

HERRICK BOWS TO PEOPLE'S WILL

Declares Real Issues in the Ohio Campaign Were Forgotten and Passion Appealed To.

GREATEST DANGER OF THE DAY

Is Readiness of the American People To Forsake Party Principles and Follow Some Individual.

Columbus, O., Nov. 9.—Gov. Herrick today gave a statement to the Associated Press, in which he said:

"The people of Ohio, by a substantial majority, have debated me for government. I bow to their will and trust that their welfare may be the only aim of the new administration.

"This overthrow of the Republican party in Ohio was not caused by business depression or industrial adversity anywhere in the state or nation; it was not caused by any mismanagement or corruption in the condition of the state government; it was not caused by any discontent on the part of the people with the record or achievements of the Republican party in the administration of state affairs during the last 14 years. It was shown conclusively in the campaign that the business affairs of the state had been well managed; that all the state's debt had been paid; that there is a splendid surplus in the treasury; that the state institutions have been honestly, effectively and economically administered; and that nowhere in any office or department of the state government has there been any breath of scandal or of official misconduct.

"In the legislative department of the government the record of the Republican party has been equally as clean.
It has given the people wise and progressive laws, especially in the matter of moral advancement and temperance reform, and in the way of a juster and more equitable system of taxation, the party has deserved public confidence and approval. But, despite all these things, the people of Ohio have been swept away from the moorings of truth by a wave of prejudice and suspicion.

"Undoubtedly there is a healthy spirit of moral reform, and a widespread insistence upon honesty and integrity in public officers, being manifested all over the land. That spirit has shown itself in the election of Jerome in New York, the triumph of Weaver in Philadelphia, and, earlier, the breaking down of party lines in Massachusetts, Minnesota and Missouri. This fact and higher results make it easy to excite the supernatural, the conscience and mislead the impulse of the people of Ohio. The real issues of the campaign were forgotten and the passion that was appealed to throughout the state was to strike down something dear, to destroy something, to avenge some fancied wrong, to avenge some fancied wrong, to avenge some fancied wrong.

"The greatest danger now confronting the American people is the ready-ness, in response to some sudden whim or pretext, to desert party principles and follow some individual who claims sometimes with sincerity, often with hypocrisy, to represent a cause that is higher than party feuds. This spirit which would destroy party government and party responsibility, and establish individual leadership in its stead, may advance some personal ambitions, but can accomplish no good to society. It offers the most fruitful field for the demagogue and the demagogue, and while some good may be done by such a power upon a popular wave that carries principles, the strain upon our institutions and upon the fundamental truths which lie at the bottom of our government will leave the structure weaker rather than stronger.

"The individual who, in seeking self-advancement, is willing to abuse the people from the principles and policies of government to the addition of a popular idol, to an enemy of his country. The newspaper which, in order to swell the profits of the counting-room, is willing to poison to sensationism, to deceive the people and play upon the credulity of the unthinking, is an enemy of mankind.
"Here in Ohio in this campaign, and elsewhere in other political contests, we have had too many instances of that spirit which is ready to defame and destroy in order to profit by the noise.
The Democratic party is the immediate beneficiary in this state. What I said repeatedly in the campaign is borne out already by the attitude of that party since the election. Its leaders everywhere are proclaiming my defeat as a Democratic victory. The attempt to give it national significance is already apparent, for attention is being called to the fact that the Brannock bill and pool bill, and the business charge of "bossism" were lost sight of in the general impulse to strike down the Republican party.

"The returns bear out this claim and this purpose on the part of the Democratic leaders. They show that both extremists on the temperance question, the saloonist and the anti-saloonist, whom I had displeased because I declined to be controlled by either, voted against me at the polls. They show that the advocates of race track gambling contributed very little to the result and they show that in these communities, like Cleveland and Cincinnati, where "bossism" was the chief issue, the whole party went down to defeat.

The one keen regret I feel over the result arises from the disappointment felt by the thousands of Republicans of Ohio whose support of the ticket, and the whole ticket, was the earnestness of their steady loyalty to party principles. They have my heartfelt thanks and deepest gratitude for their sincere devotion.

"I have no other regrets. I discharged my duties as governor of Ohio with an eye and purpose solely of doing the best interests of all the people. My conscience is clear. What I did with respect to the Brannock law was done in the interest of justice and morality and intended to strengthen that measure as a temperance law. I would do the same thing over again. The unconstitutional measures I vetoed I would veto again. The extravagant appropriations that I declined to approve I would decline to approve again.

