The Republican Convention.

Chicago, 6.—The total number of votes allowed in convention by delegates from the various States and Territories was 820.

After the third ballot the following dispatch was received:

WASHINGTON, June 6th.

To S. M. Cullom, Illinois Delegation:

The republicans of the States that must be relied upon to elect the President having so strongly shown a preference for Mr. Blaine, I deem it my duty not to stand in the way of the people's choice, and recommend my friends to assist his nomination.
[Signed] JOHN A. LOGAN.

The gains made on the Blaine vote, and the understanding that the Logan vote would be transferred to Blaine, produced another storm of cheering and enthusiasm for Blaine.

Bingham, of Pennsylvania, Wm. W. Phelps, of New Jersey, and one or two colored delegates endeavored to get a hearing, and vociferated and gesticulated without succeeding in being heard. Their voices were drowned in tumultuous yells, cheers and demands for a call of the roll. Not deterred by their failure, Roosevelt, of New York, carried away by the excitement, got upon his seat, waved his arms, and appeared as if he was saying something, but not a word was heard from him.

Finally at 2.30 the taking of the fourth ballot was called for. Before the vote of Alabama was given, there was another uproarious scene, in which Dutcher, Roosevelt and other New York delegates took prominent part. It arose upon the technicality that a motion to take a recess had been made, and had been decided by the chair in the negative, although calls had been made for a vote by States. At last a Blaine delegate called to his friends to have the vote on recess taken by States and at 2.58 the votes by States began. The Illinois delegation requested a few moments to announce its vote. Then it was announced as 28 to 15. The vote was challenged, showing that it was regarded as important, and the result of the polling of the Illinois delegation was for a recess, 31 against 13. The Pennsylvania roll call of delegates was demanded.

The vote of Pennsylvania was then polled and was ayes 11, nays 48. Tennessee gave 24 votes in the negative, so that although the vote still went on, a motion for a recess was practically defeated, and the fourth ballot was then proceeded with. When Illinois was called Senator Cullom rose and said he wished to read a dispatch he had just received from Gen. Logan.

Objections were promptly made and sustained.

Cullom then withdrew the name of Logan and cast the 34 votes of Illinois for Blaine. The change in Illinois from Logan to Blaine made Blaine's vote 414. The vote in Illinois was 34. Cullom completed his report giving Blaine 34, Logan 7 and Arthur 3, a gain to Blaine of 31, to Arthur 2, and a loss to Logan of 38.

FOURTH BALLOT.

Arthur 214, Blaine 543, Logan 8, Edmunds, 55, Hawley 12, Gen. Sherman 2. The vote of Pennsylvania nominated Blaine at 3.19 p.m. During the poll of Pennsylvania there was an angry controversy between Pennsylvania and the New York delegates, the charge of lobbying being made on the one side and angrily repelled on the other.

The vote was received with great enthusiasm, the band playing and cannon booming outside. The hall was filled with people.

A dispatch was received from President Arthur by Curtis of the Inter-Ocean, saying: "If Blaine is nominated on this ballot, have Dutcher ask to make the nomination unanimous, and thank by friends for me."

The dispatch from President Arthur was read by Mr. McPherson of Pennsylvania.

Blaine's nomination was made unanimous at 4.55 p.m.

The result was announced at 4.40. Instantly, and even before the last figures were pronounced by Mr. McPherson, the vast audience arose and broke out into another mad demonstration of enthusiasm. Cheers resounded. The band struck up an inspiring air; hats, handkerchiefs and National flags were waved; a large, square banner from Kansas was carried through the hall, promising large majorities in that State for Blaine, and two uprights capped with new brooms, and a stuffed eagle from Colorado was also carried around in the procession. The roar of artillery outside was heard commingling with the uproar within. The convention adjourned till 8 p.m.

EVENING SESSION.

The convention reassembled and was called to order at 8.15 p.m. The roll of the States was started for candidates for Vice-President, and when Kansas was reached there was great cheering, and Senator Plumb took the stand and presented the name of John A. Logan. His name was received with great and long continued cheering.

Judge Houck of Tennessee seconded Logan's nomination, as did also Judge Thurston of Nebraska, Lee of Pennsylvania, Hoar of Massachusetts, Bradley of Kentucky, Sam Lee of South Carolina, Pettibone of Tennessee and Morey of Louisiana.

It was then generally conceded that Logan would be nominated by acclamation.

A motion to suspend the rules and nominate Logan by acclamation was carried, and a roll call was demanded.

At 9.32 Logan was nominated by acclamation, and the result was received with cheers, whereupon the convention commenced breaking up. The convention was called to order after the chairman had announced Logan's nomination by acclamation and a roll call of States, which had been demanded on a motion to make the nomination unanimous, was started. When New York was reached she asked to be passed for a few minutes. All the States voted solidly for him, except New York, which cast one for Foraker and six for Gresham. The nomination was saluted with cannonading. At 9.55 the convention adjourned sine die.

