grant avenue where he lost sight of him. Other witnesses were Dr. Forbes who was summoned and arrived at the candy store about seven minutes after the murder had been committed. In his opinion the wound did not strike the heart but had severed several of the large arteries directly above it. Other witnesses gave testimony similar to what has already been published in connection with the case.

Vecos will be charged with murder in the first degree.

The funeral of John Contos was held this afternoon from the funeral chapel of Laykin & Sons, the Greek witnesses from Salt Lake officiating. The ritual of the Knights of Pythias was held at the grave in Mountain View cemetery.

A. L. ANDERSON IS DEAD

Testimonials received in two years. "Ours is a New England farmer's home, and as we are twenty miles from a large town, we are obliged to depend very largely upon family medicines we keep on hand all the time. "First and Foremost among them is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which we have always found a true friend and helper. When I had suffered dreadfully from dyspepsia, without finding relief, Hood's Sarsaparilla gave me positive help, and when I had used four bottles I was in better health than for many years. I have found Hood's Sarsaparilla. "A Great Spring Medicine to build one up when strength is most needed, to create an appetite, and in short to regulate the whole system. I have lately been taking Sarsaparilla, which I find convenient, easy to take, and also very beneficial." Mrs. E. L. Berry, West Troy, Mo.

WILLARD.

Funeral of Mrs. Ellen Jones Call, a Devoted Churchwoman.

Special Correspondence.
 Willard, March 31.—The funeral of Mrs. Ellen Jones Call, who died March 26, of dilatation of the heart, was largely attended, showing the high esteem in which she was held. Music was furnished by the Willard choir and by a quartet from the University Dramatic company. The speakers were Bishop William J. Facer, President Glen N. Stohl, Elders M. U. Dalton, John L. Edwards, E. P. Cardon, John D. Peters, Dr. J. D. Harding and Mrs. Mary Ellen Ward and Rachel Morgan.

Mrs. Call was a faithful Latter-day Saint and had been a devoted worker in the Church all her life. She was born in Glamorganshire, South Wales, March 15, 1841. She was the daughter of Benjamin and Esther Davis. Her parents were among the first to accept the gospel in Wales, and Ellen was baptized by her father when she was 8 years old. In charge of four younger children, she was married to William Call in 1860. Her father and one sister having preceded her. She walked most of the way from the Missouri river, and despite the privations and hardships she regarded it as a trip of joy and satisfaction.

In 1867 she became the wife of Omar Call, a pioneer of Willard, and 11 children, seven of whom grew to maturity, were the issue of the union. The husband survived her by a few days. Their many friends wish the young couple long and happy life.

Planting time has come at last. The hills are very long, cold and stormy winter and farmers expect to have plenty of water the coming season. A great deal of snow is yet in the mountains, and the weather is not yet very warm.

Sunday School Superintendent J. V. Samuelson tendered his resignation, and Martin C. Dalton was selected in his stead, with John Becker and Miss Addie Gottfredson as assistants.

LEVAN.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.
 Little Wallace Peterson Crushed to Death Under Traction Engine.

Special Correspondence.
 Levan, Utah Co., April 3.—A shocking accident occurred here Thursday, April 1, when Wallace Peterson, the 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Peterson, was instantly killed. Young Wallace was on his way home from school when he was run over by a traction engine and one car of the Robinson Plaster Co. He tried to board the engine, which was moving slowly, but missed his hold and fell in front of the car, which passed over his body, killing him instantly.

Funeral services, which were presided over by Bishop J. E. Taylor, were held in the ward meetinghouse today. The speakers were Elders J. W. Ord of the stake presidency and J. M. Christensen, principal of the district schools. The father, mother, brother and four sisters have the heartfelt sympathy of the community.

The work on the new meetinghouse is progressing nicely. It is expected to be finished by the latter part of July.

COWLEY, WYOMING.

DEATH OF JAMES N. WELCH.

Overtaken by Paralysis in Prime of Life—Interesting Visitor.

Special Correspondence.
 Cowley, Wyo., April 3.—A very sad death occurred here this morning in the person of Elder James N. Welch, son of Thomas B. G. Welch of Morgan, Utah. This cause of death was a paralytic stroke.

Elder Welch came from Morgan four years ago and settled in Cowley. He is a brother of Charles A. Welch of this place. The death is deeply and on account of it being the third death in the family inside of nine months, they having lost an infant babe and on 18 year old daughter within that time. He leaves a widow and eight living children. He was faithful all the days of his life in every calling and was stricken while driving his wife to visit the Primary association, of the stake. He was born Nov. 12, 1842, in Morgan county, Utah, where he lived until his coming to the Big Horn.

