

ADAMS' LAWYERS WIN SHARP FIGHT

Petition of State to Recall Mrs. Arthur Phillips is Overruled By Judge Woods.

MEANS MUCH FOR ACCUSED.

Defense Has Established an Alibi—Not Believed He Has Any Chance For Regaining Liberty.

Wallace, Ida, March 1.—The sharp fight that has yet occurred in the long trial of Steve Adams for the murder of Fred Tyler ended this morning in a notable victory for the defense, when Judge Woods announced that he would overrule the petition of the state for permission to recall Mrs. Arthur Phillips and reopen the case for the prosecution.

The testimony to be given by Mrs. Phillips was regarded as vital for the case for the state, it having been discovered that the date on which she heard the shots that killed Tyler was Sunday, Aug. 7, not Wednesday, Aug. 10, as assumed all along by the state.

The defense, it is conceded, has been able to establish a strong alibi for Adams on Wednesday, Aug. 10, but has left unguarded the morning of Aug. 7, on which date Mrs. Phillips now claims the shooting occurred.

The state's new theory is that it would have been easy for Adams, after the shooting early in the morning, to travel to Mason's cabin in time to take part in the birthday dinner, at which his presence is so well attested. All this new evidence the defense is now able to exclude.

While it is believed here that this startling change in the aspect of the trial renders Adams' conviction of the murder of Tyler decidedly improbable, it is not believed he has any chance of regaining his liberty at the present time. He is, in fact, in a worse state as one of its most important witnesses in the approaching trial of Meyer Haywood and Pettibone, officers of the Western Federation of Miners, for the assassination of ex-Gov. Steuneger.

At least three courses are open to the state. It can hold Adams for trial for the murder of Tyler, or it can hold him for the murder of Steuneger, or it can hold him for complicity in the Steuneger murder, as mentioned in his confession, or may send him to Colorado to be tried for taking part in the blowing up of the depot at Independence, where several non-union miners killed.

The principal witness for the state in rebuttal this morning was W. B. Chandler and Miss Marie Sherer of Spokane, who testified to having met Jack Simpkins in the St. Joe country Aug. 24, 1904. Chandler identified a photograph of Simpkins and gave a description of the appearance of the man.

Stenographer Hubener, who took Adams' confession, and Warden Whitney, of the penitentiary, were called by the state and testified that Adams said: "I do not want my wife to suffer for my crime."

The last witness for the state rebuttal was George H. Root of Wallace. He testified to meeting of Simpkins and Adams at a meeting of settlers in the Marble Creek country about the 1st of August, 1904, and that the plan of kidnapping was discussed. The defense announced that it had no further witnesses.

It is probable that the Adams case will go to the jury Monday, arguments to the jury being made today and tomorrow. On resumption of court at 2 o'clock Atty. Henry P. Knight began his address and had only spoken 10 minutes when he was taken sick and court adjourned, first for one hour and later for the day. During the time he spoke Knight said:

"Gentlemen of the jury, it has been stated that the defendant is a member of the Western Federation of Miners. It is not for you to deliberate to what class the man charged with murder belongs, or what his connections are. It is your sole duty to decide whether or not he fired the bullet that killed Fred Tyler. To a certain extent, this case will depend on the identification of the remains found in Marble Creek country and with regard to this point I do not think there will be any question in your mind. We have introduced as witnesses the mother of the murdered man and his friends, and it would seem that the identity has been proved beyond all question of a doubt.

WARNING ARBUCKLES SLIGHTLY

MAKES THE GRINDING EASY

If you want to drink real coffee, buy a sealed package of Arbuckles' ARIOSA and grind it in your own kitchen as you want to use it. Roasted coffee loses its strength and flavor if exposed to the air, and even its identity as coffee after grinding. Loose coffee sold out of a bag, bin or tin is usually dusty and soiled by handling.

