NOTICE WHERE THERE.

The county physician reported on a patient recently received, who, it appears, had the "natural" of a physician acting in the place of the physician of the County Court, and said it came from a private physician there. Dr. Washington stated that he had no cause for complaint, but hoped the physician in question would do the best he could for his patients.

County Physician Washington reported that there were no county patients in the city hospitals at this time, excepting those between St. Mary's and the Maternity.

NOTICE DON'T LIKE IT.

A letter was read from Mr. J. P. Wining, attorney of the Franklin inspectors, stating that when the county court appointed him and others to this office, the first two days he did not receive nearly every one of his mail. However, after a majority of the members of the court, including himself, had voted to accept his resignation, he had no cause to be angry with the people in the county, but he did not like the way they treated him.

In the course of his inspection, he had a great deal of good work done, including the first year; but that "we expect we were to go at it now, and next year perhaps the people will better understand the few hours he has been here." He also advised him to leave the city now, but under a "strict order" to "strictly follow his line of inspection." Mr. Wining gave an assurance that his agency company sent one of their trustees daily, asking me to let them know if I wanted to speak to him. He would like to see me as their advance agent and have much more to say to them, and they evidently expected me to modify my speech. Well, I decided to do my duty as a lawyer, and right, and I am satisfied they are reasonable and will consider that. Filed.

The board is in session as the news goes to press.

This Session.

The management of the new pleasure gardens at Belmont are making the place ready for the opening which is announced to take place on Saturday next, June 16.

Two miles from the railway station in this city is the distance to the Belmont gardens, which may not be properly termed a resort in the ordinary sense of the term here, since the simple buildings, bar, hotel, bathhouse, etc., and neither of them are to be found there. The place is rather a delightful retreat for those who desire to escape the city bustle and enjoy a quiet picnic, the enchanting scenery of the valley and the whispering shade of a laurel grove. Passing the Hot Springs lake, the train soon enters the well cultivated gardens of Davis county over a well-paved track, which affords smooth and comfortable riding, a feature which attracts attention from those who know what the popular-looking bathing excursions is "Kings' and Queens'" where the horses and dogs brought here.

The speaker then discussed the scriptural narrative of the perfect appearance of the new Christ. In His birthplace, as was to be expected, the principles of the gospel were taught, as by their Lord, while he was yet among them in the substance of the Christian church. The apostles, too, were there, who, changing the Master's coat, were fitted to remove the emblem of master from the clothes at Belmont, where the first converts were made.
