

INS AND OUTS OF LIFE IN WEDLOCK

Husbands Called Upon to Explain Their Financial Conditions.

WIVES DISCUSS THEIR GOWNS.

The Necessity For Modern Raiment Is Set Before the Court With Several Sidelights.

HEARTS IN COURT AGAIN.
J. F. Heath, H. C. Heath and J. A. Heath, brothers, filed suit yesterday in the Third district court against Frederick Heath and Francis D. Heath, father and brother, to restrain them from building a split fence across the south end of the Salt Palace grounds. In addition the plaintiffs ask for $2,000 damages for the construction of the fence so far.

MRS. SIMMONS RELEASED.
At the request of Asst. County Attorney Bowman, Mrs. R. F. Simmons, who has been held in the custody of the officers since Wednesday on a charge of having assaulted her husband with a knife, was released today upon her own recognizance. Mr. Bowman stated to the court that the relationship between the Simmonsons was that of a common law marriage and that yesterday Simmons, although still feeling the pain in his shashed wrist, had appeared to be in a different frame of mind and evidently not so anxious to prosecute the case against the elderly woman, set for Sept. 13, and pending which she was held in default of $200 bonds.

Several witnesses were introduced who testified that Bernstein had a bank account of $700, a team and wagon valued at $100, besides a stock of goods valued at $500.

Bernstein first denied that he had a bank account. He attempted to show that he was in debt about $1,000 and owned no real estate.

"Haven't you got $700 in the bank at present?" he was asked by Atty. James Hamilton.

"Well, what do you call a bank account?" Bernstein asked.

"If you have something in the bank that belongs to some other fellow, is it a bank account?" he was asked by Atty. James

"Yes, it is in your name," replied Atty. Hamilton.

"Tell, I have a bank account then," replied the witness, "but it is not my bank account. It is my creditors' bank account."

"Isn't it also a fact that Mr. Simon of the Paris Millinery company holds several hundred dollars for you?"

"No, sir; I hold my own money. But I wish he did," the witness replied slightly.

"haven't you any real estate?" the attorney said.

"Why do you ask? I have no debts but I wish I did," came the reply.

PESTERED WITH CREDITORS.

Bernstein denied that he had a bank account at Vernal and said that his team and wagon and a small stock of goods were all he had left. He said that his creditors were clamoring after him. The house on Snow avenue where his wife lived was also mortgaged, he said, and that she claimed it.

It developed that Mrs. Bernstein rented rooms and made $8 a month. This the court deemed sufficient to keep her in groceries after giving her payment of the house and ordering Bernstein to pay the interest on the mortgage.

They were married Jan. 2, 1876, and have a family of eleven children. For eleven years Bernstein has been an inmate at the county infirmary. He is afflicted with circumcision. He left the institution about a year ago and began practicing again. Since that time Mrs. Bernstein says that he has not supported her, and seeks a divorce and a division of the property.

Mrs. Mary E. Angell gave an accounting of her expenses and asked for $30 a month temporary alimony yesterday in her suit for separate maintenance against Albert F. Angell on the charge of embezzlement.

"For months Mr. Angell has not provided for me properly," she said, "and I have been compelled to keep boarders for a living."

"Did you order Mr. Angell out of the house last June so that you could rent his room and increase your income?" asked Attorney Robinson.

"No, sir; it was particularly," she said. "I almost died."

"When he did live with me," she declared, "he only partly provided for me. I am in need of clothes and have been for a long time."

"Did you ever see a woman who didn't wear clothes?" Attorney Robinson asked.

"Well, but I am naked," insisted Mrs. Angell.

"That might be true, most women are," was the attorney's retort.

Mrs. Angell showed that her expenses were $8.50 a month, and Attorney Robinson brought out the fact that her income was $7.50 a month.

ANGELL GIVES HIS SIDE.

Angell was called and showed his list of bills to the court which were incurred by his wife before they separated. He owed $388. He was under cross-examination when the court adjourned and the case was continued until next Tuesday for further hearing. They were married 22 years ago and have one grown daughter. Angell is engaged in the insurance business.

Because Martin Christensen, a rail-road man, would not pay to have his wife's teeth repaired is one of the causes why Mrs. Nora Christensen is seeking a divorce. Her case came up yesterday on an order directed against her husband to compel him to pay temporary alimony. She admitted that he had failed to provide for her, having given her only $12 in three months. She admitted that he paid all the grocery bill and the rent. Judge Morse decided that since they were living in the same home that he would make no order in the case.

