THE TERRITORY'S LAST.

Gov. C. W. West Finishes Up His Business as Utah's Executive.

Before His Official Departure From Sept. 24, 1896, to Jan. 4, 1897—Continued in the Utah Chronicle.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, October 18, 1896.

To the Secretary of the Interior:

Sir: I have the honor to submit to you a final report of the Governor of the Territory of Utah, covering the term of office from September 24, 1895, to January 4, 1897, and the inauguration and installation of the Governor and other state officers, two days later.

The session of 1895 brought good crops to our farmers, an ordinary season of business in the mercantile and manufacturing industries, and, considering the continued financial depression all over the Union, a fairly good output from the mines. Our population steadily increased, our educational facilities improved, and our material progress has brought the different parts of the Territory into a much closer relationship than they ever have been in.

The all-branching trip among the people was, without a doubt, the most political party should be estimated.