"The defense has rested their case on an alibi, and so far as that goes, it is good. We have no objection to the defense of alibi, but you will note that in the information the defendant is charged with murder on or about the 10th of August, 1904, but this does not mean to imply that the murder was committed exactly on that date, or a few days before or a few days after. It means that the murder was committed during the month of August. It is only necessary for you to find whether or not this defendant killed Fred Tyler prior to 1904. You have the whole field before you in front of you. We believe that the evidence introduced by the defense has only helped to confirm the case of the state and we are satisfied that Tyler was killed during the month of August. He was killed at a place where dates cannot well be remembered. In fact, where it was almost impossible to find dates unless they are fixed by some event of unusual importance. The case on the part of the state rests on the testimony of Archie Phillips, Mrs. Phillips, Chandler and other minor witnesses, and it is to be noted that the confession of defendant from the beginning to the end fixes only one date, the date of July 4, 1904.

"It is evident that Adams has been afraid of specific dates and has steered clear of them at all times. 'First, as to what witnesses Mrs. and Mr. Phillips say in regard to clothing worn by the defendant. You will remember that they detailed particularly what kind of handkerchief, what kind of clothing and other matters about his appearance, which correspond exactly with the evidence of relatives and friends of Fred Tyler.

"You will remember that the testimony of Williams identifies a number of items found at that particular place. The dates were not fixed. 'At this point Judge Woods made an announcement that owing to the disposition of Mr. Knight court would adjourn. At 3:15 court met and Knight not having recovered, adjournment was made until tomorrow.

CABINET MEETING. Washington, March 1.—Today's cabinet meeting was in the nature of a farewell to two of its members who next Monday will retire to private life, they being Secy. of the Treasury Shaw and Secy. of the Interior Hitchcock. The former will be succeeded by Postmaster General Cortelyou and the latter by Commissioner of the General Land Office, who was the last meeting of the cabinet as at present constituted. Another addition will be former Ambassador to Russia, George B. Messersmith, who succeeds to the postmaster's position.

With the retirement of Secy. Hitchcock, Secy. Wilson of the department of agriculture will be the only member of the late President McKinley's cabinet who has remained consecutively in that of the present chief executive.

PASSED FORGED CHECKS. William Edge Arrested for Crime and Makes Confession of Fact.

Bellingham, Wash., March 1.—William Edge, wanted in half the counties of Washington on charges of passing forged checks, was arrested here last night. Officers declare that within the past few months he has victimized hotels and business men in every city from Portland north, and east as far as Spokane, for amounts ranging from $100 to $1,000. Three of his bogus checks were cashed in this city after his arrival from Mt. Vernon, where he was caught yesterday morning. This is Edge's second visit to this city.

Given the "third degree" by the chief of police here this morning, Edge confessed that he was the man wanted and that he had committed many forgeries. How many he could not remember. He expressed a willingness to stand trial here, or in any other city which wanted him. He admitted that the money secured by his forgeries aggregated many thousands.

Edge claimed that he had spent the money on a worthless woman, who finally betrayed him to the officers.

CHINESE STUDENTS. Secy. Straus Promulgates a New Definition of What Constitutes One.

Washington, March 1.—A new definition of the word "student" to be applied to Chinese of that class seeking admission to the United States has been made by Secy. Straus. The main features of the rule describe such persons as follows:

"A student within the meaning of the treaty and laws of the United States relating to the admission and exclusion of Chinese is:

"A person who pursues some regular course of study in the higher branches of learning but not including the elementary or preparatory branches of the educational institutions of the United States designed for those whose entire time may be given to scholastic work.

"A person who studies to be fitted for some particular occupation or calling requiring a technical or otherwise special mental training.

"A person already possessing a comparatively advanced education and desiring to study of special subjects or questions, as a student of manners, customs, institutions, politics, economy, or history."

WHIPPING POST REVIVED. Baltimore, March 1.—The whipping post is to be revived in Maryland after having been used for 20 years. Sadler Bros., colored, was today sentenced to receive nine lashes and a jail sentence of two months for wifebeating.

