I have labored now some two months in company with Elder Samuel Isom, our field of labor being Putnam county. We have met with success almost on every hand. Of course we have some trials to overcome, and encounter opposition at times, but by the help of the Lord, we are never found "wanting." If we would have salvation we must also have tribulation; if our path were one continual smooth course, strewn with roses, without any stumbling stones to cause us to keep our eyes open, or any thorns to prick our feet, we may know assuredly that we are not living strictly to a line of duty, for the decree has gone forth "He that feet, we may know assuredly that we are not living strictly to a line of duty, for the decree has gone forth "He that would live Godly in Christ Jesus, shall suffer persecution." But the testimony of the Elders, who labored in the South prior to the dedication of the House of the Lord in Salt Lake City, relative to the way they were entertained by the people, and the status of affairs at present, shows that a remarkable change has taken place. The people seem to be awakening from a deep sleep, to a sense of duty—prejudice and false reports, which have heaped themselves up mountain high, concerning our people, and the tenets of our religion, are fast being leveled down, and seeds of truth and righteousness are being planted in the hearts which hitherto had been seared with the hot iron of prejudice, scorched in by evil designing men. for their own gain and selfish ends. But all that men can say or do, against the work of the Lord, is cleared away when the light of the Gospel appears.

or oo, against the work of the Lord, is cleared away when the light of the Gospel appears.

We have been laboring of late in Crescent City and Denver, the latter place seems to be a hive of the Bees of Deseret," with a few wasps around, but when we rid them of their venomous sting, prejudice, they are rendered perfectly harmless. We expect to reap a bountiful harvest of sincere converts in the near future. The weather here at present is very sultry but we have a nice cool sea breeze moving all the time. I have enclosed a few clippings from the Florida Philosopher, of different dates: they will portray the other side of the question, in regard to our work in Crescent City, and vicinity; you may insert them if you so desire. Your brother in the Gospel,

Following are the clippings enclosed in Elder Elton's letter:

"Elder Samuel Isom and Elder David H. Elton, Latter-day Saints or Mormons from Utah, held meetings on Wednesday and Thursday nights of last week at the schoolhouse, as the use of the church was not proffered, and V. I. A. Hall could not be procured. The schoolhouse not being centrally located the audiences were small, but the second was larger than the first. Both Elders, who are comparatively young men, are good speakers and gave able sermons. They preach from the Bible, not from the "Book of Mormon," as some seem to think, and their preaching is similar to that of other denominations. They claim to preach the Gospel in its original purity, and travel "without purse or scrip." They take up no collections at their meetings, but do not refuse financial assistance from persons who voluntarily offer it. They say that polygamy has been abandoned in Utah, in accordance with the law passed by Congress. Much of the Mormon doctrine is good, but, like that of other denominations, some of it is open to criticism and doubt. For instance, one of the Elders expressed the bellef that God is a being having fiesh and bones like man, because the Bible says man was created in the image of God. Another interpretation of scripture set forth by one of the Elders was that as in the Garden of Eden Adam and Eve were told that they should surely die in the day they partook of the forbidden fruit, and that as a thousand years were as one day with the Lord, our first parents did die within the thousand years. It was also asserted that mankind in heaven have corporeal bodies of fiesh and bones, but without blood, the Spirit of God coursing through their veins. One of the best impressions created upon the audience was the assertion that the magnificent Mormon Temple at Salt Lake City is alawys open to other denominations who come along and have something to say. The Mormons are liberal enough to hear all sides, and are open to conviction it there are others who conviction it there are others who can propound a better system of religion than their own. The Elders have been stopping with Mr. Thurber, and they have held subsequent meetings at his house, we understand."

"The Mormon Eiders have been holding a series of well-attended meetings at Denver, embracing 2 Sundays, the 1st and 8th, and then baptised converts in the lake. They expect to hold meetings in Como, Pomona and Cisco, and later in Palotka, where several persons are to be baptised by them. During their stay of two weeks in this community they have held meetings nearly every night, we believe, both preaching at each meeting. It is the tabernacle in Salt Lake, and not the Temple, that is open to ministers of other denominations. The Temple is a smaller building, and is open only to members of the Church." The Mormon Elders have been hold-Messrs. Isom and Elton, the Mormon Elders. preached here last Thursday evening and twice on Sunday to large congregations. They last week baptised Mr. Daniel Turner and wife, of Georgetown, late in logging business at West Denver, and on Tuesday last they baptised Miss Melissa Higginbotham. There will probably be other Elders arrive during the month. Whether we agree with their doctrine or not, one cannot but admire the tireless zeal and energy they display in the cause they are advocating." energy they displathey are advocating.

The two Mormon Eiders, D. Eiton and Sam Isom, have raised a sort of religious fury in this vicinity. They preached here three times last week, and if they continue in this locality, as they say they intend doing, they will probably capture nearly the whole of the present church members and others. They do not present to their hearers the salient points of Mormonism, but confine themselves to expounding the regular version of the Bible. How their converts will take it when they find out they will have to believe in Joe Smith, the Book of Mormon and other oddities of the creed remains to be seen. By request, they will hold service here again on Thursday evening. It is said the clergy in places are getting much stirred up at the innovation. Then why do not they organize lectures to enighten the people in the real tenets of the Mormon faith?"