Christensen lost his position on account of the suit, but had $250 in the bank, the savings of five years. When the court ordered him to pay the living expenses until he got another position they have been married five years and have three children.

John R. Powers, who was ordered to show cause why he had not paid his wife, Mrs. Mable Powers, the alimony directed by the court in their divorce, stated that he had been out of work most of the time. He showed that his earnings had only been enough to keep himself. He declared that he would pay the alimony as soon as he could and was discharged. They were divorced last May and have one child, Mrs. Sarah Whitemore.

Mrs. Sarah Whitemore was granted a divorce from Edward Whitemore on the ground of desertion. They were married on Aug. 16, 1907, and have six children. Whitemore deserted her a year ago. She was awarded the custody of the children.

IN CRIMINAL COURT.
William Powers, a highwayman, was sentenced to five years in the state prison this morning by Judge T. D. Morris on the charge of robbery when he pleaded guilty. Without saying a word in his own behalf and without being represented by an attorney, he

BIG IRRIGATION SCHEME.

J. M. Lauritzen of Richfield, secretary of the Western Construction company, filed today an application for 500 sec. ft., or 100,000 acre feet, of water to be taken from the Rio Grande in Washington county for the irrigation of 60,000 acres of good Dixie land. The fee accompanying the application was $492.50, itself a pretty good suggestion that business was meant.

Everybody likes Wanda.

EAT IN THE "SHIP" RESTAURANT

At Saitair today. Everything the best, and at city prices.

ANNUAL YELLOWSTONE EXCURSION.

September 16th.

Via Oregon Short Line. Round trip from Salt Lake for complete five day tour of the Park, including rail and stage transportation and accommodations in the first class hotels in the Park. $45.25. See agents for further particulars. City Ticket Office, 29 Main Street.

Hamlin Paints Signs. Both phones.

A most delightful place is Wanda.

CONTINUOUS DANCING AT SALT AIR.

Labor Day, 3 to 11 p. m. Christensen's orchestra and Held's band.

OGDEN DAILY EXCURSION.

Via Bamberger Line, Sept. 5th to 11th.

$1.00 for round trip on sale September 5th to 11th daily with limit Sept. 14th. Race train 11:00 a. m. daily.

ANNE BESANT

Formerly of England now of India, President of the Theosophical Society of the World, will lecture at Barratt Hall on Theosophy, on Sept. 7, 1909. Tickets on sale Norton Book Store, 27 E. 3rd South, and Deseret News Book Store.

ANNUAL YELLOWSTONE EXCURSION.

September 16th.

Via Oregon Short Line. Round trip from Salt Lake for complete five day tour of the Park, including rail and stage transportation and accommodations in the first class hotels in the Park. $45.25. See agents for further particulars. City Ticket Office, 29 Main Street.

Wait for the big 1 X L auction sale commencing September 7 at 10 a. m.

EVAN STEPHENS

REVIEWS TOUR

(Continued from page fourteen.) crowded houses everywhere testified of its effectiveness.

HANDSOME BOUQUETS.

Much of the unpleasant work, such as getting the heavy weights into the upper berths, has been done up to the time of my great relief. And kind, enthusiastic members of the choir to aid their leader took much arduous work which I have previously attended to myself off my hands, for all of which I am deeply grateful to them.

I believe the choir has had an uplift notwithstanding the unpleasant feature of the selecting and dividing up of its forces that will likely take advantage of reward the Church amply for its backing financially of the tour. Salt Lake City, and the State of Utah, as well as the Church, will be greatly gratified by the result of our tour.

It is difficult for me to desist from calling names, but I am determined to stay by my resolve. So let each one who has done ought to aid in this our sixth tour know that what is done is accordingly appreciated, and has the greatest thanks of the choir.

THE CHOIR LEADER.

1894—General George Stoneman, ex-governor of California and at one time chief of the cavalry corps of the Army of the Potomac, died.

1895—President William McKinley shot while attending a reception in the Temple of Music at the Pan-American exposition in Buffalo by Leon F. Czolgosz, an anarchist.

1896—Hezekiah Butterworth, noted author and editor, died, born 1839.

SEPTEMBER 3.

1897—General Horatio Greenough, famous sculptor, born at Boston; died 1852.