"If the people of Ohio defeated me because they disapproved of my action with respect to these measures, they acted wisely, for if I had been given a second term, I would have been actuated by the same motives and I would have pursued the same course whenever the occasion arose. I am sure that the people in whose ultimate judgment and sense of justice I have the profound-est faith, I beseech for my successor that support and confidence which should always accompany the public servant, and I trust that for every example of an honest purpose to serve the general welfare he may resolve that approval to which an upright conscience is entitled.

LITTLE GIRL IN RED.

Sent All Alone From Jersey City
to Bismarck, N. D.

New York, Nov. 9.—A little girl in red so little that she has not mastered the intricate art of dressing herself unassisted, started yesterday from Jersey City for the home of her mother and father in Bismarck, N. D. She carried a Maltese kitten in her arms, candy was sticking out all over her like prismatic quills and whenever she indented about silver coin of all kinds in her pockets made her jiggle like a sleigh.

She is Freda Petroska of Warsaw, Poland, five years of age. Her father and mother came here three years ago and bought a farm in North Dakota, leaving Freda with her grandmother.
After they had got the farm into good shape and paying they sent for Freda.
She took passage in the steamer of the Hamburg-American line, Moltke, but when the cabin passenger heard about her, traveling all alone and tagged for her destination as all lone baby voyagers are, they asked permission to bring her up into the cabin, which the captain granted. From then on she was the pet of the ship.

QUIET REIGNS AT CRONSTADT.

Mutinous Sailors Have Submitted And Several Hundred Leaders Have Been Deported.

TROOPS POURING INTO THE CITY

Pillaging Has Been Stopped—No Rioting During the Night—No More Trouble Probable.

Cronstadt, Nov. 10, noon.—All is quiet at Cronstadt today. The mutinous sailors have all submitted and several hundred leaders have been deported from the island. The troops are pouring into the city from all directions by water. Besides machine guns, other street artillery and a battery of quick-firing field guns arrived here on scares from St. Petersburg and were debarked shortly before noon at the steamerboat landing. Any further disorder at present is utterly out of the question. The mutineers or rowdies gilted the Taurar and Jews markets and on Pavloff street, near the barracks, the "seventh fort" equipped to which the mutinous sailors belonged destroyed 10 modern business blocks and a number of smaller stores. The fires burned themselves out during the night and today the buildings are only heaps of smoking ruins. The fires burned almost a week ago. There was little attempt to check them as the firemen shared in the general demoralization and many of them became intoxicated.

The influx of troops at Cronstadt has exceeded the barracks capacity of the war port and soldiers are everywhere bivouacking in the streets, huddling about the remnants of last night's watch fires and barge-dunk with merchants for fresh bread and other necessaries. The business streets sacked by the rioters present a lively picture today.
There are crowds of spectators on the sidewalks watching the unfortunate owners of burned buildings who are salvaging their property from the heaps thrown into the streets and from the wrecked interiors of stores. Patrols mingling with all the crowds prevent further pillaging.

There was no disorder during the night. Late in the evening a squad of loyal rioters bearing a white flag attached to a bayonet marched to the district occupied by the mutineers and induced them to surrender, pointing out their revolt was merely being used as a cover for robbery and pillage on the part of the rosy classes. The "Tigers," as the rioters are termed at Cronstadt, wished to renew the pillaging during the night under cover of darkness and general disorganization, but were unable to do so. The troops and inhabitants working in full cooperation, prevented even attempts at further looting.

LETTER FROM CLEVELAND.

Tells of Public Duty and College Training.

New York, Nov. 9.—Grover Cleveland, who was to have spoken at the Princeton alumni dinner in East Orange, N. J., tonight, was unable to attend, and sent the following letter, which was read:

"There has never been a time in our national life when public duty and public service, as well as the obligations of judicial position, called more loudly for the direct interposition of the steady and conservative strength of university and college training.

"In this emergency those who have been favored with the teachings and influence of Princeton should be neither blind nor deaf. True to their teachings, they should be the first to demonstrate that loyalty to her means loyalty to national honor and safety and obedience to her traditions and care for righteousness, they should do battle under the banner bearing the device "Thou shalt not steal."

YOUNG PIERSON'S DEATH.