HOW THE NEWS IS RECEIVED.

San Francisco, 6.—The city has gone wild over Blaine's nomination. Business is completely suspended. Processions with bands of music are parading the streets, banners are flying on which are inscribed "Blaine and Victory," whistles are blowing and cannons booming. A grand ratification meeting will be held this evening.

The news of Blaine's nomination created the wildest enthusiasm. The newspaper offices were besieged with crowds shouting and cheering Blaine.

Denver, Cal., 6.—The city is wild with enthusiasm over Blaine's nomination. Flag's float from all the principal buildings. A salute of 100 guns is being fired, and a monster ratification meeting is in progress.

Cheyenne, 6.—The meetings held here this afternoon and evening ratifying the nomination of Blaine and Logan were very enthusiastic. The band discoursed music and speeches by prominent local men were delivered.

The Republican ratification in the Pavilion this evening was a magnificent demonstration in favor of Blaine, and the great building was crowded to suffocation with an excited crowd exulting over the great victory in which the Pacific States took such a prominent part. Logan's nomination as Vice-President created loud cheers and cries of "That's a hard ticket to beat," were all over. Prior to the meeting being called to order, a salute of a hundred guns was fired. P. B. Cornwall, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, sent the following dispatch: General Henderson, Chairman Chicago: The people of the Pacific Coast thank you and the National Republican Convention for the nomination of Blaine, and the rejoicing here is universal. To-night will witness the grandest gathering of people ever seen in this city. This will carry this fall every Pacific State." Dispatches are being received from all points on the Coast expressing joy over the nominations made.

ALMOST A FIGHT.

Chicago, 6.—There was an exciting scene about midnight in the Colorado headquarters, which would have resulted in bloodshed but for the prompt interference of the police. A number of Blaine's managers were holding a meeting with closed doors, when a young man carrying an armful of circulars entered. The circulars contained a reproduction of Puck's "Tattooed Man," which are being distributed every where for political effect by a few ultra anti-Blaine men. It appears that the meeting was being held to discuss the best means of suppressing the future circulation of these campaign circulars, and when the young man entered their midst and commenced scattering them all over the room there was intense excitement. One man jumped up and catching the intruder by the coat, pulled him to the door and flung him out in the hall, where he was beset by a dozen other adherents of Blaine. They kicked and pounded him and were rapidly reducing him to jelly when some friends came up. Revolvers were pulled on both sides at once, but bloodshed was prevented by the appearance of the officers, who rescued the bold news agent.

Denver, 6.—Gen. H. Bearce, a prominent mining resident of this city, was shot and fatally wounded by Samuel Derry near Leadville to-night. The trouble was about mining claims.

CHICAGO, 6.—A Tennessee delegate interrupting: In the name of three-quarters of a million of soldiers who did not stay at home during the war, I nominate "Black Jack" Logan.

Thurston, of Nebraska, seconded the nomination. He wanted the republican party to write upon its banner the invincible legend, "Blaine and Logan." (Applause and cries of "Time, time.")

Lee, of Pennsylvania, in further seconding the nomination, said the convention had chosen as its candidate for President a native of Pennsylvania, whose fame had grown too great for his native State and had become commensurate with the greatness of the nation.

Gen. Robinson, of Ohio, seconded the nomination on behalf of his State, and moved to suspend the rules and make the nomination by acclamation.

The question being put, was declared carried. Great confusion followed. The Kansas banner was brought out again, with a portrait of Logan added to that of Blaine.

The vote for Logan was unanimous with the exception of seven from New York, Logan's total vote being 779 out of 820. The nomination was then made unanimous. The thanks of the convention were tendered to the temporary and permanent officers, and the convention then adjourned.

A large number of delegates to the convention left by to-night's trains. It is estimated that about half the entire number have already gone, and the corridors of the hotels begin to look dreary and deserted.

The news of Blaine's nomination was read with the wildest enthusiasm. Cannons were fired, and a flag on which is inscribed "Our next President, Jas. G. Blaine," was unfurled. There was also a portrait of Blaine exhibited on the streets. Men were wild, cheering and throwing their hats. The city bells are ringing and everybody, republicans and democrats, are wild with enthusiasm, and gave three cheers for the next President of the United States.

Mr. Blaine appeared and spoke as follows: "My friends and my neighbors; I thank you most sincerely for the honor of this call. There is no spot in the world where good news comes to me so gratefully as here, at my own home, among people with whom I have been on terms of friendship and intimacy for more than 30 years; people I know, and who know me. Thanking you again for the heartiness of the compliment, I bid you good night."

