

THE SEMI-WEEKLY NEWS

Issued Mondays and Thursdays and Contains All the Cream of the Daily and Saturday News.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Regimental Dance—There will be a regimental dance in the state armory on the evening of the 21st of February next.

Baptist Annual Meeting—The annual meeting of the East Side Baptist church will be held this evening in the church.

Operation Necessary—Mrs. H. Harbath at 322 1/2 Third avenue, who sustained serious internal injuries through a fall on New Year's day, underwent an operation at Holy Cross hospital this morning.

Transfer of Residence—Kelsey & Gillespie report the sale of 2 1/2 by 10 rods on the west side of 14th East street, near Brigham, for $4,200 from Penelope Bredemeyer to Alex. Winters. The premises include a desirable residence.

Derrick Raised Again—The great derricks at the Newhouse building have been raised to the fifth story, for the construction of the next three stories, when they will be raised again for the final construction up to the roof of the eleventh story.

Picture of Yacht—Frest. Vail of the American Telegraph & Telephone company has presented ex-Proct. Wallace, Pres. Lane and General Manager Murray of the Bell company of this city with a photograph of Mr. Vail's large steam yacht, Mohican, sailing up Boston harbor.

Leaves for Chicago—General Agent S. J. Seal of the International Harvester company of this city, left this morning, for Chicago, to be in attendance on the annual round-up of agents and traveling men representing this company, for discussion of business during the current year.

Albany Bar Changes Hands—Mrs. Eliza Hegney closed a deal last evening whereby she disposed of the Albany bar and hotel at 505 west second south street, to Gus Colletich & Co., for $5,200. Policeman Ford was shot in the vicinity of the Albany on the night of Dec. 14.

Complimentary Dances—The Odeon academy recently gave a complimentary dance last night in honor of the Z. C. M. I. employees. Some 600 people were present. A complimentary dance will be given this evening to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Secy. Taylor Invited—Manager John E. Moore of the Grand Junction Fruit-growers' association, has invited Secy. J. Edward Taylor of the Utah Horticultural association to attend the annual meeting of the former body at Grand Junction, Jan. 24-25. Delegates are expected from quite a distance.

W. C. T. U. Lectures—The W. C. T. U. will hold their first meeting this year with Mrs. L. D. Martin, 841 Palm avenue, tomorrow afternoon. Miss Lucy Broad of Cornwall, Eng., will speak on her work in foreign countries, notably in Australia, the South Sea Islands and Japan. Miss Broad will lecture Sunday evening in Hill Methodist church.

Inquiry for Farms—Local real estate offices report a considerable inquiry for farms, the idea being that in dull times, it is more profitable to operate in agriculture than in other forms of enterprise. One dealer says he has had as many as 20 persons in his office within the last two weeks asking about farm properties. These are by no means a drug on the market, and prices are fairly high. Most of the inquiries are from home people.

Typist "Sensory"—A large office apartment has been set apart in the Bell Telephone building for the sole use of lady stenographers, called the Bell Young Ladies' seminary. Here are installed the desks of stenographers attached to the various offices, and whether they are called when wanted by the usual "buzzer" attached to each desk. When the dictation is over, the stenographers repair to the typewriter to the seminary where they type-write their notes.

FORD BENEFIT TONIGHT

Committee Estimates Family of Murdered Policeman Will Receive $2,500.

Tonight, at the dancing academy on Market street, a ball will be given for the benefit of the family of the late Charles S. Ford, who was murdered by highwayman on the night of Dec. 14 last. The fund is under the auspices of lodge No. 3, Knights of Pythias. Committees have been zealously at work, and it is estimated that tickets to the amount of $2,500 have been sold. There will be no expenses attached to the affair, as services and everything connected therewith have been tendered gratuitously.

The persons directly responsible for the ball are S. M. Randolph, S. J. Sawyer, Rex Thorpe and A. T. Sanders. The various committees are as follows: Refreshment, Byron Jones and George Canning; floor, S. J. Sawyer, Rex Thorpe, A. T. Sanders, L. O. Pratt, John Marshall, J. Burr, Frank Fowler, Sam Tobin and Tom Lavery; check-room, J. K. O'Brien, Tom St. George and J. W. Madsen.

The doorknobs are S. M. Randolph and A. L. Hamlin.

SIGNAL CORPS MEETING. E. L. Bourne, Chairman—Gen. Wedgwood Makes Address.

The Signal Corps boys held an enthusiastic meeting last evening, in the state armory, when E. L. Bourne was chosen captain. Adj. Gen. Wedgwood was present and gave some welcome information in a short speech, outlining a course of instruction to be given the corps. This will include diagrams and telephony, with lectures from competent engineers on those subjects; also elementary physics involving the telegraph and telephone. It was also announced that the roster would be maintained with the full number of men. The Signal Corps is in a flourishing condition, and as the boys are all interested in their duties, it is becoming a very efficient body.

MARY HODGSON.

The above is a picture of Miss Mary Hodgson, whose funeral was held this afternoon, and of her sister, Hortense, who died Oct. 9, last. The girls were twins and were devotedly attached to each other. So strong were the bonds of sympathy and love between them that the passing of the one sounded the death knell of the other. From the date of her sister's demise the health of Mary steadily declined until she, too, was called to the other side. Hortense lies buried at Berlin, Wis., and together the remains of Mary will be conveyed, to rest beside her in the Oakwood cemetery there. The sorrowing parents, who are now childless, will begin the long and journey home to Salt Lake to reside, but still maintained the residence at Ripon. Here the daughters attended the public schools, and later both entered the Columbia School of Expression, at Chicago. Each was possessed of unusual musical and elocutionary abilities, and gave good accounts of themselves in their studies. The health of Hortense was such that she could not remain to complete the course, but Mary was the foremost member of the class. Soon afterwards came the death of Hortense, with the result that the health of her sister became slowly but surely impaired and the struggle ended in death.

Efforts were made to locate Russell. A stenographer at the hotel says that Russell wrote to a young woman of Los Angeles, telling her that he intended to go to New Orleans from here and then to the jail. Word has been received from Los Angeles to the effect that Russell swindled several prominent business men there. The man has never been suspected of anything of the kind before, and it is believed he lost his position and was badly in need of funds.

WANT ONE H. LEE RUSSELL. To Have and to Hold Until Sundry Checks Are Made Good.

Manager Porter of the Konyon hotel, General Agent Harding of the Colorado Midland, a local saloon keeper, several business men of Los Angeles and the local police would like very much to locate and lay their hands on one H. Lee Russell of Los Angeles who, it is claimed, has been issuing worthless checks on the Southern Trust company of Los Angeles.

Russell is a commercial traveler. In the opinion of those who claim he is, he has been gone to New Orleans, and from there intended to go to the Isthmus of Panama. The police at Denver and the New Orleans authorities have been furnished a description of the man and have been requested to arrest and hold him. It is said that Russell comes from a prominent family of southern California. He was a commercial traveler for a long time, and was well known throughout the west.

Russell came here in the early part of the month and registered at the Konyon. He paid a bill of $9 at the hotel, offering a check for $47.50, drawn on the Southern Trust company. He received the change and then went to the Colorado Midland office and bought a ticket for Denver. In payment he tendered a check for $47.50. He stated to the clerk that he was a close personal friend of Mr. Harding. The ticket was furnished and the change handed over. Then he issued a similar check to a local saloon keeper. All the checks were sent to Los Angeles and were returned marked "No funds." It was then the police were notified, and efforts were made to locate Russell.

A stenographer at the hotel says that Russell wrote to a young woman of Los Angeles, telling her that he intended to go to New Orleans from here and then to the jail.