JEROME HAS A HARD DAY'S WORK

Labored to Have Dr. Evans Admit That Thaw Suffered From Paranoia: Which is Incurable.

MUCH TALK OF BRAIN STORMS.

Judge Fitzgerald Seems to be Getting Tired and is Rather Against The District Attorney.

New York, March 1.—The insanity of adolescence, paranoia and the characteristics of "brain storms" occupied both sessions of the Thaw trial today, and when adjournment until Monday morning was ordered Dr. Britton D. Evans, one of the alienists for the defense, was still under cross-examination.

Dist. Atty. Jerome's course in questioning the witness was somewhat baffling. He seemed desirous to have Dr. Evans admit that Thaw suffered from paranoia, which is practically incurable. Then, again, he brought from the witness the opinion that when Thaw armed himself he well knew that a revolver was an instrument for self-protection and when fired into a human body might produce death. Finally the prosecutor wanted to know if the actions of a person suffering from a brain storm, or mental explosion, would be characterized by the calm, considerate manner which Thaw displays after the night he shot Stanford White to death on the Madison Square Roof Garden.

The net results appeared to be that Mr. Jerome is still laying the foundation on which he may ask for a commitment in lunacy, to judge the present mental condition of the defendant. Even to the extent of greatly fatiguing the jury and judge, the district attorney dwelt on the subject of adolescent insanity and paranoia, endeavoring to establish a relationship between the two, and was at last rewarded by Dr. Evans admitting that defendant was and could be suggest to his mind a paranoid form of adolescent insanity.

Adolescent insanity, it has been explained, is common in persons during the development period of life—from 10 to 40 years—while paranoia is a fixed insanity upon one subject—monomania. Justice Fitzgerald indicated his fatigue at the three days' cross-examination of the expert when Mr. Jerome began to question Dr. Evans about his knowledge of instances of adolescent insanity which had resulted in acts of homicide.

The alienist said there was a woman in his hospital for the insane at Morris Plains who in the midst of a brain storm or mental explosion had killed two of her children.

After a number of questions by Mr. Jerome, objection was made by Mr. Delmas to this line of examination. Mr. Jerome argued that "we are just getting to the point of this thing." This brought out a weary remark from the judge to the effect that "we have been a long time getting there."

Mr. Jerome disclaimed responsibility for the tedious cross-examination, suggesting that the blame was with the evasive answers of the witness. "I am not saying whose fault it is," said the judge, "but I repeat, we have been a long time getting to the point."

The district attorney and the judge had another wordy conflict near the end of the day, when Mr. Jerome asked Dr. Evans to give his opinion of Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton, who is reported to have said that he believed Harry Thaw to be suffering from a form of insanity which could not possibly have been eradicated by this time.

"I refuse to answer," replied the witness. Mr. Jerome argued the point and cited a part of the record in the Preussner case at Albany, where the presiding judge had allowed one expert to give an opinion of another.

Now, will you direct the witness to answer?" suggested Mr. Jerome, inquiringly of the justice. "I will not," replied the justice. He added that he would rule finally on the point until he had read the entire record of the Preussner trial. At Mr. Jerome said the ruling would cover the last questions of his examination the DISARMAMENT. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman in Favor of Discussing it at The Hague.

London, March 1.—Sir Henry Bannerman, the premier, has published in the Nation, an article briefly indicating his reasons for holding as baseless the objections brought up at home and abroad to the raising of the question of the limitation of armaments at the approaching peace conference at The Hague. The premier contends that the original Hague meeting was convened for the purpose of discussing a question, and although it failed to reach an agreement, he never heard it suggested that the discussion had left behind and injurious consequences. He submits that it is the business of those opposing to show that some special and essential change in the circumstances has arisen to render re-discussion inopportune or mischievous. Sir Henry argues that if it was desirable to limit the burden of armaments in 1888 it is still more desirable to do so today when the weight of this burden has increased enormously and says that the position held in 1888 has grown to something like a certainty today—that no limits could be set to the competitive struggle for sea powers save by the process of economic exhaustion.
