At yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Ministeria McClain of the Third Presbyterian church read a paper on "What mo The essayist urged that the churches wage a more vigorous campaign for the spiritual welfare of the business men of the city. John H. Miller, for 30 years with the circulating department of the Tribune, has returned from a visit to his old home in England after an absence of 49 years, "bringing" as the Psalmists would say, "his sheaves with him;" that is matrimonial sheaves, for with him came a bride. Mr. Miller also believes with the Scriptural writer, "He who findest a wife, findeth a good thing," Mr, and Mrs. Miller are receiving the congrat-ulations of friends. In an address Sunday afternoon be-fore the Y. M. C. A., Rev. E. I. Goshen argued that those endowed with vigor-ous physiques were capable of exerting them, in connection with the soul, for much good. Although man may sink to the lowest depths, there comes a time when his soul is reached by the voice of the Divine Spirit, which results in the fallen being restored and after-words exerting his entire spiritual en-dowment. Scientific observation has connelled men to change their docdowment. Scientific observation has compelled men to change their doc-trines. Man is not the center of the universe, but merely a denizen."

A cheap purse containing a small sum of money was found on a streetcar the other day, and turned in by the con-ductor. The usual wire tag was fast-ened to the purse and left for a claim-ant. A claimant came in the shape of a woman, and in removing the tag the clerk was unfortunate enough to pull the flimsy bandle from the still flimsler purse. The clerk told the woman to be and have be mended and her would purse. The clerk told the woman to go and have it mended and he would pay for it, and today, the woman re-turned and asked for 10 cents which sum she alleged was the cost of repairs. The dime was given her out of the clerk's pocket.
