

Little Fighter Has no Intention Of Retiring, at Least Not Now.

HE RECEIVES MANY OFFERS.

Although Only Twenty Years of Age He Has a Bank Account That Reaches the $20,000 Mark.

When "Young Corbett" gave Eddle. Hanlon that terrific beating in their sixteen round contest, it was freely predicted that the little coast fighter would be lost sight of in the pugilistic world. No doubt the beating he received did him a great deal of harm as a professional fighter, but it did not kill him in that respect by any means. He went East and took on sevmeans eral of the fast little men, and he made considerable money. Then he journeyed back to his native beath and engaged in the now famous bout with Battling Nelson. He received another terrific walloping, and again the gossips had it that he would retire. The umor no doubt started as a result of the wishes of Eddie's relatives. They want him to quit the prize ring, but the padded whees of Eddle's relatives. They want him to quit the prize ring, but the padded arena still holds some fascination for bim, and there is not much probability of nim retiring for some time at least. The little fellow could quit the "busi-ness" all right, and not suffer the pange of hunger by so doing. Although he got the loser's end in the battle with Neison, when he counted up his holdings the next oay, he found that, in cash and reni es-tate, be was worth $20,000-a thousand collars for each year of this life. A nice ittle sum for a young fellow to have smassed by his own individual enfort, His people are urging him to leave the ring and engage in some business which would support him, but this does not ap-peal to him. Since he was beaten by Neisen, clubs from all parts of the coun-try have sent him offers. Bobby Deady of Philadeiphia wired: "You are as popu-lar as ever. Will match you any time you want to come." Deady is a stanch triend of Billy Delaney. Jim Morley, the Los Angeles baseball magnate, offered him a size units him to come to Scattle and box Louie Long soon. The San Francisco athetic club signified its willingness to match Hanlon with Neison next month, but Eddie refused this bout, as he wants to rest. "Neison was too strong for me." said but is due related this body for me." said "Nelson was too strong for me." said Eddle. "Up to the fifteenth round I thought I had him sure. Then I began to get thred and my arms seemed to go back on me. Up to the fifteenth I think my blows had more steam behind them than ever. I was biting fine. "The only scratch I got that hurt was a busted finger nail. I don't know how I did it, but I tore a nail on my right hand and this bothered me some. I guess I will lose the nail."

The season is half over now and the Giants are leaders by a comfortable mar-gin. Whether the invasion of the Western teams will pull them down remains to be seen, Manager McGraw of the Giants says it won't be seen. "These Westerners are not new to us," said the little manager to a reporter. "We beat them ten out of sixteen on their own grounds on our last western trip, and I don't see that we can't at least equal that record now that we have them on our own grounds." Manager McGraw was much displeased over the fact that his team was much displeased over the fact what his team was mable to play the Chicagos on account of the inclement weather. McGraw held off until the last minute before he canceled the game, hoping that the rain would stop. "Do you think that the games which celed the game, hoping that the rain would stop. "Do you think that the games which you are to play the Western teams will determine whether the Glants will win the pennant or not?" he was asked. "Yes, I think so. If my team can win the majority of these games I cannot see how they can beat us out of the pen-pant."

ant." "Do you intend to answer Ban John-son's statement that the Giants are afraid to play the Highlanders at the end of the season?" "Now, if you're going to ask that I will have to ask you to stop questioning me. I have said all I am going to say about playing the Highlanders a series of games. There is no chance of the New York National league ever playing the Highlanders and that settles it. I don't care a rap what Ban Johnson or anyone else that is connected with the American league has to say to the contrary."

Twenty games are yet to be played, but it is claimed that Wilmot is busiling hard to get enough money to carry the team through to the end of the season. Re-ports have it that since the team has been winning, the attendance has been worse than when the team lost, and Wise Wai-ter Wilmot has a scheme which he thinks will create a change in this respect. He proposes to sell books for the remainder of the games in Buite. He expects to get 10 each for the books and in that way raise the necessary.

Spreckels' Napa stock farm and will be sold at Sheepshead Bay August 31. There are twenty colts and three fillies and the maojrity are by Marius II and Solitaire, the English stallions. With the new strain and the unusual elimate of last season the yearlings have the appearance of two and three-year-olds. If the Agricultural College of Logan does not boast of the champion football eleven of the state this season, it will not be the fault of Coach Campbell and mem-bers of the athlette council. Already they are making preparations for a great football campaign, including games with teams of Washington University, Oregon, Nevada, California, besides contexts with teams of this state. It is expected that the team will be ready to start on the trip about the middle of October and will be gone for nearly a month. It is be-leved that all the good men of last year's team will be back on the gridlron, and other good timber is showing up.

The cut shows a fine new structure at Busaco, Portugal, which was intended for a palace, but will be converted into a hotel. It was designed as a residence for the present king of Portugal when he was the crown prince and was constructed without regard to expense. Before it was completed the prince succeeded to the crown and had no use for the new palace, royal residences being exceedingly plentiful in Portugal. Work on the beautiful building was at once stopped, and it was left desolate. Finally a company obtained posses-sion of it and remodeled it to suit the purposes of a modern hotel. Busaco is a most interesting place. Wellington is said to have pitched his tent in the hotel grounds.
