Burton, Judge W. N. Dusen-berry, Mayor James O. Bollock, berry Pioneers John Brown, Henson Walker, John Gleason and others. Many people came from the surrounding settiements, about sixty wagon loads coming from Lehi, with the silver band. There were present[about 1,200 persons over 70 from Balt Lake county and about 2,500 other people of all ages, Including the oldest lady in-Pleasant Grove, Mrs. Pfoulz, aged 94.

The program commenced at 11:25 by the Old Folks' choir singing "Auld Lang Syne,"and prayer was offered by Elder Lyman.

The choir then sang We Shall Know and Mayor Bullock made a brief address of welcome and notified the old This folks that luncheon was ready. consisted of a bountecus repast served in spiendid style in the grove by 150 waitresses. Then the guests had a short time for mingling in general conversation and indulging in reminiscences of early days, many interest-ing scenes being recalled.

About 1 n'clock clouds began to lower and a shower threatened. There was a rumbling of thunder, but the breeze swept the clouds to the southeast and there was no dow upour. At 1:80 tall over 90 were called to the patform and those from Salt Lake reponded. Mrs. Margaret Pfutz. 94, Jacob E. Terry, 90, and Wm. Harrison, 93, also came. All were given front seate, While the company was assembling the Lehiband played and the Old Folks' choir sang, O My Father.

The veteran George Goddard was received with applause. He said Charles R. Savage was the man who was the prime mover of the Old Folks day. He instituted it twenty years ago, Brother Giddard called for those who attended the first excursion to Lake Point in 1875. About thirty-five stood up. Brother Goddard said he was thankful for the beautiful wea-ther, and added: "All who are thankful to our Heavenly Father as I am say aye." There was a loud chorus of nyes. "God bless you all," the veteran responded, after which the Lehi hand played and Elder Brigham Young was called for. He addressed his remarks to the fathers and mothers in Iersel, the Latter-day Sainte and friende. He blessed the people present and wished them peace and the enjoy meut of many occasions like this.

Agnes Olson Thomas sang The Swance River.

Elder Francis M.Lyman said he bad been with the Old Folks only once before, ten years ago, at Garfield. He spoke of this pleasant grove and ex-pressed a wish to meet here again. He agreed that for every one over 70 who died there were two or three coming in. The old tolks were increasing. Those who pass away should be able to carry good news to the other side and tell how we love and cherish the old tolks in Utah. He biessed the committee, the young people who were kind to the aged, and the old folks. He believed would become remarkable for Ttah Jove and respect for the old folks. Mother Margaret Plouiz, who was at Haun's Mill, is now 95 years old and does her own housework, was intro-duced and received with three cheers. Misses Frampton and Swenson, of Pleasant Grove, sang a duet. Those over 90 were asked to arise and eight They were given three Mother Janett Aird, 96 os bib cheers. last February, was announced the oldest person present. Patriarch John Brown, ohe of the Ploueers, expressed his delight at what existed here now compared with 1847. He was followed by Elder John Henry Smith and Chairman Thorne. The Doxology was sung, then prayer by Joseph E. Taylor, and the company went into the cars to avoid a prospective shower. The train jeaves for Sait Lake at five; all well. The Old Folks got between the rain-storms yesterday all right, eccaping all, and arriving in safety in this city at 6:30 last eveniog. The program Pleasant Grove was shortened a little by threatening weather, and the compauy moved into the railway cars for protection, but the shower did not The northbound train came in come. The northbound train came in from Provo a little before 4 o'clock dripping wet, and reporting a heavy storm on Provo bench, six miles south, but it moved over to the hills, whose tops, after the cinuds had cleared a way, were seen to be covered with newly tallen snow.

On the homeward trip, as on the outward run, the Old Folks' choir, consisting of Wm. Foster, leader; H. S. Ensugu, D. M. McAllister, En H. Pierce, Joseph R. Morgan, Heury Gardner, Heury Leyland, Mrs. Julia Heury Silverwood, Lizz e Newton, Agues Oisou-Thomas, Mary Cooper, Alice Foeter, Alice Ellis, Millie Lyon and Alice McLachian, went through the cars enteriaining the company with beautiful musical selections. The veteran George Goddard also visited the various coaches, and was a whole fund of entertainment in himself. U. R. Savage, N. A. Empey, Wm. Naylor, Wm. Eddington, Wm. L. Blader. John Kirkman, and the other members of the committee, also worked with that energy and capability which always characterizes them.

The train arrived in this city half an hour shead of the time announced for the return. This was owing to the fact that, as all the old folks had taken seats in the cars half an hour be ore the intended starting time, it was deemed advisable not to the them or give opportunity for impatience, hence Superintendent J. H. Young, of the Union Pacific, who was on hand all day attending to the wants of the company, readily acceded to the com-mittee's request to pull out for Salt Lake. The run to this city was a most pleasant ride; and at each stopping place the old folks were tenderly assisted by the committee and aids into the hands of their friends. At the various stations in the county's uth, vehicles were in readiness, and in this city the Salt Lake company had a long train of electric street cars ready to convey the veterant to any part of town free of charge. The Rapid Transit company also extended free service to the old folks as usual.

A count of the old folks was made. showing 1,092 over seventy, exclusive of the hundred and over who gatuered in from Pleasant Grove, Lehi, and other Utab county points. The entire trainload as it entered Utab county numbered 1,245 persons, in pineteen cars. These passenger coaches were of the first class equipment, including vestibuled and chair cars, there not being a second class coach in the lot. Owing to the heavy business elsewhere, the Union Pacific found that and noti-spare only thirteen coaches, and noti-The committee at once apevening. The committee at once ap-plied to the Rio Grande Western to lend five coaches, and the request was granted at once, spiendid cars being lurnished.