INTERESTING VISITOR.

A very interesting visitor spent a few days at Cowley recently in the person of Peter S. Morrison, who is 92 years old. His first visit was east for Andrew Jackson, or president of the United States. When a boy he lived with the family of Joseph Smith, the father of the prophet, he never identified himself with the Latter-day Saints, but was a Mormon proselyter by the name of Norman L. Leonard. Mr. Morrison is quite active for 92 years old and is taking up a homestead under the government canal in this country.

SANFORD COLO.

Boosting San Luis Valley—School Entertainment—Local Telephone Line.

Special Correspondence.
 Sanford, Conchos Co., April 1.—The editor of Rocky Mountain Resources, Mr. T. S. Skaggs of Colorado Springs, spent Sunday and Monday in

Sanford, and was favorably impressed with the town and its people. He will give it an extensive visit in the April edition of his magazine, a longer devoted to the boosting of Colorado.

The Sanford Civic Improvement League has submitted to the publishers the manuscript of a pamphlet describing the San Luis valley and its resources. A large amount of the pamphlet, which will be sent free to thousands of people all over the west.

The many people living on ranches around Sanford have formed a company for the purpose of installing a local telephone system. The project has already stretched a line between La Jara and Sanford.

An entertainment was given by the public school children in the social hall last Wednesday. The young folks enjoyed some skits and recitals of good training. The folk songs of six different nations including the national hymn of Japan, sang by the school, and which songs, were interesting features.

BURRVILLE.

MURDEROUS ASSAULT.

N. I. Sheffield, the Mail Carrier, Shot At from Anahush.

Burrville, Sevier Co., April 6.—N. I. Sheffield, the mail carrier, while riding along the highway a half mile from this place was shot at from an ambush this morning. The shot did not harm him, but he was badly frightened and killed the rider before he was shot. The assault upon Sheffield was made shortly after he left the house of M. L. Barr, carrying the mail. As he passed a clump of weeds his horse shied and at the same instant a shot rang out from the thicket. No other shots were fired. Sheffield hastily returned to this place and notified the marshal, who shortly after the affair arrested W. A.

Rock Springs, Wyo.

TWO ESTEEMED CITIZENS DEAD.

J. W. McDougall and John Chipm Sweeney to Brief Illness.

Special Correspondence.
 Rock Springs, Wyo., April 6.—J. W. McDougall, proprietor of the Rock Springs mercantile, passed away yesterday morning after a few days' illness, death resulting from an attack of pneumonia. Mr. McDougall was 54 years of age and was a graduate of the Toronto College of Pharmacy of Toronto, Canada. He was an energetic business man and was in the drug business in Salt Lake City before coming to Rock Springs, and is well known throughout the intermountain country. About four years ago he married a Miss Anna Christensen of Richfield, Utah, who with one little son, are left to mourn his death.

John Chipm, aged 8 years, died last Sunday afternoon at his home on J street. After two weeks' illness he was held Monday afternoon preparatory to forwarding the remains to Ogden. Mr. Chipm's former home, Bishop James Crockett and Elder John Young spoke of his excellent qualities and offered words of consolation to the bereaved family. Mr. Chipm had lived very for a number of years and was also a pioneer resident of Ogden, and was the first to conduct a greenhouse in that city. He is survived by a wife, four sons and one daughter.

The Home Dramatic association, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. of M. I. A. presented Charles Townsend's "Capt. Racket" in a creditable manner, at the Grand Opera House, the 30th night, before a large and appreciative audience. Last evening a very successful social was held in the L. P. S. meetinghouse in honor of R. M. Helmer and family previous to their departure for their home in Morgan, Utah. They carry with them the good will, confidence and esteem of all with whom they have been associated.

Notes from Lyman, Wyo.—Spring seems to have come with April. The winter has been long and severe, in some parts of the district snowing has begun. A LA grippe is quite prevalent among old and young at present. No deaths have occurred in Lyman ward this winter. Elder Charles Jarnson has returned from Europe, where he has labored as a missionary 20 months. A number of new buildings are in course of erection in Lyman. The ward choir was recently reorganized with Charles Jarnson as leader, and Miss Mirra Marshall, organist. Miss Nettie Hollins and Joseph Shado were married at the home of the bride's parents, March 27. Bishop S. R. Branch performing the ceremony in the presence of about 50 invited guests. Also at the same time and place a reception was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hollins, who were married Feb. 15 at Granton by Bishop James Brown of Evanston ward. The bride was Miss Violet Evans. They are all highly respected young people of Lyman.
