BOND SALE QUESTION. In the Absence of Recorder Can His

Deputy Sign for Him? Anent the recent sale to Shepard & Co of New York, of the $250,000 waterworks improvement bonds a point has been raised as to whether the signature of Deputy Recorder Nystrom would be legal, and whether the city council, under the laws of the State, has power to delegate such authority to Mr. Nay-lor's deputy. The recorder is at pres-ent in Europe and, of course, it would be out of the question to send the bonds to him for signing, owing to the amount of time it would consume. Some hold that in the absence of the recorder the signature of his deputy is legal. The matter has been referred to City At-torney Stephens for an opinion. It is said that Recorder Naylor in-

It is said that Recorder Naylor In-tends resigning in order to fill a mission in Germany and those supposed to be in a position to know say his resignation may be received any day.
