Lorenzo J. Haddock, traveling sales-man for the J. G. McDonald Candy ling his residence in Idato he was a live correspondent for the Dosing company, was last night elected secretary and manager of the Manufacturers & Merchants' association to succeed C. O. Harris.

"Lon" Haddock was selected from a number of applicants, or to be more correct, the applicants were passed up and Mr. Haddock asked to accept the position. He will assume his new duties on Oct. 1. The old adage regarding good things being done up in small parcels holds good in Mr. Haddock's case. Those who know him affirm that he is first, last and all the time a hustler. For several years Mr. Haddock was connected with the electrical supply business in this city and then went to Bolse and Peen-tello, where he went into business for the parasol is thus attached to the wrist and never released, whether the sumshade is open or closed. "Fashion has veered round in the most extraordinary manner this year." the manager of a Regent-site i firm said to an Express representative yesterday. "Last season the handles were very prominent. A duck's head, the size of the real bird, was quite common, and dogs, cats, pigs and rabhits were among the favored designs. This sum-mer the demand is for fragility. "For instance, one parasol, which will sinde a society beauty at Azet, is fitted with a tiny silver chain, set with emeralds, which slips over its middle finger. This is all the headle it possesses, and the stick is not much thicker than a good sized penell. "The 'flower chain' parasol is made of white chiffer, hand-nainted with the owner's favorite blossoms. tells of the way he put an fresh and reduced his irritability and nervous condition. By chance be had a taste of Graps-Nuts food at the table of a friend and enjoyed the flavor so much that he began to have it every meal. He says: "In a short time I found myself an-other person, the old feeling of discon-tent and uncasiness left me entirely, it became a pleasure to go about my work, whereas, before, for years, I had always had the feeling of being a little wary, but now I seem to have a sur-plus of energy for everything; my weight has increased it pounds in four weeks, and am still gaining. "The change that this food hus mads in my life has been remarkable and so satisfactory that I am glad of the eoportunity to tell you." There's a reason."
