A Residence Takes Fire is the Night, and is Destroyed with its Con- tents Betere all its Im- mates can be Rescued. On Wednesday night, Mound Fort a sett lement just north of Ogden City was the scene of one of the most shocking occurrences that has ever taken place in this region, resulting in the burning to death of two young girls, aged 14 and 6 years respectively whose remains were charred beyond recognition, the fearful injury of the mother of the youngest child, and the entire destruction of Mr. Shaw's resi- dence and contents, including a sum of money, the loss aggregating several thousand dollars. The bereaved and suffering family have the sympathy of the entire community. The Ogden Herald has the following account of the horrible calamity: About half-past eleven o'clock last night the sleeping inhabitants of the Junction City were aroused from their | as the full import of the information was forced upon him, he left those who surrounded him and retired a short time to weep alone and mediate over the awful calamity which had overtaken him. Salt Lake City vs. Charley Ching. Salt Lake County vs. J. A. Fitzgerald-3 Salt Lake County vs. Mrs. L. Madsen. Salt Lake County vs. Sing Howe. Salt Lake County vs. Samuel L. Tobias, et al.

The attorneys for the defendants yesterday moved to have the cases - reinstated for trial, and arguments were made pro and con, some of the defendants claiming that the judgment in the justice's court could not be enforced, and that the defendants had been deprived of a right to a trial by jury. Judge Zane this morning rendered a decision sustaining the claim of the city and county attorneys, that when an appeal was dismissed from the District Court, the judgment and costs could be enforced, and that in cases where a right of appeal to the District Court existed there was no deprivation of the right to a trial by jury. The Judge also stated that it would be a rule of the District Court hereafter, that when parties appealed from a judgment in a justice's court, they should deposit with the clerk a sufficient amount to cover the necessary costs, or make affidavit that they were unable to do so, thus insuring a sufficient interest on the part of the appellant to use due diligence in the prosecution of the appeal, and not leave the case, as has been done heretofore, to go along without adjudication, and thus escape the penalty inflicted in the lower court. The cases above named were reinstated upon payment of the costs.

Information Wanted. -A. R. Sayre, of Bible Grove, Clay County, Illinois, writes to us for information concerning the whereabouts of William Campbell or Timothy Whalen, whom he supposes to be in this region. The former, he says, removed from New THE York to Indiana and from there to Council Bluffs, Iowa. His wife's name was Mary Ann. If any of our readers are in possession of the desired in-formation they will please send it to the address given.

-On Fridayi last, J. T. Hindmarsh, his son John Hindmarsh, and John Davis were arrested in Provo for stealing a quantity of whisky, beer, patent medicines and other articles from the Shoebridge drug store. Sher-iff Turner, in making the arrest, had to force his way into Hindmarsh's bas-ket shop, next door to the drug-store, where he found the elder Hindmarsh and Davis in a state of beastly intoxi-cation. The trio of theres were unable to furnish bonds for their appearance for trial, and were confined in jail.
