Fraternally yours, JAMES CLOVE, President, S. W. ROSS, Secretary.

 OFFICERS ELECTED.

Upon resuming this afternoon the association was duly organized and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, James Clove of Provo; first vice president, Postmaster Davis of Ogden; second vice president, E. R. Booth, Lehi; third vice president, Nellie M. Theriot, Nephi: fourth vice president, Frank Slaughter, Hinckley; secretary and treasurer, S. W. Ross, Lehi; assistant secretary, Mary Griffiths,] Smithfield.

A. L. Thomas of Salt Lake was first elected first vice president, but immediately declined to serve. Postmasters of all classes are represented in the official list.

In response to the above communication, the postmasters of Utah, or, rather the postmasters and postmistresses, are in session at the City and County building today for the purpose of organizing a state association, the objects of which are to be detailed later in the constitution, but all of which will work for the good of the public service.

There was a very fair attendance and a spirit of enthusiasm in the chamber when, at 10:30, Postmaster Clove of Provo, the father of the idea, called the meeting to order. He then read the call and, upon asking for the further pleasure of the meeting, was elected chairman pro tem, with S. W. Ross as secretary

Chairman Clove here introduced Gov. Wells, who had gladly consented to welcome the postal officials to the city. GOV. WELLS' ADDRESS.

"FATHER" CLOVE RESPONDS.

Chairman Clove spoke briefly of the benefits that would ensue after the organization of the state association, citing, as one instance, how the postmasters of a certain county had gone to the county commissioners one at a time and complained of the frightful conditions of the roads, which inter-fered with the delivery service, and prayed that some action be taken to releve the condition. The commissioners paid no attention to these complaints, he said, until the postmasters made the demand as a body. Then they obtained what they wanted. This was merely an example, he explained, of the benefit organization, and he was in hearty accord with the statements of Congressman Howell on that subject. The speaker stated that congressmen everywhere recognize the beneficial results of these associations, which exist great many states, and he hoped the postmasters of Utah would not be backward in organizing.

ORGANIZATION STEPS. It was decided to organize at once and the following committee was named on organization, constitution and order of business: Booth of Brigham: Booth of Nephi: Thomas of Scipio; Davis of Ogden, and Secretary Ross. OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT. A communication from the editor of the Postmaster, the official magazine, was then read. It contained a proposition to the effect that he would solicit among the postmasters of the entire state and work for the Utah organization, as well as submit a constitution similar to that which prevails in other states, providing the association made his paper the official organ and each member subscribed, the price being 75 cents per year, A number of telegrams and postal cards were received from postmasters who were unable to attend, all expressing their sympathy with the movement and asking that their names be enrolled and asking that then have the postmasters at Among these were the postmasters at Logan, Coalville, St. George, Price, Paga Hennifer and Oasis. Inspector Peoa, Hennifer and Oasis. Frank Sharp sent a note of regret, as he had to be out of town. An adjournment was taken until this afternoon in order to give the commit-tee on organization, etc., time to act. POSTOFFICES REPRESENTED. The postoffices represented this morning are: Sait Lake, American Fork,
