DEMISE OF MISS SYLVIA WEST.

Lovely Girl of Fourteen Succumbs To a Long Standing Affliction.

CLEWOOD REOPENED TO PUBLIC

Grand Opera House Lease—Destructive Fire—Junction City News Briefs.

Miss Sylvia West, the fourteen-year-old daughter of Hon. and Mrs. Joseph A. West, departed this life yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Ogden general hospital, surrounded by her parents and other relatives. The young lady had been ill for some time, but was not seriously ill until Monday last. Physicians were consulted and decided that she had ruptured her stomach, and an operation would be necessary. Accordingly she was removed to the hospital where the operation was performed, for a day or so she rallied but grew worse again, and a second operation was performed from the effects of which she never fully recovered, growing gradually weaker until the end came. Sylvia was a very bright, beautiful little girl of a lovable disposition that endeared her to all who knew her. Through her pain and suffering she exercised great faith and patience, and hope of her recovery was held out to the end. When a little girl she drank some lye, from the effects of which she never fully recovered.

The stacks were located a short distance from the Ogden & Northwest company's motor line to the Hot Springs, and it is believed the blaze was caused through sparks from the motor, as it was discovered shortly after the train had passed.

Every mother feels a great dread of the pain and danger attendant upon the most critical period of her life. Becoming a mother should be a source of joy to all, but the suffering and danger incident to the ordeal makes its anticipation one of misery. Mother's Friend is the only remedy which relieves women of the great pain and danger of maternity; this hour which is dreaded as woman's severest trial is not only made painless, but all the danger is avoided by its use. Those who use this remedy are no longer despondent or gloomy; nervousness, nausea and other distressing conditions are overcome, the system is made ready for the coming event, and the serious accidents so common to the critical hour are obviated by the use of Mother's Friend. "It is worth its weight in gold," says many who have used it. $1.00 per bottle at drug stores. Book containing valuable information of interest to all women, will be sent to any address free upon application to BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.

but the building is practically destroyed. The loss is estimated at $1,500, with no insurance.
The fire is supposed to have originated by a spark from the flue which set the roof and the heavy wind that was blowing gave it great impetus.

TOOELE.

BURIAL OF ARCHIE SHIELDS.

One of God's Noblest Lovingly Laid to Rest—Another Death.

Special Correspondence.
Tooele City, Tooele Co., July 16.—The funeral services of Archie Shields, who was accidentally killed in Lake View last Wednesday, were held here yesterday. A large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends were present. Consoling remarks were made by Elders Philip De La Mere, John McLaws, John McKellar, Walter Adamson, President H. S. Gowan and Elder George Smith, the latter of Salt Lake City. All spoke in the highest terms of the faithfulness and kind hearted benevolence of the deceased, of his noble character and unflinching sympathy and help to every one in trouble or affliction. The whole community has indeed lost a dear friend and brother. Very few men in this country have left such a number of relatives. Six of his sons were his pall bearers. All of his living children, 13 in number, were present, also his sorrowing young wife, who witnessed the terrible tragedy, and a small host of grandchildren and nephews and nieces. The name of "Uncle Archie Shields" will ever be remembered with feelings of love and respect by this whole community, and his sudden and untimely death is the enjoyment of full health and strength is deeply regretted. He was an active member of the Forty-third quorum of Seventy.

MRS. JANE MALLETT DEAD.

Mrs. Jane Mallett, wife of George Mallett died in this city last Monday. She was born in England and came to Utah with her husband and children in 1868. She leaves a husband, three sons and two daughters to cherish her memory.

George Mallett, counselor of Bishop Atkins of this ward, is very dangerously ill. No hopes are entertained of his recovery. He has been very sick for months with diabetes and Bright's disease.

The hay crop, the heaviest in many years, has just been harvested, and the dry farmers are commencing to cut their grain. A very good crop is expected.

BEAVER.

EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES.

At Old Fort Cameron—Great Improvement in Beaver Branch B. Y. U.

