The new railroad to Alta is now assured. The Continental Transportation company of this city, which owns the lease on the Rio Grande Western road between Sandy and Wasatch, and which will construct the new road, filed its articles of incorporation in the county clerk's office today. The company is capitalized at $750,000, divided into shares of the par value of $5 each. The officers of the company are: Henry M. Crowther, president and director; S. S. Jamney, vice president and director; E. M. Carroll, secretary, treasurer and director; J. H. Hurd and W. C. Hurd, directors.

BROWN'S EXPERIENCE.

Former Salt Lake Policeman Failed To Catch Car Thieves.

Frank Brown, formerly of the Salt Lake police force, who in the employ of the Oregon Short Line special detective service, had a unique experience at Park City a few nights ago, when sent to that place to run down some car thieves. It appears that several box cars have been broken into of late and some of the contents stolen. Brown got a raise the first night he lay out in the yards watching the cars. The two men escaped, but the city marshal gathered in on despite his protests and threw him into limbo. It took a man from Salt Lake to go up and get Brown and recover the $10 bail. In explanation the officers stated that Brown told them who he was but they were not taking any more chances since they were hoodwinked by a fake detective some weeks ago.

NEW WYOMING.

Burlington as a Factor in the Development of the State.

The development now going forward in the state of Wyoming in bringing out its agricultural, mineral, and timber possibilities, has led to the production of a state that will rival Pennsylvania with its vast wealth of developed natural resources.

The work being done by the government in Wyoming under the reclamation act is costing millions of dollars, and thousands of acres of the desert lands are already producing crops while countless more acres will soon be producing such crops as the state has never produced. In addition to the work being done by the government, the Burlington and other railroads are now producing branch and trunk lines into various parts of the state, and the demand for labor is so great that it is one of the problems in the development of Wyoming.

Only a few more years of such development as has gone forward during the past year in Wyoming will bring the state to the attention of the world as one of the richest of the many rich states of the Union.

FIRST TRAIN ON CUT-OFF.

Oregon Short Line Officials Inspect The New Steel Bridge.

(Special to the "News.")

Ogden, June 21.—The first train to go out onto the Oregon Short Line cut-off across the new steel bridge over Weber river, was run yesterday afternoon by a number of railroad officials and a few guests. The trip was made to inspect the work being done. While the cut-off is not nearly completed and may not be before fall a vast amount of work has already been accomplished. The cut made to get the grade is fully 75 feet deep. The stream of water encountered about two miles west of the Weber river has greatly delayed the work, and is now a matter of concern to the railroad company how to dispose of it. The cut-off, when completed, will be a great saving to the company.

VAN RIPER ON DECK.

Sensational Second Chapter in Fight For the P. & I. N. Road.

Butte, Mont., June 20.—A special to the Miner from Weiser, Ida., says: The fight for the control of the Pacific and Idaho Northern railway between L. C. Van Riper and A. C. The terms of the road, today, stock of the Idaho Construction company. They were met at the depot grounds by Chief Engineer Merriek and a gang of Greek laborers, all armed with knives to keep off the right way. Sheriff Lawson exhibited his authority, when the Greeks fell back, but Engineer Merriek persisted in his efforts to keep Mr. Bishop and Van Riper off the ground until warned by the law. Van Riper and General Manager Hedison, who is in Council with his attorney, but did not show up until the property was taken possession of by the sheriff. Other property was taken possession of tomorrow. This is the first step in the proceedings to be taken by Mr. Van Riper for possession of the railroad company, control of which he claims by right of purchase, having it is alleged, contracted for 24 per cent. of the stock of the road, which the parties of whom he purchased it, refuse to deliver to him. WANTS AN INJUNCTION.

Claim That Building Improvements Will Damage Its Business.

An injunction suit was filed in the district court today by the Florsheim Shoe company, and L. Shivers, against the Tribune Publishing company to enjoin it from making proposed changes in the Progress building which it recently acquired. It is alleged by plaintiffs, who are tenants of the building, that the proposed changes will ruin their shoe business as it will cut off the rear approach to their store and will also prevent the public from entering the store in the front while the changes and repairs are going on. Not only that but by making the changes in the light wells in the rear, the occupants will be deprived of light and air and will be greatly inconvenienced. By making the changes in the stairway in the building it is claimed that the south side of the store will be removed and all together the plaintiffs believe the alterations will ruin their business. They have a two years' lease on their store room and they also claim that the proposed changes will be a violation of the terms of the lease. An order to show cause why a temporary injunction should not be issued in the case was signed by Judge Morse today and is returnable in his court on June 29 at 10 o'clock.

In the complaint which was filed yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Borman alleges that prior to December, 1901, her husband was kind and loving but since then he has treated her in a very inhuman manner. Twice he has threatened to kill her and on one occasion ordered her mother out of the house and threatened to kill the whole family. At another time while she was ill in bed she alleges that he came home and nearly pulled her out of bed and told her that he was tired of paying doctor and druggist bills for her. She claims that he is worth about $20,000 and has a large income from his business. They were married at Aspen, Colo., on May 12, 1895, and have one child of which plaintiff asks the custody. She also asks that her husband be restrained from having any of his property from the bank or disposing of any of his property pending the determination of this suit. A temporary restraining order was issued in the case and made returnable before Judge Morse on Wednesday afternoon, June 29.