Delta Kappa Epsilon Repudiates Aspersions Upon Its Members.

New York, Nov. 9.—Declaring that the report that Stuart S. Pierson, a young Kenyon college student of Mount Vernon, O., was tied to the railroad tracks on Oct. 28, while awaiting initiation into the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity, "is absolutely false and has no basis," and that the death was wholly accidental, the fifty-ninth annual convention of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity which began in this city today, called on all members of the body and on kindred societies to do their utmost to dispel the alleged misrepresentation of the facts in the case.
A report was compiled by Dr. Reeves, secretary of the faculty of Kenyon college and Rev. William Pierce, president of the Delta Kappa Epsilon, occupied the entire afternoon session.

Statement by Mayor McClellan.

New York, Nov. 9.—Mayor McClellan tonight made public the following statement:

"The election returns show my election by a plurality of 4,180 votes. These returns are the results of procedure prescribed by law and they are expres-sively correct. I believe they are correct. Therefore I will take all legiti-mate means to protect my rights, as well as those of the voters. If my adversary appeals to the law to overthrow what are the legal returns of the results of the election I will meet him fully prepared to vindicate these results. To the courts, where these differences must be passed upon, every candidate and every citizen should readily submit."

Socialists Gain in Massachusetts

Boston, Nov. 8.—A tabulation of the vote for the Socialist, Socialist Labor and Prohibition candidates for governor was practically completed today, and against the Socialist party has gained official recognition by polling 3 per cent of the total vote.
Next year the party will be entitled to official recognition on the ballots without the necessity of individual endorsements of its state candidates. The Socialist Labor party gained about 70 votes over last year's record. The strength of the Prohibition party showed little change.

Train Wrecker Sent Up for Life.

Marengo, Ill., Nov. 8.—Eric Von Kutzeben, alleged German baron, who caused a train wreck on the Rock Island at Homestead last spring, just to "see what would happen" was sentenced to life imprisonment here today.

A number of lives were lost in the wreck.

WOULD-BE SUICIDES.

Tom L. Johnson Will Appoint Commission to Dissuade Them.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Cleveland, Ohio, says: Mayor Tom Johnson, alarmed at the official report that there have been 65 suicides in Cleveland in the last nine months has taken steps to check the carnival of self-destruction. He has appointed a commission, whose duty it will be to attempt to dissuade would-be suicides from taking their own lives.
The commission is made up of Director of Charities Dudley W. A. Greenland, a member of the charity bureau, and State Senator-elect F. C. Howe.
Every man or woman in Cleveland who is contemplating suicide is invited to write a letter to the anti-suicide commission and tell their troubles. The members of the committee will then make an effort to remove the trouble.
For people despondent from non-employment the commission endeavors to obtain employment while the needs and wants of others seeking aid are looked after. All three men are experienced in such work and their labors so far have proved satisfactory.

Conference on Cuba.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Senator Cullison of Illinois had a talk with Secy. Root today relative to Cuban conditions, reference being made among other things to the question of sanitation. The senator was assured by Mr. Root that everything is being accomplished that can be consistently done in the island.

Maryland Legislature.

Baltimore, Nov. 9.—The only changes indicated by latest returns from the election of last Tuesday affect the lower house of the state legislature, which, it is now indicated, will be made up of 51 Democrats, 47 Republicans and three Independent Democrats, a loss to the Democrats of two members as compared with previous reports.

Liberals Carry Alberta.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 9.—It looks at present as if the Liberals had made a clean sweep in today's elections in Alberta. Eight constituencies have been heard from and all have gone Liberal. The opposition leader, Bennett, has been defeated in Calgary.

STEAMER ST. PAUL.

Stranded on Gorda Rocks in October Destroyed by Fire.

Burke, Cal., Nov. 10.—What wind and wave failed to accomplish in the destruction of the steamer St. Paul, which stranded on the point Gorda rocks early in October, was accomplished last night by fire. The flames broke out early last night, according to the report made this morning by Capt. Inverness of the steamer Pasaden. When the Pasadena passed the St. Paul that vessel was a mass of flames. Smoke and fire were pouring out of her forward and after hoods. The light was so brilliant that the cabin lar by Capt. Inverness, who is of the St. Paul. The origin of the fire is known, but it is supposed that some of the crew engaged in saving the cargo from the steamer, but there was much value aboard.
