

Col. Mason has arrived from Van Bremer's with his infantry, and pitched his tents on the banks of the Cottonwood. Walbridge, sutler for the expedition, has erected a store; Bean has opened a restaurant, and the camp has once more assumed a lively appearance. General Davis has just issued an order superseding Gillem, and reinstating Gen. Wheaton. This order gives entire satisfaction to officers and men. The following is a copy of the order:

"Headquarters, Department of Columbia, in the field, May 21: Col. A. C. Gillem, of the 1st Cavalry, commander of the Modoc expedition, Colonel, the Department Commander directs that you issue the necessary orders to give effect to the following: The Modocs having been, during the recent operations, beaten and driven from their strongholds, and having dispersed into small scattered bands, the pursuit and capture of the fugitives is now to be the immediate work of the troops. This duty will especially devolve upon the mounted troops, who will be called on to operate in small detachments, moving rapidly, vigorously, and frequently, independently of each other. The operations of the foot troops must be made to conform to the new order of things. The conduct of the officers therefore can more conveniently be carried on under the immediate orders of the department commander while on the spot than under those of the special commander of the expedition. Col. A. C. Gillem is therefore relieved from duty with this command, will and proceed to the headquarters of his regiment at Benicia barracks, Cal., with a view to his assuming command of and preparing for the field the troops of the first cavalry now en route from Arizona. By order of J. C. Davis, Col. 23d infantry, commanding department."

9 a.m., 25.—The Warm Spring braves gathered about the spring near the Modoc camp, this morning and chanted a war song to the infinite disgust of the captives, whose tenure of life appeared to be waxing brief. All the Warm Springs here participated in the musical soiree. The exercises were confined to a series of yells and suggestive gesticulations. Some of the Warm Springs refused to go out on a scout on Sunday, because they were members of the Methodist church.

BERLIN.—Cases of cholera are reported in East Posen.

VERSAILLES, 24.—The assembly reconvened at two this afternoon, and after an energetic speech by Cassimer Periere, minister of the interior, objected, by a vote of 368 against 348, to a simple order of the day proceeding from the left and supported by the government.

An order of the day, proposed by the right, declaring that the present form of government was not under discussion, and regretting that the reconstruction of the ministry did not afford conservative guarantees, was then adopted by a vote of 366 against 344. Upon the announcement of the vote, Barrigan, a member of the right, said the supreme interests of the country required that the government should not remain silent. His remarks were received with noisy protestations by the left. When the tumult had somewhat subsided Barrigan resumed, and proposed a night sitting of the assembly. Dufaure, minister of justice, ascended the tribune and declared that France would not remain a moment without a government; the president and the republican ministers would answer for the maintenance of order. They would consult with the president and agree about the night session. The left shouted, "Why will the government thus set an example of monstrous ingratitude?" The right insisted that the government should promptly communicate its decision to the Assembly. After further debate, which was conducted amidst the greatest excitement, it was decided to have a night session and a recess was taken until evening. The result of the votes caused intense excitement, and the streets were crowded with people awaiting the development of the sitting.

EVENING.—The Assembly resumed its session at eight. Dufaure announced that the ministers had tendered their resignation to Thiers, who had accepted them. Dufaure then handed to Buffet, president of the Assembly, a message from President Thiers, announcing that he delivered back to the Assembly the high functions conferred upon him. The reading of the message produced a profound sensation in the chamber. Gen. Changarnier and the Duke de Broglie moved that the Assembly immediately appoint a successor to Thiers. This motion caused a terrific uproar. The left moved that the resignation of Thiers be not accepted. This motion was rejected by a vote of 368 against 339. The resignation of Thiers was then formally accepted. Buffet fruitlessly attempted to eulogize Thiers. The members of the left endeavored to secure an adjournment of the election, but the right insisted upon the choice of a president immediately. A vote was then taken, which resulted in the election of Marshal McMahon, who received 390 votes. The deputies of the left abstained from voting. A committee was appointed to wait upon McMahon, to inform him of his election. This committee was headed by Buffet, who, upon retiring, temporarily handed over the presidency of the Assembly to Gorland, who was enthusiastically cheered by the right upon taking the seat. The committee returned and Buffet resumed the chair, and announced that McMahon had accepted the presidency of the republic, though not without pain. Buffet also stated that the ministry would temporarily remain in office. The crowds in the streets in front of the legislative chamber increased as the night advanced, and when the result of the proceedings in the Assembly was made known, there were loud shouts of "Vive la Thiers," and "Vive la republicque." There were no attempts at disorder, and the people quietly dispersed.

DR. PRICE'S SPECIAL FLAVORINGS. — Vanilla, Lemon, and all extracts used in flavoring Ice Cream, Jellies, Cakes, etc., are acknowledged, after a thorough trial by the best housekeepers in the land, to be always as represented, honest measure, bottles holding half more than others sold for same size, natural coloring, free from poisonous oils, so concentrated that a small quantity gives all the flavor required. Strange that persons will use worthless extracts when such natural flavors as Dr. Price's are to be had. They are really equal to his celebrated Cream Baking Powder.
