

BOERS HIDING THEIR TRACKS.

British War Secretary Says They Murder the Kafirs.

42,000 BOER PRISONERS

In the Centralization Camps and Various Islands—War Will Last
Another Six Months.

London, Nov. 13.—Mr. Broderick, the British war secretary, speaking tonight at a banquet given in London in his honor by the City Council, declared that the Boers were hiding their tracks by murdering the Kafirs behind them.

Lord Kitchener wired today, he continued, that the cold-blooded murder of natives had become frequent of late and that two dead natives, their hands tied behind their backs, were found November 10 at the bottom of a mine shaft.

Later, in his speech, Mr. Broderick said Great Britain now has 42,000 Boers in custody in the centralization camps and on various islands, and that 11,000 more had been killed or wounded or had left the country on parole. He added that he believed the number of Boers now in the field was about 10,000.

"The country has set its teeth and intends to go through the process of wearing them down," he exclaimed. "We intend to provide Lord Kitchener with fresh troops to replace the tired ones. Only today a certain colony made an offer to help."

Mr. Broderick said he was sorry anything had happened to affect the career of Sir Redvers Buller and he assured the company that deafness of Sir Evelyn Wood was due to a cold, and that that officer had to do as commander of the army corps.

Mr. Broderick explained that four battalions and two cavalry regiments would be drawn from India for service in South Africa.

The war secretary declared also that neither Sir Evelyn Wood nor the Duke of Connaught was to be regarded as a peace general, because wherever their army corps went they also would go. He further announced that Sir Archibald Hunter would be appointed to the command of another army corps which was formed.

WILL LAST SIX MONTHS.

New York, Nov. 14.—An interview with an Austrian merchant who has just returned from South Africa is reported by the Vienna correspondent of the London Times and the New York Times. The merchant believes the war will last another six months, and he thinks the Boers will hold out beyond next June. He believes they would be glad to make peace if they obtained satisfactory autonomy.

He said the British should not allow the burghers to retain the gold mine region, which should be permanently under British rule. This observer also said that the Krugers had used the Afrikaander bond by means of wealth derived from the gold industry. He says if the former president loses his money he will sell his friends.

CANNOT OFFER MEDIATION.

New York, Nov. 10.—The Brussels correspondent of the London Times and the New York Times, says the Standard, the Dutch newspaper which is the official mouthpiece of Dr. Kuper, the council of The Hague tribunal is incompetent to offer its good offices in connection with the Boer appeal for arbitration. The Boer appeal is not perfectly well, says the paper, that their appeal will not be received.

Defeat of Naples Camorra.

New York, Nov. 14.—The Rome correspondent of the London Times and the New York Times says the Camorra at Naples, finding its own cause hopeless, threw many votes to the socialists, whose success somewhat eclipses the effect of the defeat of the Camorra.
