GUAYAQUIL IN ASHES

Two Thousand People Burned and Buried.

LEMONS ENTIRELY SUSPENDED.

led by Insects from Damp Soil and Exposure.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—The Herald indicates that the destruction of that city was reduced to ashes by the fire which began there Monday at midnight and raged for three hours, devouring everything in its path. It is estimated that $1,000,000 has been lost in property, and that the city will not recover for six months. The losses amount to over fifty million dollars. Many lives were lost, but how many it is impossible to say as yet—and 50,000 people are homeless.

Two thousand houses, including every bank in the city, of which more than one-half of the business of the commercial, the Agricultural, the Terminal and the Hepburns were burned. The losses were entirely estimated at $1,000,000.

It is impossible for the present to say exactly what will be done by the survivors, but it is evident that the entire business portion of the city will be destroyed.

Practically all the grocery and provisions stores were destroyed and remained in ruins; and many survived the flames.

Coming on the heels of the immense disaster every fire now seems like a trifling damage. Men are now, though it is impossible to estimate the number of dead now, the figures will be added to the losses. The number of dead in the city is estimated at 500.
The entire loss of life is great.

Not only is the physical extremity of the fire, but the fire water supply was cut off, so that the rescue work will be difficult.

On the arrival of military authorities a salute of 100 guns was rendered, while the gunners saluted

the flames.

Before leaving, the crew expressed their thanks to President Lincoln for his sympathy.

CAMP IN CHALMERSFIELD-HARVEY, Oct. 8.—Long before the imperial and presidential trains arrived here from Washington this morning, the vicinity of this immense camp, covering 3,000 acres, was crowded by people anxious to see the east and western armadas without the grand military review regularized in memory of the battle with the Danes in 1864.

Wednesday is the day of the military review, but the crews are already assembled and many were waiting to join the review at the time the trains started.

At 9 A.M. nearly 200,000 people were already assembled and more were arriving to join the review at the time the trains started.

On the early arrival of military
rendered, while the gunners saluted
the flames.

The sea king, which belongs to Shropshire, has been badly wrecked.
Five members of the crew were killed.
