BREVITIES.

Thirty-three yards of columns in the London Times have, according to an industrious statistician, been devoted to the debates on the army bill.

It is one of the worst effects of prosperity to make a man a vortex instead of a fountain; so that instead of throwing out, he learns only to draw in.

A great philanthropist, among good people, once said that he knew no family that had not sooner or later quarrelled about money.

"Pa, is Pennsylvania the father of all the other States?" "Certainly not, my child; why do you ask that question?" "Because I see all the newspapers call it Pa."

The remark of a contemporary "that many of our successful lawyers commenced life as preachers," is gracefully corrected by one of the legal gentlemen referred to, who begs leave to state that he began life as an infant.

"Soft people," says the Saturday Review, "like to flatter themselves that if others do not make a fuss about their feelings, it is because they have none; but the contrary is usually the truth."

There is more true happiness and genuine comfort in presiding over and enjoying the sweets of a quiet home, than in swaying the destinies and commanding the luxuries of an empire.

An affectionate young woman of Montgomery, Ala., on being told that her lover had been suddenly killed, cried: "Oh, that splendid gold watch of his! Give me something to remember him by."

The war losses sustained by South Carolina are estimated at three hundred and twenty-six millions of dollars—about two thirds of her former great wealth. In this estimate is included the cost of reconstruction.

A Connecticut Democrat sent his son to New York to complete his education. After a short time the son wrote to his father that he was studying "Horace." On learning this the paternal parent replied: "Come home; I don't want Greeley to make a Republican of my son."

The Aleuts are the most modest and hospitable people on the earth. This is because they know nothing about politics or the high art of financial thieving. May the Gods ever keep them blind to the beauties of modern civilization.—Alaska Herald.

"Do you publish matrimonial notices for the subscribers of your paper?" said a gentlemanly-looking youth, stepping into our office the other morning. "Certainly, sir." "Well, then, I'll go and get married; for I don't see any other way of getting my name in your paper since you have rejected all my poetical effusions."

That was a funny case which lately occurred in Sheffield, England, in which a witness, who was also complainant in an assault and battery case, was found to be incoherently inebriated. "Why, you are drunk now," said the major, who was presiding in the court, and who was an extensive brewer. "If I am," responded the witness, "it is your beer that has done it."

They say in St. Petersburg that the Czar's tendency to hypochondria arises from the apprehension, which has haunted his mind ever since Berezowsky fired at him in Paris, in the year 1867, that he will, sooner or later, fall a victim to assassination. It is a well-known fact that the Emperor Alexander I., in the later years of his reign, was a prey to similar fears.

The following is from the will of a mariner of Bristol, England, proved 1795: "My executors to pay, out of the first moneys collected, to my beloved wife, if living, one shilling, which I give her as a token of my love, that she may buy Arsenic-nasta, as I know she is better pleased with cracking them than she is with mending the holes in her stocklings."

A funny limb of the law had an office next door to a doctor's shop. One day an elderly gentleman of the fuzzy school bundled into the shop. "Is the doctor in?" "Don't live here," said the lawyer, who was in full scribble over some old legal documents. "Oh, I thought this was his office." "Next door." "Pray, sir, can you tell me, has the doctor many patients?" "Not living."

At the closing meeting of the spiritualists' convention at Troy, on Thursday evening, Mrs. President Woodhull made a speech in which she declared that if Congress at its next session did not grant the right of suffrage to females, the women of the land would get up a government of their own; pass laws, raise and maintain an army and navy, and do all other things which governments may of right do. This government, she stated, would be upheld and defended, even if it took rivers of blood. The audience was so tickled with this nonsense that they resolved to support her for President of the United States!—Albany Argus, Sept. 18.

WASHINGTON.

Ku-Klux

WASHINGTON, 23.—The general Ku Klux committee met again to-day, and authorized the chairman to request the President of the Senate to issue a warrant for two witnesses who have failed to answer summonses; and then adjourned to the first day of the next session, or until called together by the chairman. The sub-committee examined Colonel W. L. Saunders, whom the committee have had much trouble in getting before them. He refused to answer all questions as to his connection or any others with the so called Ku-Klux organization, on the ground that he was not compelled to criminate himself. The act of Congress, 1862, which does not excuse a witness testifying before a congressional committee, was quoted to him but he preferred to rely on the constitution rather than the act of Congress.

Woman's Reform Movement Condemned.

The press of this city denounces the meeting held last evening, under the auspices of the woman's club, to propose affecting a reform in the matter of the social evil. The papers declare that fraud and profligacy are being carried on under the guise of reform, and demand that it be stopped.

NEW YORK.

The Everlasting Frauds.

NEW YORK, 23.—The committee of seventy is said to be preparing an application for a special injunction to restrain Tweed from affixing the meters, approved by him, to the water-pipes of all buildings, except dwelling houses, where water is taken. The charge against Tweed in this instance is that the meters cost only $18 each, whereas the price charged is $60; besides the meters are said to be poor.

Served Him Right, So Far as It Goes.

In Brooklyn to-day Dr. Perry was convicted of manslaughter in the fourth degree for having caused the death of Emily A. Post by procuring an abortion. The prisoner was sentenced to the State Prison for two years.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Small Pox.

LOWELL, 23.—The board of health reports eighty-three new cases of small pox during the week; five deaths.

TENNESSEE

Carl Schurz.

NASHVILLE, 23.—The speech of Carl Schurz, of Missouri, has created a profound impression in political circles. The most significant incident connected with it is the following letter formally addressed to Senator Schurz, and signed by several hundred ex-confederate soldiers, embracing every grade and rank from private and non-commissioned officers up to major-generals; the signers generally are representative men of influence in the community.

NASHVILLE, 21.

To Hon. Carl Shurz:

DEAR SIR:—We, the undersigned, formerly confederate soldiers, wish to express to you our high regard for yourself, and our profound regard and admiration of the late non-partizan, cultured and patriotic address delivered by you in this city. We admire the manly, independent spirit which refuses obedience to party when in conflict with one's convictions of duty and right. We pledge you, that we are no partizans; that we have faith that no words can express the sublime significance of the mission and destiny of the American republic; that we honor and revere the national flag, as the assured herald of that day when all the races of men of all ranks and conditions will be redeemed and delivered from all species of political and menial thraldom. We wish to turn our backs upon all sectional parties,—all parties groping in the moonlight of the past, and ally ourselves with any party that will be animated with the spirit of civil and religious toleration and elevated patriotism, not bounded by State lines, and inspired by an abiding faith in the genius of free institutions.

PACIFIC COAST DISPATCHES.

SAN FRANCISCO, 23.—Parties who had made arrangements for shipping east large quantities of the finest quality of grapes from the mountain counties, find that the increased rates of freight by the railroad will practically cause an abatement of the enterprise, as it would leave no margin whatever for profits, with a large one for losses.

FOREIGN NEWS.

FRANCE.

Germans Abused By French.

VERSAILLES, 23.—Herr Von Arnim has filed, on behalf of Germany, an earnest protest against the excesses committed by the French people at Lyons and its vicinity upon Germans, residents of that city and neighborhood, who, it is alleged, have been shamefully abused.
