Morse. er, recent visitors to the Garfield plant declare things are going along very much better than-they were, and that the blast furnaces are handling 1,800 tons of ore per day and the reverberatories 800 tons. It is expect-ed that the smelter will be in shape to take care of 3,000 tons per day within a month month.

Ely, upon him. Mr. Eilers, on the other hand, contended that he had not been given a free hand in the Utah department and insisted that had this been accorded him, the Garfield plant would have assumed an economic working order and maximum results would have been achieved long before mow. But it appears that as he had had this desired authority during the time he was engaged in designing the plant at Garfield, a majority of the directors of the smelting company be-lieved ample time had been given him to put things in proper working order. Accordingly, Mr. Morse was sent west. It has been claimed by President Guggenheim, General Manager Whit-ley and Mr. Morse himself that many of the defects found in the original construction of the plant at Garfield have been remedied; while friends of Mr. Ellers insist that everything was not set right by the Morse administra-tion and Mr. Ellers demanded that he be given opportunity to demonstrate the fact; which appears to have been granted by the elimination of Mr. Morse.
