Good Blood

Means good health, and Mead's Sarsaparilla has an unapproached record as a blood-purifier.

This medicine cures scrofula, eczema, eruptions, catarrh, rheumatism, anemia, nervousness, that tired feeling, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, general debility, and builds up the whole system.

It effects its wonderful cures, not simply because it contains sarsaparilla but because it combines the utmost remedial values of more than 20 different ingredients. There is no real substitute for it. If urged to buy any preparation said to be "just as good" you may be sure it is inferior, costs less to make, and yields the dealer a larger profit.

Get it today in the usual liquid form or in the celebrated tablet form called Sarsaparilla Tablets. One Dollar.

OGDEN, Dec. 1.—A duel with long knives as weapons was fought by two negroes on lower Twenty-fifth street late yesterday afternoon. As a result Olive White and Belle Love, both colored, were arrested by the police. The trouble grew out of a jealous quarrel over a negro. No one was injured.

SMALLPOX UNDER CONTROL AT SPRINGVILLE

(Special Correspondence.)

SPRINGVILLE, Utah, Nov. 29.—The smallpox contagion has been so well controlled in Springville by the board of health that the town will soon be free from the contagion. The quarantine is being raised daily from the different homes.

Four correspondents wish to correct the statement made on Nov. 12 to the effect that the 12-year-old daughter of James C. Simpkins died through exposure to the cold following an attack of third disease. The truth is she died from paralysis, which seized her after the amputation of the arm. There was no exposure to the cold. The statement was a misstatement and did an injustice to the Simpkins and wife, who had given their girl the best of care and attention, and she was in no way exposed to cold, which statement had a misleading impression and had a tendency to infer neglect upon the part of the parents. This was wholly unintentional.

SPRINGVILLE BRIEFS.

The sugar beet crop is all in except that which has been loaded for the last delivery. The crop has been very good; more are being shipped to the Springville mill from other parts of the state than in previous years.

There have been several severe cases of typhoid fever here. Bishop O. J. Huntington, who has been confined to his bed five weeks, is slowly improving. Mrs. Moroni Miner, who has been confined with the same disease, is also improving.

SMALLPOX QUARANTINE LIFTED.

MAPLETON, Nov. 23.—After three weeks of quarantine the people were liberated last Saturday and old and young alike as if they had been liberated from prison.

Elder Hyrum Perry who recently returned from the mission field, spoke interestingly at the Sunday meeting.

Elder Arthur M. Lawrence, now in England, writes that he is to sail for home Dec. 1, after a two years' mission there.

Extension Staff of Agricultural College Busy at Cedar City.

(Special Correspondence.)

CEDAR CITY, Nov. 27.—During the past week a farmers' and housekeepers' school, under the direction of the extension staff of the Agricultural college, has been held here at the branch normal. Men and women were in attendance from Paragonah on the north to Kanarra and Pinto on the south, and the week has been a profitable one to all in attendance. The work in animal husbandry was given by Prof. John T. Caine III, in poultry husbandry by George M. Turpin, in domestic science by Mrs. H. H. H. and in general agriculture, dry farming, etc., by Prof. Lewis A. Merrill. During one session Governor Spry and President Kingsbury of the state university were in attendance and spoke in an enthusiastic way regarding the work of the farmers' school.

A feature of the school was the stock judging work on Wednesday afternoon at which the finest pure bred cattle and horses in the country were shown. The judges also had a session in the evening, the first prize being won by

The poultry industry has received such encouragement that Cedar City will hereafter supply its own needs in this line at last.

They settled in Cowley where their good works will long be remembered by the people here. She has been a devoted worker in all charities for education in Mantle, Colorado. Wednesday afternoon this ward society built a splendid two-story stone hall, second to none in the Church. This building will stand as a monument to her memory. Early in October of this year she was stricken with typhoid from which she recovered but other complications arose and she passed peacefully away at 11 o'clock this morning. President Crosby and family have the sympathy of the entire community in their hour of bereavement.

CLOSE OF MANTI'S PIONEER CELEBRATION

(Special Correspondence.)

MANTI, Nov. 23.—The closing day's program of the sixtieth anniversary celebration in Mantle concluded Wednesday evening, Nov. 24, with a grand ball in the opera house.

Wednesday forenoon was devoted to exercises by the schools of the city. Mr. Nelson also gave to the students and pioneers present a most interesting talk.

Wednesday afternoon a dramatization of early pioneer life in Mantle was given in the opera house by students of the high school and district schools of Mantle, which proved most interesting.

All the early pioneers of Mantle were presented with badges in remembrance of the occasion and during the celebration souvenir badges were sold containing an excellent picture of the Mantle temple.

REDMOND HOT AFTER SUGAR FACTORY SITE

(Special Correspondence.)

REDMOND, Utah, Nov. 23.—The Commercial club held a very enthusiastic session Wednesday evening. Among other business transacted, a committee was selected whose duty it shall be to select a site for the Utah-Idaho Sugar people, and it possible induce them to select Redmond as the place for building their sugar factory. We have an abundance of ideal water for that purpose as well as a good location, and the outlook for landing the plum is very flattering.