A special train of 15 cars came from Portland in the evening, and one from Bangor later. The visitors marched to the residence of Blaine and he addressed them as follows:

Gentlemen—I am sure I must regard this as a compliment totally unprecedented in the history of politics in Maine. I do not take the compliment all to myself, but I recognize the earnestness with which you are prepared to enter the coming national campaign, and I have the pleasure to announce to you from a dispatch I have just received, that I have myself the honor to be associated on the Republican ticket with that brave and honorable soldier, that eminent Senator, John A. Logan of Illinois. I am sure, gentlemen, I can add nothing by a speech to that fact, and you would hardly expect me to do more on this occasion than to extend to you the deep obligations I feel under for the extraordinary compliment given me, coming from your homes in distant parts of the State on the announcement of the nomination. I wish my house was large enough to contain you all, as my heart is. Your visit, your energy and the earnestness of your greeting give good augury of your successful work in the canvass in which you will so soon enter.

Boston, 6.—This afternoon a special wire was started from Boston to Augusta to accommodate the private messages to Mr. Blaine. At 4.45 o'clock the wire was choked with business, and 6 p.m. the messages were still coming from all parts of the Union congratulating Blaine upon his nomination.

Dispatches from throughout the New England States show great enthusiasm over Blaine's nomination. Nearly the whole State is echoing to the booming of cannon.

A special train is being run to Augusta carrying enthusiastic admirers. In some cases the trains were furnished with field pieces mounted on platform cars, which were fired while the trains were running.

Rochester, 6.—A hundred guns were fired this evening. The bands paraded the streets in honor of the nomination of Blaine, which is received with enthusiasm.

Portland, Me., 6.—There is great enthusiasm here. Special trains from all quarters are carrying enthusiasts to Augusta to-night to congratulate Blaine.

Chicago, 6.—Geo. W. Curtis, being asked by an associated press representative how he viewed the nomination of Blaine, replied that the action of the convention did not in any way change his known opinion as to the wisdom of placing Mr. Blaine in nomination. Beyond that he did not care to express himself at this time.

Senator Ingalls said the ticket is invincible.

Senator Harrison said Blaine will carry the Pacific slope, New York and Indiana.

Secretary Lincoln said he could not get over the failure of the President to receive the nomination. He thought Mr. Arthur had earned it, if such could be said of any one.

Postmaster General Gresham said it was a strong ticket and satisfactory to all Republicans.

Senator Lamar said the nomination was a brilliant one.

London, 7.—The Times says Blaine's nomination will be received with satisfaction. He has not only been the most popular but the most conspicuous, respected politician in the ranks of the republican party, which has done itself honor by nominating so well known and distinguished a man. If the Democrats should make up their mind to a definite and reasonable free trade policy, they would certainly have more sympathy on this side of the Atlantic than hitherto. In the meantime we congratulate the country on the choice of a candidate so eminently suited as Blaine to represent and uphold the dignity of the United States.

The Daily News says: The most conservative observers believe the nomination of Blaine marks the dissolution of the republican party, which will have a most critical battle to fight this year.

WASHINGTON, 8.—The special newspaper train over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, conveying the Washington delegation, left Chicago at 2.10 on Saturday, 3.10 eastern time, and arrived here at 2 o'clock this afternoon, while the actual running time was but 19 hours and 30 minutes. The time of the special from Chicago to Chicago Junction, 272 miles, was 6 hours and 30 minutes; the actual running time 5 hours and 35 minutes—an average of upwards of 52 miles per hour, unprecedented for the distance. At one time 57 miles were accomplished in 59 minutes, and frequently single miles in from 56 to 58 seconds. The final 27 miles from Barnevill to the Ohio River, was made in 28 minutes, and six miles of the distance were run in four minutes, or at the rate of 90 miles an hour. The 463 miles from Chicago to the Ohio was run in 11 hours and 20 minutes, including 38 stops. The actual running time 9 hours and 20 minutes, or the unparalleled average of 50 miles an hour.

New York, 8.—The friends of Mr. Flower, who have been canvassing the political situation in this State, say of 108 delegates elected outside of New York City to the Saratoga Convention the first choice of all is Tilden except in Syracuse, where the feeling is for Cleveland. The second choice according to their observations, stands Flower 82, Cleveland 26.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, 8.—Granville and Waddington have agreed upon the basis of conference on Egyptian affairs. The terms of agreement have been imparted to the powers. They affirm the principle of temporary occupation of Egypt by England, to which no limit is fixed, propose an international control of the powers to audit the whole system of revenue expenses in Egypt. England recognizes the Suez Canal right of the Porte throughout Egypt, including the Soudan and France formally abandons all claim to dual control.

NEWRY, 8.—The Nationalists paraded the streets with bands and banners, and a meeting was held outside the town. On the return of the Nationalists from the meeting they threw stones and when the procession reached the Protestant quarter of the town the Protestants retaliated. Several shots were fired by the police, and troops interfered. Four Nationalists and several Orangemen were arrested. Many were injured.

PEKIN, 9.—The ambassadorship to France has cancelled the conclusion of the treaty with France. Preparations for defence continue.

As a Cure for Sore Throat and Coughs, "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been thoroughly tested, and maintain their good reputation.