Special Correspondence.
Beaver, Beaver Co., July 11.—"What an inviting place Old Fort Cameron is these hot days," is a common remark hereabouts just now. And, indeed, it is pleasant with its invigorating breezes, fresh, sparkling water, tall leafy trees casting their dense shade.
By the way, there have been many changes made here recently, and the end is not yet. In addition to the large gymnasium (300x100) which is now ready for the apparatus, another building of like dimensions situated on the northeast corner of the campus, is being placed in proper condition for school purposes. The workmen are now busy at the remodeling. These new quarters, when completed, will consist of one large room for general assembly purposes, and three classrooms. A new building has been erected just north of these quarters for use as a carpenter shop, wherein instructions in this useful branch will be given. This is a branch of industry that is to be introduced as one of the regular courses of the curriculum, and the new quarters are to be taught the coming school year. We are not informed just at present who are to be the instructors in these respective departments, but are assured that competent people will be engaged.
Our institution, the Beaver Branch of the Brigham Young university, is growing. The people of Beaver stake, who have so generously given of their means to aid the school, are determined that no failure shall be marked up against them, and are putting forth, under the competent direction of their board, every effort to maintain the high standard of the school and keep it fully abreast of the times.
The teaching force, too, will be augmented this year, so that there will be a strong and efficient faculty.
Work on the electric light plant is shortly to begin. The northwest corner of the 240 acres of the school's grounds has been secured, and something like three and a half acres have been purchased by the city for the powerhouse, engineer's residence, etc.
The convenience of electric lights will add materially to the comfort of students attending the B. Y. U.
Altogether we see a bright prospect for the coming school year. We feel that the people of our section should be proud of our church school, and should encourage it by their generous contributions. There are already many rooms on the grounds have been spoken for, and the cry is "fill them up!"

LIVELY SCHOOL ELECTION.

School Population of 499—Will Celebrate Pioneer Day—Hot Winds.

Special Correspondence.
Monroe, Sevier Co., July 14.—The school election for trustee was a close race; 170 votes were cast, Walter Jones winning by 6 votes, and thereby retaining his office.
The clerk of the school board finds in taking the census of children of school age a total of 499, being an increase of 24 from last year.
Winds are unusually hot and heavy this year, making it disagreeable for all classes of work as also injurious to crops.
Preparations are being made for a grand celebration on the Twenty-fourth, Pioneer day.

To Make It Clear.

Mr. Sheehan is reeling with gusto a story he had from Judge Parker at Esopus—"the only time," as the jurist puts it, "when the sincerity of my judicial utterances was ever impugned."

Years ago, when Parker was a trial judge and Counselor Nolan was living, a case came before him in which the plaintiff sued and recovered by lot of cards, alleging that he had been cheated. Nolan appeared for the plaintiff, and proceeded to explain the mysteries of poker, going through the whole liturgy of "chips," "blinds" and "antes."

"Really, counselor," interrupted Parker, with the utmost gravity, "your explanation of the methods and nomenclature of this so-called 'poker' game must be as perplexing to the jury as it is to the court. Can't you make it a little clearer?"

"Sure I can, your honor," answered Nolan, in a rich brogue. "Sure I can. It's your honor will kindly lend me the pack of cards your honor has in your honor's coat pocket."

UTAH STAKE CONFERENCE.

Interesting Addresses Made by Elders Rudgar Clawson and George A. Smith.

STAKE IN EXCELLENT CONDITION

Stake Primary Associations Reorganized—New Members of Board of Education—M. I. A. Conference.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, July 18.—The quarterly stake conference held Saturday and Sunday opened Saturday morning, President John presiding.

The Fifth ward juvenile choir sang, "O Jesus, the giver of all we enjoy."

Prayer was offered by Elder Milton H. Hardy.

Elder George S. Taylor, reported the High Council; remarks were made by Elder Arthur J. Southwick, Patriarch Alvin Huntington and Elder Rudgar Clawson, and Bishop Ernest D. Partidge of Provo Fourth ward, reported that union and progression characterized the people of the ward.

Benediction was offered by Patriarch John G. Jones.

In the afternoon, after the opening exercises, Elders Andrew Knudsen, Joseph E. Knudsen and Rudgar Clawson addressed the congregation; Elder W. D. Roberts of the Thirty-fourth quorum of Seventy, and Counselor George Povall of the Third ward Bishopric reported the quorum and ward named as in excellent spiritual condition.

The first speaker on Sunday forenoon was Elder Lafayette Holbrook of the stake presidency, who was followed by Elders S. P. Eldredge, M. H. Hardy and Bishop Alexander Gillespie of Pleasant View ward. Elder George A. Smith of the quorum of Apostles was the concluding speaker. He said the world looked upon the Latter-day Saints as a peculiar people, and he hoped that in the future this distinction would be more marked; that the rising generation would refrain from following in the footsteps of the world, and grow up a strong and exemplary race of men and women. The duties of parents in the care and training of children were earnestly set forth. The boys and girls should be taught proper principles, and guarded from the evils and temptations that are placed in their path, and by directing them in the way they should go, while the parents bless their parents for it in after years.

