

IT WENT SMOOTHLY.

Utah's Admission Bill on Its Passage in the House.

MR. HAWLEY'S EXCELLENT WORK.

Who Came Now—Who the Opponents Were—They Were Not Easy, However—Friends in All Parties.

The Deseret News Bureau, 215 N. 2nd St., Salt Lake City, Utah, Dec. 19, 1905.

The Utah admission bill, an enabling act providing for the incorporation of Utah into the Union as a sovereign state, having passed the House this morning, it is important that the people of Utah should have correct notions of the attitude of parties and persons in relation to the passage of the bill in Congress, which, in relation to the provisions of the bill and the things necessary to be accomplished in order to consummate admission.

It is only the first proposition that we shall consider, at present—the attitude of parties and persons in relation to the passage of the bill through the House; as the second proposition will require further articles, and the bill may be further amended in the House and by joint committee from amendments before the final passage. The probabilities are that it will not be materially changed.

As it stands, it is a liberal and generous bill, and highly creditable to the people of Utah, and it does much to eliminate the friction of past years. It is expressive of the nation's confidence in Utah. It takes out the past and washes the stain of misdeeds for an everlasting brotherhood and cooperation.

As to the attitude of parties and persons, the only feature to be discussed in this article, it might be summed up by saying that Utah was treated generously and considerably all around. The final vote was recorded in the House of Representatives with equal unanimity and emphasis. There was only one dissenting vote that uttered "No," whereas negative was called. That was on the right, the Democratic side. I did not know who it was, and it was impossible for there was a full house on both sides. I judge that there were on both sides that responded "Aye." Some one told me that there was one "No" on the Republican side, but I did not hear it, although I reported this negative in the dispatch. A correspondent that sat on the Republican side at the time tells me that there was no vote on that side when the negative was called. It is utterly incredible at all events. The Populists in a man, as far as I have been able to learn, were in favor of the bill. Some spoke for them. There were only two dissenting votes to the bill in the speaking that was done. There was a dissenting vote on the Republican side, and a dissenting vote on the Democratic side. The dissenting vote on the Republican side was uttered by Mr. Hawley, and the dissenting vote on the Democratic side was uttered by Mr. Hawley.

My wife was afflicted with a severe case of rheumatism, and after many months of treatment, she was unable to get on her feet. I had heard of Hood's Cures, and I bought a bottle. I gave her a few doses, and she was able to get on her feet again. I am now able to do my work, and my wife is well.

Hood's Cures are sold by all druggists.
