

Seeks Husband in Male Attire.

Mrs. Dorothy Clarke has reached New York, after a trip from Alaska and all over the United States in search of her husband. In itself this fact may not be unusual, but Mrs. Clarke may claim distinction by virtue of the fact that she has covered this great territory while disguised as a young man and her sex was never guessed until she landed on Broadway.

This woman is 33 years old, yet, in her boy's suit, looks like a naturally gifted youth of 20. She tells a story of wandering which would make a great novel or a unique play. Claiming wealthy relatives in San Francisco, she refuses to apply to them, but insists on visiting all sorts of places in every city she visits, in the hope of finding her errant spouse. So long as she does not wear male clothing the police have no charge against her and she will probably be permitted to continue her search unmolested.

NEW YORK'S CONSPICUOUS POLICE CHIEF.

Theodore Bingham, retired brigadier-general, United States army, and commissioner of police of the City of New York, is the most interesting character to hold this important office since the era when Theodore Roosevelt occupied that chair.

Gen. Bingham has created more reforms than any commissioner who ever held the office, not excepting Mr. Roosevelt, is cordially hated by the "system" and feared by all who use public office for private gain. He is outspoken to seeming rudeness, hates a crook and abhors a crooked politician, but has for his true friends the better element of the metropolis, who realize that he is sincere in his work and is neither sake favor nor fears criticism. He is a very unusual man and his army training makes him appear something of a martinet, yet to all sincere citizens, who have the welfare of the community at heart, he is believed to be the best head of the police department ever known in the history of New York city.

A BUTTERFLY DAM.

"As the sewage of Chicago, pouring into the Chicago river from all the houses in an area of some 300 square miles, going down the south branch into the drainage channel and down the drainage channel to the Illinois river and to the Mississippi, it will encounter, near Lockport, a new and a wonderful kind of dam, a butterfly dam, a dam that will be capable of being swung around bodily in the current of the stream on two enormous metal pins.

"It is, perhaps, a mistake to say that the sewage of Chicago will itself encounter this dam. By the time the water of the drainage channel reaches Lockport it is a slimy, brown, and stinky, running water, like a sewer, and it is not until it reaches the dam, and if it goes far enough to see the dam, it will be a very different thing. It is only about 15 miles from Chicago, but by the time the polluted waters of Lake Michigan and of the Chicago river have arrived at that point they look as innocent as if they had never had any part at all.

"It is water, then, and not sewage, which will flow towards the butterfly dam. But it will not flow over it. That is the curious thing about butterfly construction. The water will flow by the dam. The dam will swing aside to let it pass, just as a bridge swings aside to let an ore steamer go down the Calumet river.

"This remarkable dam will be one of the greatest curiosities in that institution of corruption, the Chicago drainage channel. The spectacle of a river flowing the wrong way against its natural inclination, the monstrous bayonet of the dam and the butterfly dam, which the sewage of a great city is concluded across the quiet plains of an inland state, the gigantic concrete caissons through which, near Point, the waters of the channel will surge downward, making electricity as they pass, these things will not attract a single number of amazed spectators from the dam which Butters its wings in indignation of the beautiful insect after which it is named."—William Hard in Technical World Magazine.

DANCING PROVES FATAL.

Many men and women catch cold at dances which increase in pneumonia and consumption. After exposure to the cold, many things will not attract a single number of amazed spectators from the dam which Butters its wings in indignation of the beautiful insect after which it is named."—William Hard in Technical World Magazine.

Don't.

Don't think because you have taken many remedies in vain that your case is incurable.

You have not taken Hood's Sarsaparilla.

It has cured many seemingly hopeless cases of eczema, catarrh, rheumatism, kidney complaint, dyspepsia and general debility—many cases that may have been worse than yours.

What this great medicine has done for others it can do for you.
