MEETING HELD LAST NIGHT

Mrs. Andrew S. Rowan Presides Over An Enthusiastic Session in Aid Of Auxiliary Library.

A meeting took place last evening, which will mean the opening, probably, of a new world of benefit and endeavor to the blind. It was the initiatory movement of a free reading room for this afflicted class which is to open next week at the public library, where readings will be given by a number of well known women who have enrolled themselves for the work. have enrolled themselves for the work. Mrs. Andrew S. Rowan of Fort Dou-clas, who is the mover in the enter-brise, presided over an enthusiastic ses-ion of an hour or more in which the im of the auxiliary library, and its various phases of future development were brought out. Mrs. Rowan briefly outlined the work which has been done in other cities and countries for the blind, and said that the hope of the local one is to open new fields of en-deavor and progress for the blind, as well as to furnish them a means of recreation and study. She said that deavor and progress for the blind, as well as to furnish them a means of recreation and study. She said that in Paris, London and Japan the work of plano-tuning is left chiefly to the blind, and stated a number of cases in which men and women had risen to places of importance in the world through the training of their special powers. The gifts of the blind, she said, were keener and more delicate than of the sceing, in the line of per-ceptions of touch, hearing, feeling and concentration, and these gifts proper,ly trained, would open wide fields of ac-tion to those so often considered heip-less. This struck a tender chord with the blind representatives present, who each had stories to tell of limitations in this way through lack of confidences on the part of the world in their pow-ers. A poignant grief to them is the idea of dependance, and it was some-thing of a lesson in the way of human sympathy and appreciation, to hear

Mrs. Rowan said that it was the object of the auxiliary to try in con-nection with the library movement, to open means for new employments for the blind, and hoped that it would grow till such ambitions could be ac-normalished.

grow till such ambitions could be ac-complished. Mrs. Cowan stated that as a begin-ning of interest felt she had heard from Supt. Driggs of the State the Deaf, Dumb and Blind, in Ogden, who had offered a number of books for their use until they obtained some of their own. Other evidences of sym-pathy had come to her, and she be-lleved the enterprise would prove a cessful.

The question of commencing the readings next Monday, and of the hours and days to be used for the pur-pose, was put to the assemblage and approved, consequently the first read-ings will be held in the board room of the public library next Monday, Wed-nesday and Friday, from 1:30 to 2:30 p. m., to be continued at the same time and place each week. GENEALOGICAL MEETING.

The first genealogical meeting of the season will be held at the Llon House at 3 o'clock tomorrow (Friday), and an interesting program has been arranged, a feature of the afternoon will be a song by Miss Emma Lucy Gates. Ad-dresses will be given on the coming year's work by members of the board of the Genealogical society. It is in-tended to hold an open meeting once a month, at which lectures will be given on genealogical subjects. The public is cordially invited.

DEATH OF MRS. EDMONDS.

Mrs. Pamelia A. Hardy Edmonds, one f the early pioneers of Utah, died yesterday, at 3:45 p. n., from preumonta, with which she was stricken a few days ago. She was visiting at the home of her dangater, Mrs. Eugene Forest, 1/1) Ninth East, and it was there that she Ninth East and it was there that she passed away. Mrs. Edmonds was widely known, cs-pecially here and in Weber and Morgan counties. She was a most estimable woman and was greatly beloved by all who knew her. Born in Maine, March 21, 1835, slie came to Utah within two or three years of its first settlement. She is survived by the following children: Mrs. Lou Levy, 125 west Third South; Mrs. P. E. Sullivan, of Bingham Juno-tion: Mrs. Dell Forest, Butte, Mont.; Mrs. Addie Forest, of this city; Mrs. Cora Meldrum, of Blair, Nev.; Charles and Joseph Edmonds, of Portland, and Idaho, respectively. Announcement of time and place of funeral will be made later.

Mrs. Harriman med several of the Salt Lake and Ogden gentlomen and chat-ted pleasantly for a few minutes. Mr. Harriman's whole idea seemed to be how to cover the ground rapidly be-tween here and New York, and he was full of inquires as to how long it would take to reach Cheyenne, then how long to Omaha, thence to Chicago.

D. & R. G. OFFICIAL ROUTE.

Utah Committee of Irrigation Congress Selects That Road for Special.

The Utah committee of the Irriga-tion congress has just designated the Denver & Rio Grande and the Santa Fe roads as the official route from this state to Albuquerque, and a delegation of from 300 to 500 people are expected to go from Utah. There will be a special train, leaving Ogden at 4, p. m., Sunday, Sept. 27, Salt Lake at 5, p. m., and making an extra run to Pueblo. Colo., where the Santa Fe will take the run. The train will include a diner, two tourist cars, and a sufficient num-ber of standard Pullnans. Harry Cusning of the Salt Lake Rio Grande offices will be the chaperone over his lines, and C. F. Warren, the general agent her of the Santa Fe, will do the chaperoning over his own lines. Every courtesy will be extended by the pas-senger departments of both roads, and Held's band which goes along, will play at the larger stopping places enroute. It is interesting to note in this con-nection, that the Santa Fe has given $25,000 to the Irrigation congress, as practical evidence of its sincerity in the desire to see the interests of the west built up, and made the most of.