1822—William Steele Holman, statesman, born in Dearborn County, Ind.; died 1857.

1893—Miss Emma Converse, eminent astronomical writer, died; born 1820.

SEPTEMBER 4.

1865—Horatio Greenough, famous sculptor, born at Boston; died 1852.

1822—William Steele Holman, statesman, born in Dearborn County, Ind.; died 1857.

1893—Miss Emma Converse, eminent astronomical writer, died; born 1820.

SEPTEMBER 5.

1757—Marquis de Lafayette, French champion of the American Revolution, born; died 1834.

1819—Thomas Andrews, Hendricks, Democratic statesman, vice president of the United States under Lincoln; born; died in office 1855.

1891—Sidney Lanier, poet, died; born 1842.

1892—John Greenleaf Whittier, the poet, died; born 1807.

1893—Hon. Hamilton Fish, secretary of state under Grant, also ex-governor of New York, died; born 1808.

SEPTEMBER 6.

1789—Henry Hudson, English navigator, searching for a passage to India in the ship Half Moon, discovered the river bearing his name.

1811—Commodore Thomas Macdonough's brilliant naval victory on Lake Champlain, defeating a British fleet.

1891—Pan Pico, last Mexican governor of California, died in Los Angeles; born there 1861.

1893—Justice John Sedgwick, noted jurist, died at Norfolk, Conn.; born 1829.

SEPTEMBER 7.

1805—President Fillmore signed the act admitting California as a state.

1902—William Allen Butler, lawyer and poet, died; born 1825. Mr. Butler's poem, known as "Flora McFlinsey" or, "Nothing to Wear," is considered by many critics the finest of American satirical poems.

SEPTEMBER 8.

1784—Mother Ann Lee, founder of the Shakers, died at Watervliet, N. Y.; born 1736.

1828—General George Crook, noted Federal soldier and Indian fighter, died; born 1815.

1900—The town of Galveston devastated by a West India hurricane, 7,000 deaths and a property loss of $25,000,000.

SEPTEMBER 9.

1850—President Fillmore signed the act admitting California as a state.

1902—William Allen Butler, lawyer and poet, died; born 1825. Mr. Butler's poem, known as "Flora McFlinsey" or, "Nothing to Wear," is considered by many critics the finest of American satirical poems.

SEPTEMBER 10.

1787—John Jordan Crittenden, noted Kentucky Unionist, born; died 1863.

1797—Mrs. Godwin (Mary Wolcott) famous humorist in social circles.

SEPTEMBER 11.

1805—Henry Hudson, English navigator, searching for a passage to India in the ship Half Moon, discovered the river bearing his name.

1811—Commodore Thomas Macdonough's brilliant naval victory on Lake Champlain, defeating a British fleet.

1891—Pan Pico, last Mexican governor of California, died in Los Angeles; born there 1861.

1893—Justice John Sedgwick, noted jurist, died at Norfolk, Conn.; born 1829.

WARNING.

Do not be persuaded into taking anything but Foley's Honey and Tar for chronic coughs, bronchitis, hay fever, asthma, and lung trouble, as it stops the cough and heals the lungs.

F. J. Hill Drug Co. "The Never

1893—Mother Ann Lee, founder of the Shakers, died at Watervliet, N. Y.; born 1736.

1828—General George Crook, noted Federal soldier and Indian fighter, died; born 1815.

1900—The town of Galveston devastated by a West India hurricane, 7,000 deaths and a property loss of $25,000,000.

1893—Miss Emma Converse, eminent astronomical writer, died; born 1820.

1894—President Fillmore signed the act admitting California as a state.

1902—William Allen Butler, lawyer and poet, died; born 1825.

1893—Hon. Hamilton Fish, secretary of state under Grant, also ex-governor of New York, died; born 1808.

1893—Justice John Sedgwick, noted jurist, died at Norfolk, Conn.; born 1829.

1894—President Fillmore signed the act admitting California as a state.

1902—William Allen Butler, lawyer and poet, died; born 1825.

1893—Hon. Hamilton Fish, secretary of state under Grant, also ex-governor of New York, died; born 1808.

1893—Justice John Sedgwick, noted jurist, died at Norfolk, Conn.; born 1829.

1894—President Fillmore signed the act admitting California as a state.

1902—William Allen Butler, lawyer and poet, died; born 1825.