

NEGROES LYNCHED IN LOUISIANA.

The Victims Were Frank Smith and F. D. McLand.

BODIES DANGLE SIDE BY SIDE

Charge Against Them Was Completely in the Foster Murder-Sheriff and Jailer Were Overpowered.

Shreveport, La., June 20.—Frank Smith, better known as "Prophet" Smith, and F. D. McLand, held at Benton for complicity in the murder of John Gray Foster, were taken out of jail by a mob last night and strung up to a tree. They were left dangling side by side. The lynching occurred on the Arkansas road about a mile and a half from the jail.

Both negroes made a statement before death, denying that they had anything to do with the killing.

Smith, who was the head of the "church-of-God" movement in that section, and was blamed as being responsible for the movement against Foster, died praying. McLand was silent as he was being hanged.

As Smith was being led from the jail prior to the execution, he was heard to say: "Lord, you promised to be with me now."

There were about 200 armed men in the mob, and they overpowered the sheriff and jailer, taking the keys away from them. The lynchers claimed that the execution of these negroes was necessary to the preservation of the rights of the white men in this locality.

CUBAN SUGAR CROP FIGURES.

Output This Year Will be 600,000 Tons, Next Season Much Larger.

New York, June 20.—The correspondent of the Tribune, writing from Matanzas, says:

The sugar crop figures for this season are encouraging enough. In round numbers the production is fixed at 600,000 tons, and this has brought not far from $30,000,000. The payment for the crop has been reduced to the unfavorable trade balance against the island. While the price has been fair, had it been a shade higher the production would have reached 650,000 tons, but many of the planters preferred not to grind, believing that prices would be a little better next year. The cane acreage for the season is about 100,000 acres, and the probability is that the yield will be larger than during the last year. It is not likely that much of the new lands, which are being planted in the eastern end of the island in the hope that tariff concessions will be made by the United States, will have been ready for grinding within the next twelve months, yet there is every reason to look for a crop of 650,000 tons to 700,000 tons in the season of 1902.

In this the great central sugar belt, another year will bring most of the plantations up to their normal production before the insurrection. There are still many estates around Matanzas which have not been cleared and replanted, but they grow fewer with each month, and the probability is that the distressed owners either will be closed out under foreclosure proceedings or will be able to finance their plantations through outside aid.

In the Cardenas district there are a few estates which have not fully recovered, and it has happened this year that Cardenas has gone ahead of Matanzas in its shipments, but both ports have handled more than 700,000 bags, or 100,000 tons each. Some of the bad harvests it is known, is still under partial re-cultivation, but this is because these poor lands do not pay for raising sugar at present prices. Most of them are held out as bargains to those who are interested in the sugar lands in Cuba are the same, and who sometimes are led into buying wherever they see cane growing.

An industrial and social progress. The old baronial estates are passing away. The individual planter is becoming less and less a factor. He talks of the old-time feudalism just as the southern cotton planters used to talk of it, and he grieves over the new conditions which reduce his own importance, but there is no society. His hostility, where he has the means, is as intensely as in the past, and if he has been able to get large enough advances on his crops or to find some corner of the plantation which was not already mortgaged, he still counts on the season in Paris, London or Saratoga, with his family, but with the creditless planter, the only hope of escape from the production to be met, it is only a few cases that he is able to take this vacation.

ITALIAN CONSUL WARNED.

Requested to Call off Spies from Patterson Anarchists.

New York, June 20.—The Italian consul, Giovanni Branchi, has received the following letter from a committee of English-speaking anarchists who held a meeting in London last night:

"The Italian Consul—Knowing the temper of the Patterson comrades, we, the English-speaking anarchists of New York and vicinity, would earnestly request you to desist from employing spies any further. We fear that if persisted in this may lead to bloodshed, which we deplore."

"Committee, New York, June 18, 1901."

The meeting was attended by leading members of the anarchist group in Philadelphia. Evidence and statement of the nine men at the meeting are physicians. The meeting was called because of threats made at a meeting of Patterson anarchists held Monday night.

It was decided to send a letter to the consul-general. The English-speaking anarchists had made an arrangement with the anarchists in Patterson, by which the latter were to commit no act of violence for seven days. When that period has elapsed it will be known whether the Italian consul will attempt to abandon the spy system which, it is said, has been in operation since Bressi assassinated King Humbert.

When the Italian consul was seen at his office, he said:

"It is an anonymous letter." He declined to give any interview and when asked if he feared any violence he laughed but said nothing.

COULD NOT WOO.

A Goddess That Would Not Be Won.

The Creator, in making so many kinds of people naturally made some that have immense ambition and desire for work, physical and mental. Authors, writers and brain-workers are generally hard working people, frequently they exhaust vitality so fast that they cannot rebuild.

Food experts have perfected a special food called Grape-Nuts for brain workers. The makers selected from field grains the proper elements which naturally enter into rebuilding brain and nerve centers.

A famous woman of West Haven, Conn., whom perhaps you will recognize because of the location, but who requests that her name be kept from print in this connection, writes: "Perhaps you would like to know of my experience with the restoring power of your wonderful Grape-Nuts Food. I have been a tireless worker. Life was full of possibilities. I had a constitution of iron and yet not work. I lived to the fullest limit of my power, following every pursuit with ardor, painting, poetry, writing of books, journalism and lecturing."

The days I passed in literary work and the nights at concerts, theaters and receptions. I suddenly dropped out, a mental and physical wreck. Ambition died and hope went with it. Religion became odious. The world grew dark. It became a 'Charnel-House' full of unclean bones, not Godlike and our Father's."

"I had no desire for food. I could not 'woo' the 'Goddess Sleep that knits up the ravels' of care." I contemplated a weak solution, a leap into the unknown, when one day a friend in Yale who knew my deplorable condition, said, 'Do you know that Grape-Nuts Food has done a great deal for me?' and told the story. I finally followed his suggestion and began using it. That was one year ago. I wish you could see me now. The neighbors say I do the work of five men. I go to bed with the hens and sleep like a top."

"I hear the breeze call of incense breathing morn.' my muscles are like iron and my back of steel. I am as alert as the sparrow with whom I converse every morning as he seeks his matutinal worm."

"I ascribe all of this change, and justly, to Grape-Nuts Food and wisdom in the economy of force."

There is a good, sound reason for each change as described above. Grape-Nuts Food is made of the selected elements of wheat and barley that are intended by Nature to rebuild the soft matter in the brain and nerves cells throughout the body. This food is so prepared that it presents these elements in perfect condition for immediate assimilation. The food is thoroughly cooked at the factory, and should always be served just as it comes from the package with a little cream. Do not attempt to stew it but serve it with cooking, except when combined with certain puddings and desserts, and even then the cooking is not necessary except to prepare the other ingredients aside from the Grape-Nuts.

New York, June 20.—A special to the Times from El Paso, Texas, says:

Word has been received from Chihuahua that an attempt has been made to assassinate A. R. Shepard, who did so much to build up the city of Washington during the administration of President Grant. Shepard, after leaving the District of Columbia many years ago, went to a small settlement in the republic of Mexico, where he since has been engaged in the mining business.

Shepard was hit in the chest, but the direction of the settlement, the would-be assassin following and keeping up a running fire.