The habits of extravagance in various lines, including marriages and funerals were deprecated, and the members of the First ward were urged to use the influence against extravagant customs among the people.

In the Sunday afternoon session President David John addressed the congregation. He spoke of the increase in numbers and strength and power of the work of the Lord. The general members in the various wards of the stake, he said, were well attended, the various Church organizations were also well attended, and the schools were doing very successful work. In speaking of difficulties among the people, President John said that few cases only had come before the High Council of late. The High Council had to have the people settle their differences, without taking them before the High Council. He asked the people to come to the aid of the authorities in raising the fund that had been apportioned to this stake for the erection of the new building for the B. Y. university. He closed by exhorting the Saints to follow the admonition of Elder Smith to exercise vigilant care in the training of the young.

Elder Rudgar Clawson spoke in the highest terms of the efficiency of the choir, which was an honor not only to the stake but to the Church, and he hoped that a pipe organ would soon be secured for the building, as the choir deserved it. Prof. Bernhard was complimented for his ability and the members for their faithfulness. The speaker referred to the growth of the work of the Lord, and to the great work that must be accomplished both in temporal and spiritual directions in order to fulfill the predictions of the prophets of the Latter-day Saints.

Elder George A. Smith gave some practical advice on a variety of subjects. The speaker urged the people to appreciate the Bishops and other spiritual directors in the Church, and to let them know they were appreciated, and cease criticizing men and women who are doing the very best they can to perform the duties devolving upon them. In the matter of blessing children, the speaker directed that they should be taken to the fast meetings of the Saints, and blessed there. It was not sufficient to have the children blessed at home.

M. I. A. CONFERENCE.

In the evening a Mutual Improvement conference, attended by a large congregation, was held. The following speakers addressed the meeting, giving valuable counsel and instruction: President Joseph A. Burdette, Sisters Clara Jean Jarvis and Vilate Elliott, and Elders George A. Smith and Rudgar Clawson.

SCIENTIFIC MISCELLANY.

The experiments of C. Gutton, a French physicist, have shown that phosphorescence is increased by the action of a magnetic field. Phosphorescent substances prove very sensitive to magnetism, but only when the field is not uniform, and an intense but uniform field has no effect. The magnet has even been made to act upon the eye. Objects in an obscure chamber were dimly seen, and they appeared to become brighter when the magnet was brought near the eye. The rays, which also have this effect, were carefully screened off by lead-foil. Earlier attempts to find out whether a strong magnetic field affects the human body have given only negative results, and even a magnet large enough to admit the head between the poles showed no influence.

A simple and beautiful method of showing vortex rings is described by Robert E. Doran of Cork. A bulb is blown at one end of a glass tube, and the open end is contracted to the third or fourth of an inch in bore. Both bulb and tube are then completely filled with a 1 per cent solution of common salt to which ducconin has been added. The tube is clamped vertically over the center of a tall cylinder filled with water, and when the water is at rest the tube is lowered until it just touches the surface. The vortex rings begin at once to descend.

A crystalline theory of structure is offered by G. T. Bell, a British experimenter, to explain the hard and soft states of metals. The ordinary condition is crystalline, when the metal is soft, but in sudden cooling there is no time for the molecules to fall into regular formation, and the resulting solid is amorphous and hard. The co-existence of crystalline and amorphous layers accounts for the variety of structure in malleable and ductile metals.

Germany's latest great national industry, now in its infancy, is the production of alcohol for technical purposes. In the world's total production of alcohol, Germany is second, with 22 per cent, the shares of Russia and Austria-Hungary being slightly less, while France and the United States are each furnished 16 per cent. While technical applications, however, absorbed 38 per cent of Germany's production, they used but 15 per cent in France, and less than 8 per cent in Great Britain. Germany's technical consumption reached 127,000,000 liters, of which 88,000,000 were applied for power, light and heat, and 21,000,000 were used in the chemical industries, and the demand is increasing at an extraordinary rate. One establishment in Berlin supplies spirit for 1,570 motors. The chief raw material is potatoes in Germany, Austria and Russia; in Great Britain, Italy and Spain; and fruit and grapes in France; while molasses is of some importance in France, Austria and Hungary.
