

TELEGRAPHIC. RECORDED BY WIRE.

Postmaster General Dinsell's Interesting Annual Report.

PREPARING TO FIGHT THE BILL.

The Opium Smugglers.—Rolling Head Chinamen.—Car Men and Boys Strike, Etc.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 28.—The postmaster general's annual report shows the deficiency for the year ending June 20th, 1893, was $5,177,171, instead of $1,655,625, as estimated by Washington. Instead of a surplus there will be a deficit of $7,822,895 the current year. The estimated gross revenue for the year ending June 20th, 1893, is $47,519, expenditures, $55,343. The deficit will be decreased by $1,000 a month by funds taken from the last six months under account. There will be free delivery offices. The extension of the free delivery to towns of 500 or more will require no additional money, but will save $100,000 annually. The charges for money orders received, the requirements of railroads mail service will call for an increase of six to seven thousand dollars. The report recommends an amendment to prevent the application of the tax on express companies upon the railroad mail contracts.

Opposition to the bill will be absolute, and the charge for money orders received.

The report recommends an amendment to prevent the application of the tax on express companies upon the railroad mail contracts.

The postmaster general thinks no positive advantages have accrued from the ocean mail subsidy, and therefore, in new contracts have held abeyance.

It is recommended that postal rates be abolished, and the charge for money orders reduced. The requirements of railroads mail service will call for an increase of six to seven thousand dollars. The report recommends an amendment to prevent the application of the tax on express companies upon the railroad mail contracts.

The World Fair premium receipts from express were $1,000,000, equal to the total business of a city of 500,000 inhabitants. The postal savings of the railroads were $1,000,000.

WAY AND MEANS COMMITTEE.

Resisting their alteration to the New Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—The ways and means committee will tomorrow again sit on the internal revenue article of the new tariff bill. To-morrow Morris, McMillin, Bryan and Montgomery, members of the subcommittee, will present their report and begin the formulation of the internal revenue and income tax provisions. The income tax section is opened up again, and it is expected that the committee will take up the question of the introduction of railroads to other products.

The World Fair premium receipts from express were $1,000,000, equal to the total business of a city of 500,000 inhabitants. The postal savings of the railroads were $1,000,000.

The Democrats are figuring that the deficit will be $10,000,000, and the tariff bill will not exceed $10,000,000.

William H. Morrison, chairman of the interstate commerce commission, said: "I ought to be satisfied with the western schedule, as it was my bill which first placed wool on the free list, and I have been an advocate of it ever since."

OPINION WRITERS.

The Defense Claims a Conspiracy of Patrons and Politicians.

PONTIAC, Mich., Nov. 28.—The trial of William Dinsell, who is charged with smuggling opium, began in the United States district court this morning. The total amount of opium alleged that Dinsell had smuggled into the country within a period of about 2 years was $100,000 pounds.

The Republicans are already preparing for a vigorous fight on the new tariff bill, and their leaders are now being sent out by the mass meeting for that certain date to meet in J. C. Birneys, Republican member of the ways and means committee, in regard to the wool question.

The Democrats are figuring that the deficit will be $10,000,000, and the tariff bill will not exceed $10,000,000.

President Wilson of the Foreign Bullard company has consented to meet the board of arbitration.

Official reports of the earthquake at Camas state that seven thousand persons and fifty thousand animal have perished.

Secretary Herbert has appointed as chief of the navy department his son-in-law, Mr. Benjamin M. Austin, of Annapolis, Md.

The Lehigh strikers are trying to get back. Senator W. C. King, chairman of the strike, goes to the men who have been allowed in back to work.

The strike of catchers and packers of the Pennsylvania coal miners of the coal fields of the state has been suspended within a period of about 2 years, and the miners are back to work.

The manufacturing districts of the state will force them out of business. Six weeks ago a committee of manufacturers were before the legislature. They said the miners were extensively idle, and that they had stopped all mining business, the main source of revenue was derived from smugling opium, which was disposed of in this city and San Francisco.

Predictions concerning the Knights.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 28.—The new executive board of the Knights of Labor will commence in session several days. Since the assembly adjourned a great deal of dissatisfaction is being expressed concerning the way the assembly conducted its business this year. Presidents are anxious that the order will not fire their individual presidents. Presently, it is possible, was more evident than ever, through the recent events that have disgraced him in office.

They Must Be Dismissed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 28.—The editor of the Washington Evening Star has written to the British Legation, stating that among the letters published in the English press both with the British Legation was one to which the United States refused to pay. He wrote to the Legation, asking if he could do so, and the Legation replied that the writer was well understood at the time. The British commissioners brought him London's newspaper.

use of telegraphy and typewriting to take the report of the proceedings. It was found by American commissioners that the reporter was as inaccurate as they were themselves, and the commissioners that they were not necessarily true of the statements made. The British commissioners continued the telegraphing during the entire session and at the close asked the Americans to pay half the expense, which was done. The British Legation has agreed to pay the expenses of the British commissioners to render and decide the matter. The statistics released, excepting what was nothing over which took place, are given below:

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28.—A circular, written in Spanish, and addressed to the Mexican soldiers, has been distributed in the town of Juarez, just across the river. It recites the horrors and the cruelties of 1877, and thus recalls the massacre of last year of Feb. 1st and March 1st. It says that since the Tomista and Santa Anna forces left the Federal government has killed without trial three men accused of being traitors.

The address states: "Mexican soldiers, it is you who have suppressed, killed, tortured, and persecuted. We will continue to defend, protect and save the interests of our country. Death to the traitors, death to the enemies of Mexico."

"Down with the Treasury."—Ex. Posse, Nov. 28